Senate's 55-45 Vote Rejects Haynsworth

GOP Defections Cost Nixon Major Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected today the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

The vote was 55 to 45.

The Senate's refusal to confirm the 57-year-old South Carolinian was the sharpest rebuff the Democratic-controlled Congress has dealt President Richard M. Nixon. But it took a split in Republican ranks to defeat the nomination.

At the White House, there was no immediate comment and reporters were told there would be none until mid-afternoon at the earliest.

The President laid his prestige on the line by standing steadfast behind Haynsworth in the face of strong opposition mounted by labor leaders and civil rights forces.

Haynsworth, now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, was the first Supreme Court nominee to be rejected by the Senate since 1930 when Judge John J. Parker was defeated by two votes.

The Senate Republican leader, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, said before the vote that confirmation by a narrow margin could raise later difficulties with public opinion.

The vote was more one-sided than expected, with all of the lately uncommitted senators voting against confirmation except for Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., who had voted to approve the nomination in the Judiciary Committee and had been listed among the supporters, cast his vote against confirmation.

The leaders of both parties, Scott and Democratic Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, were among those who had not made their position known in advance and who voted against confirmation. California Sens. George

CLAMPDOWN ASKED

College Ripped On 'Disruptions'

By FRANK FARRARA

The strongest salvo came from the Marin County Property Owners Association which expressed "critical concern over steady deterioration of educational, social and moral discipline at the College of Marin."

The call for discipline came about a month after a near-riotous board session disrupted by students, and two weeks after similar calls by other community representatives.

"That a few persons should be allowed to disrupt that (educational) process by rudeness, obscenity, intimidation, insistance on the granting of unconscionable demands, and threats of reprisal and violence, is ridiculous on one hand and appalling on the other," said the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce.

The third complaint read at the meeting came from the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau which felt that the board "has failed to create and enforce an atmosphere of respect and orderly procedure at your meetings."

The chamber and bureau also charged the board has "allowed some enrollees and instructors to present an objectionable and defiant attitude on campus which is destroying the confidence of the majority of citizens in the college district."

After the letters were read by representatives of the three organizations, trustees offered no reply.

Board President Robert E. Rogers explained that the letters, just heard, would be reviewed and then answered "in orderly fashion."

Michael Hanson, representing the Academic Senate, pointed out that the college does have a policy on student conduct and it is "rather stringent."

Student Betty Huddleston attacked the critics saying they had shown little interest until last month's tumultous session.

"This is a far-out, xxxxxxx, stinking racist community," she said. Trustee Harry J. Moore, replied, "That language is out of order."

Rogers then told her "you're all done." She finished saying "they're not aware of the truth, and want to deal with other issues, not the truth."

The Marin Property Owners Association contended that its members "Can no longer accept nor tolerate what we consider to be 'excessive educational per-

Apollo Hits Long Trail For Home

COMBINED AP & UPI

SPACE CENTER, Houston — Apollo 12's moon voyagers fired themselves out of lunar orbit today and began the 240,724-mile journey back to their home planet.

At 12:49 p.m. PST, while on the backside of the moon and out of radio contact with earth, they triggered Yankee Clipper's bell-shaped engine for a burn of about two minutes.

BEHIND MOON

The jolting burst of power increased their speed from about 3,700 to about 5,700 miles an hour, enough to break the grip of lunar gravity and send them on a great arc toward earth.

Yankee Clipper reappeared around the western edge of the moon several minutes later, and it was then the world knew that astronauts Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean were on the way home, ending man's second moon-landing expedition.

After a three-day downhill coast, they are to splash down in the Pacific Ocean at 12:57 p.m. PST Monday

EAGER TO RETURN

Yankee Clipper had orbited the moon 45 times, with Gordon flying it alone while Conrad and Bean spent 31.5 hours on the surface.

The triumphant pilots were eager to get back. Conrad asked if they had enough fuel to speed up the trip so they would return a day early, but ground controllers said no.

"OK, no problem," said the veteran space commander. "No problem at all."

"That's one less day in the LRL (Lunar Receiving Laboratory) Ed (Gibson)," Conrad said. The astronauts must remain in quarantine in Houston until Dec. 10 to make certain they picked up no alien germs during their 1.5 miles of hiking on the dusty Lunar surface.

Today's lunar orbital flight was devoted to scouting potential landing sites for future Apollo crews. On Yankee Clipper's 40th pass, Conrad said, "we've got Dick working this pass.

WARNINGS OVERRULED

Span Protests Face Outright Ban

A ban on all political demonstrations on the Golden Gate Bridge was voted unanimously yesterday by the bridge district's rules and policy committee.

Three demonstrations have been held on the bridge sidewalk in the past year, and each snarled traffic as motorists slowed to gawk. One was for the plight of the Biafrans, and two to protest the Vietnam War.

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring told directors that he had received "quite a few calls" protesting the three-hour snarl last Friday when about 600 Moratorium Day marchers paraded across the bridge in the morning commute period.

He noted the snarl was aggravated by drivers sympathetic to the marchers, with a number of drivers slowing to give the "V" sign.

The committee's recommendation needs full board approval to become effective, but approval seemingly was assured by the fact that all 10 directors present yesterday favored the ban — a majority of the board's 18 members.

The committee's vote overrode Luehring's cautions that "if we try to stop them, we may cause more trouble than by permitting them." After the Biafran march last November, he had suggested a ban on demonstrations during peak traffic hours.

Also warning of possible consequences of an outright ban was Capt. Dan. W. Lyons, commander of the California Highway Patrol in Marin and on the bridge. Frustrated demonstrators may "all have flat tires and run out of gas on the bridge," he suggested.

Lyons also envisioned the possibility of "attacks on this (administration) building and on toll structures," but San Francisco Supervisor Peter Tamaras said in that case the bridge district should "call in the Army.'

The ban will not apply to welcomes for warships entering the bay, directors agreed, although persons who go out onto the birdge for such welcomings will not be allowed to carry signs. The ban will not mean the closing of the sidewalks to pedestrians, they stressed.

Director Joseph P. Mazzola, who made the motion to ban demonstrations, said he was not concerned with "whether we're for or against demonstrations," but rather with traffic safety.

The committee action came after it met behind closed doors for one hour. Afterward, the district's attorney, Jerome B. White, told newsmen that directors had "agreed to employ security personnel." White said "specifid names" of persons to be hired had been discussed, and that Luehring was authorized to proceed with their hiring.

In other business, directors met as the insurance committee and recommended updating engineering and appraisal reports on the bridge to help assure renewal of insurance on its next year.

The committee also dropped from consideration proposals by San Francisco Supervisor William C. Blake that the district insure itself and change the beneficiary on its multi-risk policies from the district to the six counties in the district. White ruled both illegal.

Senate Viet Investigation To Be Public

WASHINGTON .AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee decided today to hold public hearings on Vietnam.

But the committee said witnesses would probably be limited to administration officials and senators who have sponsored a series of Vietnam resolutions.

The decision was reached at a meeting after what Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., said was "quite a struggle." McGee opposed the move.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the committee, said the panel decided, on a 7-2 vote, to hold the hearings. He said a lengthy discussion preceded the vote.

Fulbright said no specific time has been set for the start of the hearings. They will begin after the committee completes work on the foreign aid bill, he said. Hearings on the latter measure will commence immediately after Thanksgiving, he said.

The chairman said the decision to hold the Vietnam hearings was "not a confrontation" with the Nixon administration.

"This is just a normal opportunity for a Senate committee to consider gravely important national issues. I think such hearings are highly educational."

He said there are nine resolutions dealing with Vietnam to be considered by the committee.

Living Costs Continue Record Rise: Up .4 Per Cent In October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher prices for cars and houses were major factors in a .4 per cent hise in living costs last month that continued the nations's sharpest inflation in some 20 years, the government said today.

However, Americans got a break at the grocery store in October when food prices declined .6 per cent, notably for meat and vegetables.

The over-all rise in living costs brought the Labor Department's consumer price index to 129.8. This means it cost $12.98 last month for every $10 worth of food, housing, clothing, transportation and medical care in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

At the same time, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that average pay of some 45 million rank and file workers declined 86 cents a week to $116.94 because of a substantial cut in the work week. After the deduction for taxes and the rise in living costs, the purchasing power of the average pay check was down 1 per cent for the month and .8 of one per cent below a year earlier.

"October marked the ninth consecutive month that real earnings (purchasing power) have remained below year-ago levels," the bureau said.

While living costs continued to rise, said Dr. Joel Popkin, assistant commissioner of the bureau, "the rate of increase in prices has leveled off" since mid-year.

The over-all consumer price index was up 5.6 per cent over the year, and the rise in living costs in calendar 1969 continued at an annual rate of just under 6 per cent. This was about the same as the 1951 rise in living costs, the previous highest year.

Some 88,000 workers with cost of living escalator clauses in their labor contracts will receive pay increases ranging from 1 to 9 cents an hour, figured over varying periods of price hikes reflected in the government index in the past year. Most of these workers are in automotive, farm equipment and office equipment industries.

AEC Explodes Atomic Device

WASHINGTON (AP) — An underground nuclear blast of low intermediate yield was set off in Nevada today by the Atomic Energy Commission.

It was the 24th such test announced by the AEC this year. All but one of the 1969 series has been related to military weapons development. One test, in the Plowshare program, concerned the peaceful uses of nuclear blasts to aid extraction of fossil fuels.

Low intermediate yields are those producing the explosive equivalent of from 20,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT.

Nixon Pledges Return Of Okinawa In 1972

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The United States agreed today to return the island of Okinawa to Japan in 1972. As part of the agreement — although not specifically spelled out —nuclear weapons will be removed from the island which is now a major American base in the Pacific.

President Richard M. Nixon and Prime Minister Eisaku Sato announced the basic agreement in a communique issued after the last of the three White House meetings.

Okinawa was seized by American troops toward the end of World War II from the Japanese—on June 21, 1945 — and the United States had ruled it under terms of the 1951 Japan-U. S. Security Treaty ever since. A big B52 base is now located there.

It is known that nuclear weapons have been stored on Okinawa but the United States never officially acknowledged this.

The communique did not specifically say that the United States would remove nuclear bombs from the island, but noted that the "sentiment of the Japanese people" was against nuclear devices, and Nixon said the reversion of Okinawa would be carried out "in a manner consistent with the policy of the Japanese government."

The understanding is that the bombs could be returned to Okinawa in event of some future emergency, subject to consent by Tokyo.

The agreement also will have to be approved by both the U. S. Senate and the Japanese Diet.

The United States agreed to have the Okinawa base governed by terms of the 1951 treaty, which requires prior consultation with the Japanese government before any U. S. military personnel or equipment can be used against third nations.

The Japanese, in return, agreed to indefinite extension of the treaty, which permits the United States to maintain military installations on Japanese soil.

On the crucial nuclear issue, the Japanese delegation said Sato succeeded in obtaining return of the island in a nuclear free condition, while on the American side, the Nixon Administration will be able to argue with congressional critics that strategic flexibility had been retained.

Agnew Swings Guns Onto Newspapers

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, saying he does "not seek to intimidate the press," has extended his criticism of the nation's news media to some daily newspapers.

Finding particular fault with the New York Times and the Washington Post, Agnew last night charged there is a "growing monopolization of the voices of public opinion on which we all depend—for our knowledge and for the basis of our views."

The vice president's attack in a speech to the Alabama Chamber of Commerce came exactly one week after he leveled sharp criticism against the nation's television networks for their handling of news.

In answer to critics who asserted he was attempting to muzzle newsmen, the vice president told his audience:

"I am opposed to censorship of television or the press in any form. I don't care whether the censorship is imposed by government or whether it results from management in the choice and the presentation of the news by a little fraternity having similar social and political views. I am against, repeat am against, censorship in all forms."

However, Agnew said, this does not mean the news media should be free of criticism.

In his speech, which ran slightly over half an hour and was interrupted 17 times by applause, Agnew said "... the American people should be made aware of the trend toward the monopolization of the great public information vehicles and the concentration if more and more power over public opinion in fewer and fewer hands."

He then pointed to the Washington Post Co.; "a single company, in the nation's capital, (that) holds control of the largest newspaper in Washington, D.C., and one of the four major television stations, and an all-news radio station, and one of the three major national news magazines—all grinding out the same editorial line—and this is not a subject you have seen debated on the editorial pages of the Washington Post or the New York Times."

However, he said, "I am not recommending the dismemberment of the Washington Post Co. I am merely pointing out that the public should be aware that these four powerful voices harken to the same master."

Agnew's speech drew immediate defenses from the Post and the Times.

"The Washington Post, Newsweek, WTOP-TV and WTOP radio decidedly do not 'grind out the same editorial line.' ... Each branch is operated autonomously."

Following his theme that there is a trend toward monopolization in news gathering, Agnew then turned from the Post to the New York Times.

It was "a great, great political tragedy for the people of New York," he said, when four daily newspapers died in that city in the last decade.

"The New York Times was a better newspaper when they

Nixon War Plan Working—Packard

SAIGON (AP) — Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard said today that President Richard M. Nixon's plans for peace in Vietnam is working and is not being jeopardized at this point by increasing enemy activity.

Winding up a six-day assessment of the war situation—and his first visit to Vietnam—Packard said he does not claim that "peace and tranquility stand within immediate reach on some certain, predictable, preplanned schedule."

"There has never been any progress in Paris, and a determined enemy still faces us here," he told an airport news conference before flying on to other points in Southeast Asia.

"There are going to be ups and downs in the situation," he continued. "We've anticipated that there would be some increased enemy activity at this time, and I see this as no hazard at all to the President's plan."

But the secretary said as the Saigon government's forces grow "inexorably stronger, it will be possible for President Nixon to maintain the momentum of U.S. troop replacements based on his three determining criteria of progress in Paris, the level of enemy activity and growing South Vietnamese armed forces strength.

"Because growing Vietnamese armed forces strength is the most promising of the three criteria and the one most subject to allied control, it has been a major part of my purpose here to assess this strength. I have not the slightest doubt that the South Vietnamese will be able to handle the job with a much lower level of U.S. combat strength and other support within a reasonable time.

Packard added that he would tell the President, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird and Secretary of State William P. Rogers "That on the basis if what I have seen here I believe President Nixon's plan for peace is practical, feasible, and most important. is working."

On the battlefields, action flared anew yesterday around the Bu Prang Special Forces camp, an area where Nixon's plans to turn the war over to the South Vietnamese are being tested by heavy enemy pressure.

U.S. military sources reported that an American reconnaissance platoon on a similar mission was ambushed in War Zone C, about 61 miles northwest of Saigon, and four Americans were killed and two wounded.

The Americans were moving toward the scene of a B52 strike to assess the results. They walked into a complex of North Vietnamese bunkers and were hit by claymore mines and small arms.

Ray Of Hope At Arms Talk With USSR

HELSINKI (AP) — After two U.S.-Soviet meetings in Helsinki, there is cautious optimism among the Americans that the talks will lead to fullscale negotiations to curb the nuclear arms race.

At the Soviet Union's request, the secret strategic arms limitation talks, dubbed SALT, adjourned until Monday after yesterday's 100-minute session.

Authoritative conference sources said the shortness of the meetings and the time between them are evidence of the seriousness of the two sides rather than of delaying action.

It was understood that at the first 90-minute secret meeting Tuesday, the U.S. team headed by Gerard C. Smith exchanged general oral statements with the Soviets led by Vladimir S. Semenov, then each provided papers containing what he had said.

Yesterday the Soviets were said to have asked a number of questions involving elaboration of the U.S. view.

The Helsinki round is expected to last several weeks as the two superpowers probe each others' positions for what might be negotiated later.

Pow-Wow Begins On Fate Of Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Seventy-eight Indians from about 30 tribes have invaded Alcatraz Island in San Francisco Bay, demanding the federal government turn it over to them under provisions of an 1868 treaty.

The tribesmen crept ashore from boats Wednesday night and vowed yesterday that most would remain until the federal government rules formally on their demands.

Indian leader Richard Oakes, 26, claimed that an 1868 treaty with the Sioux provides that any unused federal land reverts automatically to Indians.

The federal government abandoned its prison on the 21-acre island in 1963 and the property has been declared surplus. The General Services Administration is in charge of disposal.

GSA Regional Administrator Thomas Hannon visited Alcatraz yesterday and began "peaceable" talks with the Indians.

"They certainly have possession," he acknowledged. "But I explained to them the difficulties they would encounter even if they could legally gain title. They are not financially equipped to make any use of the island."

Oakes said the invaders want to set up a museum, a school and an Indian center.

Oakes and six other leaders accompanied Hannon to the mainland last night for continued talks. The rest remained behind to spend a second night in pitched tents.

Rating Asked For County Personnel

A rating system should be set up to evaluate the performance of new county empoyees during their probationary period, personnel analyst Jack M. Atkin declared yesterday at a meeting of a the Marin County Personnel Commission.

Evaluating permanent county employees is also long overdue, but this can come later, said Atkin, junior administrative analyst in the county personnel office.

TRAINING SESSIONS

Before such an evaluation system is started, Atkin assured commissioners he would conduct a series of training sessions to indoctrinate department supervisors who would be rating their subordinates.

"I think you've got a monster by the tail," declared Commissioner A. Bruce McKenzie. "We've got to get job descriptions and responsibilities spelled out before we can start rating. I'm not going to approve this yet." Evaluation of permanent employees will also run into the problem of which department should be evaluated first, added McKenzie. "They'll all want to be put off until the last."

Personnel commissioners decided to take Atkin's proposal under submission for further study.

The commissioners set a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Dec. 10 at the civic center to hear a grievance from the Marin County Employees Association on an interpretation of the county's contract with the employees.

PAY QUARREL

Randall M. Prevo, manager of the county employees, said his group disagrees with the county administrator on the payment of one hour's pay for each eight hours that a county employee is required to be on standby duty.

Prevo said the standby pay should go to all employees represented by MCEA, whereas the county administrator contends that standby pay should go only to time-related jobs and not to supervisory employees who are ineligible for overtime pay.

Herkenhoff Is Named Executive Assistant

He will serve as assistant to recently appointed Supt.-President John A. Grasham as soon as Grasham arrives on the job.

Herkenhoff became acting superintendent-president after the resignation of William K. Ramstad in April, 1968, with a contract to run until, June 30, 1970.

His role after the succession of Grasham has been the subject of several closed meetings of the district trustees, who announced last night that he will serve at his present salary of $23,058 as assistant to the new superintendent-president through June 30.

LIBRARY PLANS — Called for a workshop session at 8 p.m. Dec. 4 on library plans, place yet to be determined, and learned that the consultant, previously authorized, will be David C. Weber at a cost of $200 a day, not to exceed two days.

Trustees asked the staff to study the problem and make recommendations.

Legion Donates City Hall Fountain

The fountain will be in a rectangular shape, 16 feet, two inches by nine feet, five inches, with a spray in the center. Indirect lighting will play on the spray, according to City Mgr. James H. McCown. It will be just east of the police department entrance.

A plaque will be attached to the fountain, using letters like others on city hall. It will read, "This memorial dedicated by Wilkins Post 37 Inc., American Legion in memory of those who gave their lives for our country in time of war."

McCown said the architect for the fountain is Henry Cole who also did the landscape work at the city hall.

Work by Pacific Water Arts Co. of Palo Alto began yesterday and is expected to take about 30 days, McCown reported.

Environment Study Center At College

Trustees Charles W. Gray, who suggested such a center at the Nov. 6 board meeting, said it should be a center "not only for study, but a center for solutions."

He felt the center could get underway without any large expenditures.

Establishing the center is an outgrowth of a symposium at the college early this month which attracted about 5,000 persons.

Trustees said this turnout "clearly indicated the concern of the community as a whole about the pressing environmental and ecological problems now facing mankind."

Among the activities planned, besides study on ecology and environment, are guest speakers, seminars, field trips, start of a library and a speakers bureau.

Indecent Exposure At Novato Campus

A 15-year-old Novato girl was the victim of indecent exposure at 4:20 p.m., yesterday on the Novato High School campus, police reported.

The man was described as about 25 to 26 years old, five feet, eight inches tall, stocky build weighing about 175 pounds with brown hair. He was wearing a white shirt and brown trousers. This is the second such incident this week on the campus, but the descriptions of the men are different.

were alive than it is now that they are gone."

"I offer an example. When 300 congressmen and 59 senators signed a letter endorsing the President's policy in Vietnam it was news—it was big news. Even the Washington Post and the Baltimore Sun—scarcely house organs of the Nixon administration—placed it prominently on their front pages.

"Yet the next mirning the New York Times, which considers itself America's paper of record, did not carry a word. Why? Why?

Arthur Ochs Sulzberger, president and publisher of the New York Times, answered in a statement, which read in part:

"Vice President Agnew . . . is in error when he implies that the New York Times ever sought or enjoyed immunity from comment or criticism."

And, the statement said, "some of Mr. Agnew's statements are inaccurate." Besides carrying the story of congressional endorsement in its later editions, that day, Sulzberger said the Times gave the story considerable attention to subsequent developments.

In referring to the criticism that followed his speech last week, Agnew said: "I am not asking any immunity from criticism. That is the lot of the man in politics; we would have it no other way in this democratic society.

"But my political and journalistic adversaries sometimes seem to be asking something more—that I circumscribe my rhetorical freedom, while they place no restrictions on theirs."

"I do not seek to intimidate the press, the networks or anyone else from speaking out. But the time for blind acceptance of their opinions is past. And the time for naive belief in their neutrality is gone."

Then, to end his remarks, Agnew reached into the past to invoke the words of one of the most outspoken journalists in the nation's history, the 19th century abolitionist William Lloyd Garrison.

" 'I am in earnest. I will not equivocate. I will not excuse. I will not retreat a single inch. And I will be heard.' "

Youth Admits Drug Possession

Paul Edward LeClair, 18, of San Anselmo, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of possessing phenobarbital and a hypodermic needle when arrested in San Anselmo Aug. 30.

A charge of possessing marijuana against him was dismissed.

Charges against another youth arrested with LeClair, Herbert Travis Martin, 21, of Mill Valley, were also dismissed yesterday. He had been accused of possessing phenobarbital and needles.

The pair was arrested in San Anselmo's Sorich Park after a citizen complained to police that he had seen them drive into the park, walk down a gully and return carrying a box.

Bel Marin Owners Select Officers

Christopher D'Enleaux was elected president last night of the Bel Marin Keys Homeowners Association meeting in the community center.

Elected with him were: Richard Marchus, vice president; Fay Neiderberger, secretary and George Cooley, treasurer. These were the selections of the nominating committee headed by Roy Hosking.

Two Given Prison In Attack Case

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced two San Francisco men to state prison after their conviction on two counts of rape, and one charge each of kidnaping, robbery and car theft stemming from an attack on a San Leandro woman last August.

McGuire gave Robert James Walker, 23, and Edward McCullough, 29, five prison terms each to run concurrently.

The sentence for rape is not less than three years, and kidnaping carries a term of one to 25 years. The robbery term is not less than one year and car theft, one to five years.)

The two men were convicted by a jury last month of raping the woman at Muir Beach on Aug. 2, then taking her to San Francisco in her car, attacking her again and then stealing her purse and car.

The woman's companion, who was a casual friend of McCullough and Walker, testified that he attempted to help her but was knocked unconscious.

VOTE

Just before the vote, Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., floor manager for the nomination, asked his colleagues "where do we go from here if we reject this nomination."

He said "it would amount to a rejection of the President's purpose of restoring balance to the court. It is what the President wants. It is what the nation wants."

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said in a statement after the vote that the Senate's action "represents a tragic loss for America."

"Judge Haynsworth is a good man, an honest man, and a great judge," Eastland said. "We have been deprived of his services as an associate justice in a day when men of his caliber are sorely needed in the highest councils of our land."

Woman Declared Guilty In Store Stabbing Fracas

A Marin Superior Court judge yesterday found Patricia Ann Fusiliereia, 18, of Marin City guilty of two counts of assault with a deadly weapon stemming from stabbing in a Sausalito market May 23.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson who tried the case without a jury, ordered Mrs. Fusiliereia held in jail while probation officers prepare a report. He set sentencing for Dec. 11.

The stabbing took place after Mrs. Fusiliereia got into a heated argument with a female employee of the Big G supermarket when she thought the woman had made fun of her miniskirt.

Mrs. Fusiliereia pulled a five-inch hunting knife from her purse and lunged at the woman but another employee, Thomas Bernier of San Francisco, stepped between the two women and was stabbed in the left shoulder. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for the wound.

Student Leader Seeks Court Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dan Siegel, ousted president of the Associated Students of the University of California, will take his fight for full exoneration in last spring's "People's Park" riots back to federal court today.

Siegel was acquitted earlier this week of misdemeanor charges of inciting to riot for telling a crowd at the Berkeley campus to go down and "take the park". He said his remarks were not intended to produce violence but to urge a long-term campaign.

Siegel was suspended and ousted by the university from his student post following the incident.

we've had to get a look at the moon. That backside doesn't look anything like what we were on."

Bean said the moon looks more spectacular from orbit than it does on the surface. "You can see all these gigantic craters. When you get on the surface, it's interesting, down there, naturally, but it's not too much unlike just being out on a big field of pumice on earth."

One of the astronauts' parting shots was to send the ascent section of their lunar lander smacking back on the moon at 3,780 m.p.h., setting off vibrations felt for more than 40 minutes by the seismometer they had left behind.

LIKE A GONG

Dr. Maurice Ewing, one of the project scientists, said "the duration was most surprising, just as many other things on the moon have been."

"As for the meaning of it (the sustained vibrations), I'd rather not make an interpretation of it right now," he said. "It is as though one had struck a gong, say in the belfry of a church, a single blow and found the reverberations had continued for 40 minutes."

"Whatever it turns out to be, I think it will represent a major discovery completely unanticipated about the moon," said geophysicist Frank Press.

The astronauts decided to make an additional photographic pass over the craters Lalande, DesCartes and Fra Mauro, possible future landing sites, by eliminating some of their navigational practice after the side of a film magazine popped off during the 43rd lunar orbit.

Cattle Rustling Trial Continues

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — A trial in Sonoma County Superior Court entered its third day today for two Petaluma men accused of stealing 18 calves from the Petaluma Livestock Co. on July 24.

On trial are Ernest Bussman and Richard James Hale, who are charged with grand theft of cattle. Thomas Kenney, deputy district attorney, said two ranchers sold the cattle, valued at more than $2,000, to Anthony Brazil of Petaluma during an auction at the livestock company.

Kenney said the cattle were found five days later on the Bussman ranch with identification marks removed from all but one of them.

A state cattle brand inspector was expected to testify today.

The commission also will discuss parking policies and minimum floor areas for dwellings.

Police Nab Youth In Petty Theft

A 19-year-old Marin City youth was arrested on suspicion of petty theft yesterday at the Greyhound Bus Depot after a chase through San Rafael streets.

According to police, the chase began about 2 p.m. when Charles Dobson of 99 Cole Avenue was seen leaving the Rasco Store at 1138 Fourth Street with a radio-phonograph that had not been paid for.

Store owner William G. Schendel took off in hot pursuit down Fourth Street. He was joined by two passersby who followed the Dobson to the rear of Macy's at Fourth and Court streets, where Schendel and one pursuer lost the trail.

The other witness stayed on Dobson's trail and alerted a police officer of the situation at Lootens and Commercial places who notified the police department.

The radio-phonograph was recovered by police.

Dobson who was booked into Marin County Jail is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Illegal Evidence Upheld In Veto Of Jobless Pay

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board, in reversing a decision of an unemployment insurance referree, has declared that evidence, even if illegally obtained, could be used to support a finding that a claimant is not entitled to unemployment benefits.

In a case involving Edward L. Johnson of La Puente and Trans World Airlines, Inc., Johnson, an employee of the Airline was stopped by a Los Angeles police officer after leaving work.

The officer searched Johnson's car, without a search warrant, in what was described as a "routine check." Discovery of food items and miniature bottles of liquor bearing the employer's label resulted in the suspect being taken back to his employer where he was given the opportunity to resign or be dismissed. He resigned.

The suspect was not arrested. He later filed a claim for unemployment benefits and his employer contended he was discharged for misconduct.

The referee held the claimant was not subject to disqualification on unemployment benefits because the evidence was illegally obtained.

Inmates Charged With Offenses While In Prison

Two San Quentin inmates were indicted yesterday by the Marin County Grand Jury for offenses committed while in prison.

Howard Bert Rook, 35, is charged with having a gun when returned to the prison on July 9. Prison officials said that Rook, who was serving time for kidnaping and child molesting from San Mateo County, excaped from the state prison in San Luis Obispo on July 5.

He was captured in San Francisco on July 9 and when taken to San Quentin, was found to have an automatic pistol in his possession.

Ignacio Calvillo Jr., 26, was charged with having heroin and methamphetamine with him Oct. 18 when he returned to the prison from a 72-hour pass. Calvillo, who had been due for parole board appearance this fall, is serving a sentence following a bad check conviction in Orange County.

COLLEGE

missiveness' at this tax-supported school."

The association believes the problems "have been caused by a relatively small percentage of the student population, but like a cancer, they are slowly destroying an educational facility, which for years had enjoyed the highest quality of education and student cooperation."

The association said it wants to support the college: "But when we learn of a series of incidents, which can be verified by faculty members, concerning alcoholism, vandalism, drug usage, sexual promiscuousness, student intimidation by other students, preaching and practicing revolutionary tactics and the indiscriminate use of obscenity at the college, our desire to carry on our public duty to support the College, our desire to carry on our public duty to support the College of Marin tends to evaporate."

"Equally appalling," the association said, "is the knowledge that the administration and school administration has not, and is not, exerting its rightful authority to discipline the student perpetrators of these incidents either by suspension or expulsion."

The association asked that the school administration "regain control," and said it wanted "the majority of the students who are sincere in their educational objectives to be freed from the current abuses of the small dissident element."

The association wants to pledge itself to a strong board and a strong administration, it said. "We can pledge ourselves equally to the task of initiating any and all appropriate measures leading to the dismissal of those appointed and elective officials who cannot, or will not, institute immediate remedial solutions to the problems outlined."

The chamber and bureau asked that the board "forthwith set out in writing and deed a reasonable set of regulations covering activities, procedures and deportment on school grounds."

Melanie Annin, secretary of the Associated Students, reported that the discussion sessions between students and residents, proposed at the Nov. 6 board session, are tentatively scheduled for Dec. 2.

Acting Supt.-President Louis H. Herkenhoff reported that proposed revisions to the discipline sections of the college policies handbook were about ready for board discussion.

Since the suspension of four students and the placing of a fifth on probation for disrupting a board meeting last month, student government groups and the Academic Senate have recommended changes in the rules.

Weaver Reelected MCEA President

Newl (Gene Weaver of the public works department has been reelected president of the Marin County Employees Association.

Weaver received the highest number of votes in a recent board of directors election.

Bob Nelson was reelected vice president and Leona Meysembourg was chosen to serve another term as secretary. Frances Ball was named treasurer.

Randall M. Prevo, association manager, said the elections were by acclamation — a departure from the tradition of ballot voting.

Marinites Set Grape Boycott On Pesticides

A coalition of consumers and farm workers was offered yesterday as the only way to force pesticide controls on California grape growers.

And in response to the appeal by Dolores Huerta, Bay Area organizer for the Delano grape strike, a group of Marin County residents announced the reorganization of the Friends of Delano, as a consumer action group.

The announcement came at a press conference held at the Belvedere home of Leonard S. Sperry where Mrs. Huerta charged that table grapes sold in local supermarkets contained harmful levels of pesticide residues.

Tests conducted by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, Mrs. Huerta said, showed that table grapes purchased from stores contained harmful residues of DDT, aldrin endrin, and parathion.

Appeals by grape pickers to growers to institute controls over the use of pesticides have been unsuccessful, Mrs. Huerta said.

The workers, she said, show signs of slow poisoning when they are sent into the fields shortly after they have been sprayed.

CONTROLS SOUGHT

Controls sought by grape strikers, according to Mrs. Huerta, include use of some of the less deadly organic phosphates which break down in a very short period of time, a greater time span between spraying and when workers return to the fields and protective clothing for workers.

The Friends of Delano, led by Betty Meredith of Ross and Mrs. Sperry, have planned a multipronged attack in support of the grape boycott which will be kicked off tomorrow when Safeway stores in Novato and San Rafael will be picketed.

Sunday, strike supporters are being asked to fast in support of the strike and also "to understand how hungry some of the strikers get while working for the cause," Mrs. Huerta said.

The group also plans to collect food and money for the grape strikers and toys for Christmas gifts for the strikers' children. A legislative lobbying program also is contemplated.

BOYCOTT EFFORT

But the main effort of the group will be to get the consumer not only to boycott grapes but to boycott stores which supply grapes, Mrs. Meredith said.

"Each of us will have to talk to our own favorite grocer and tell him we won't shop in his store any more until he stops selling grapes," she said.

"Every grocer I've talked to has said he sells grapes becuase his customers want them. When they stop wanting them, he'll stop selling them. 'Talk to the customer', they tell me," Mrs. Meredith said.

"And that's exactly what we're going to do."

Rich Pool Of Talent In Puccini Operas

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A high point in the two-year history of the Dominican College Opera Theater was reached last night at Angelico Hall in a superb "Gianni Schicchi" and a good "Il Tabarro," the one-act Puccini operas sung in English.

Like previous productions, they had the advantage of the skills of director Arthur Conrad and musical coach Dr. Ted Blair, but this time a much larger supply of remarkable vocal and dramatic talent was apparently available. Operatic soprano Gwen Curatilo made a surprising and successful debut as a conductor in "Gianni Schicchi."

This production was a masterpiece in many ways, notably in ensemble work that achieved a near perfect realization of broad comedy. The set and costumes (Mark Jordan was production manager and designer) were brilliant and very successful in suggesting the medieval period in Florence.

In the title role of the rascal Schicchi, who turns the greed of deceased nobleman Donati's relatives to his own advantage, baritone James Standard was a singing actor who would do credit to a top professional production.

Soprano Joan Smith sang with exactly the right youthful, light vocal quality for the daughter Lauretta and made of the famed aria "O Mio Babbina Caro" a musical highlight. Fine singing and acting were done by bass Allan Guerin as the old man Simone. Also outstanding in their musical and dramatic characterizations were mezzos Arlene White as Zita, the old woman, and Roberta Wain, who showed a decided flair for caricature as La Ciesca.

Never out of character for an instant and very effective in lesser roles of relatives were sopranos Elizabeth Heffernan and Joan Goodman, tenor Kenneth Rowland and baritones John Graulich and Matthew Miksak. Bass Richard Goodman was splendid as both the doctor and notary, and tiny Natalie Smith was appealing as the little boy Gherardino.

Judith Storss's piano accompaniment was flawless.

The set of "Il Tabarro" ("The Cloak"), a tragedy based on a love triangle, showed the same attention to detail as the comedy, but it was more dependent on lighting because of the importance of mood.

While George Baker's rich sombre bass was very good for the role of Michele, the jealous murderer of his wife's lover Luigi, his acting was rather too low key for this passionate role.

As Luigi, Rex Schrader was the vocal surprise of the evening for me with a powerful, beautifully clear tenor.

Sopran Sharon DeFremery as the wife Giorgetta had too much vibrato for my taste and was shrill on high notes. Robert Grant (Rinuccio in the other opera' and mezzo Mary Wildensten turned in good performances as a stevedore and his wife, and Matthew Miksak (one of the relatives in "Gianni Schicchi") was another stevedore.

Possibly because of what amounted to necessary conducting from the piano Blair's piano accompaniment was at times too loud but otherwise excellent.

If there was a general fault, it was too much singing at top volume, even in tender love scenes in "Il Tabarro." Unavoidable acoustical problems at Angelico making clear diction difficult require only the comment that they can be overcome with proper training and care, for at times every word could be heard perfectly.

Another performance of "Gianni Schicchi" was given this afternoon, and there will be another performance of both operas tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall. Do go if you like opera, especially Puccini.

Closed Session

The San Anselmo School Board reached no decision last night in a closed meeting to discuss dismissal of an employee, Chairman Cornelia B. Busse reported. The issue probably will be discussed further at following meetings, she said, but no date has been set.

ABAG Names Fanning To BCDC Seat

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Tiburon Mayor Branwell D. Fanning has been elected to represent the Association of Bay Area Governments on the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Fanning was chosen yesterday by ABAG's executive committee to fill one of four ABAG seats on the commission. He will represent four North Bay counties — Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano.

He was elected under a new state law that makes BCDC a permanent commission and reorganizes its membership. His appointment gives the Tiburon Peninsula two votes on the 27-member commission, since Belvedere Mayor Thomas S. Price has already been named to BCDC by the Senate Rules Committee.

Fanning, a member of the Tiburon City Council since 1966, is an executive with a San Francisco advertising firm.

Also named to BCDC yesterday was Berkeley City Councilman Bernice H. May. She defeated Albany Mayor Richard O. Clark, who encountered opposition from conversationists after he campainged successfully to have the Albany Isles fill site exempted from Commission control. She will represent the East Bay.

San Francisco Supervisor Robert Mendelsohn will represent the West Bay and Ronald James, San Jose mayor, South Bay.

Albee Not On Sunday

Performances of Edward Albee's play, "A Delicate Balance" will be presented by Terra Linda High School tonight, tomorrow and Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Room 802 of the music building. There will be no performance on Sunday as was erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Bay Pollution Board To Act On San Francisco

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — The City of San Francisco, a major polluter of the bay, is to report exact target dates for building new sewage treatment plants to the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board when it meets Tuesday at the Concord Civic Center, Concord.

The regional board warned San Francisco last month that new construction in the city would be halted if the city doesn't comply with antipollution orders.

The board's all-day session starts at 10 a.m. Jerome B. Gilbert of Novato, executive officer of the state Water Resources Control Board, will discuss the state's tough new antipollution law in an evening session beginning at 8.

Also in the board's agenda during the day sessions are staff reports on cease-and-desist orders against the San Quentin Disposal Site, Gilardi's Resort in Sonoma County, and the Bolinas Community Public Utility Dsitrict.

Judge Won't Halt Hearing On Barb

OAKLAND (UPI)—A superior court judge has refused to stop the Berkeley municipal court trial of the former publisher of the Berkeley Barb on obscenity charges.

"This court is not going to interfere with the lower court," Judge William Brailsford said yesterday. "It is not for me to decide if a cause of action exists."

Paul Halvonik, attorney for defendant Max Scherr, argued that a March 21 issue of the Barb alleged obscene in its entirety was protected by the constitutions of the United States and the state of California.

MASSACRE SURVIVORS?—These men, some bearing old bullet wounds, claim to be survivors of a mass slaughter at the hands of American GIs in March 1968. The men, now at the Bon My government resettlement center, say hundreds of South Vietnamese men, women and children were surrounded and gunned down in the village of Mai-Tai No. 4, but that some survived by playing dead. San Anselmo Garbage Fee Hike Voted Unlimited garbage pickups will cost San Anselmo residents an extra $2 a month, the San Anselmo City Council agreed last night.

The council approved an offer by the San Anselmo Garbage Disposal Co. to provide weekly residential pickup of an unlimited amount of waste for $4.50 a month in flat areas and $4.75 a month in hilly areas. The waste must be in containers of up to 32 gallons.

Residents will be able to order pickup of only one can a week for rates of $2.50 a month on flat areas, $2.75 in hilly areas. This is an increase from the present rates of $2.30 and $2.60.

The council ordered an ordinance prepared incorporating the changes and redefining the definition of flat and hill areas in the cities, City Administrator-controller Alfred C. Kaeppel reported.

The ordinance may be ready for the Dec. 9 meeting and may be passed as an emergency ordinance to take effect immediately, Kaeppel daid.

Details of the new ordinance are to be worked out between the garbage company, City Atty. John G. Buresh and Councilman James F. Reed.

Provision may also be made for pickup of material such as garden clippings if tied in bundles rather than put in containers, Kaeppel said.

Corte Madera Theater Carpenter Dies In Fall

A 40-year-old carpenter died yesterday after he fell 35 feet onto a sidewalk from the Cinema 21 Theater under construction in Corte Madera, police reported.

Robert A. LaBonte of Paradise, Butte County, died in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital at 5 p.m., two and a half hours after he plunged from a scaffold at 41 Tamal Vista Boulevard, landing on his head and shoulder. Autopsy is pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Other workers for Stendell Construction Company of San Francisco said LaBonte was helping put the roof on when he slipped, grabbed at the scaffolding and fell.

LaBonte is survived by his wife, Eva Jane LaBonte of Paradise. Funeral will be at Paradise, Butte County, with local arrangements by Halstead and Company of San Francisco.

Unruh Reception Off To January

A Sausalito reception scheduled tomorrow for Assemblyman Jessie M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, has been postponed to January.

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito, chairman of the Marin County Democratic Central Committee, which was to have sponsored the reception, announced that Unruh had to cancel because of a conflicting fund-raising dinner tomorrow in Los Angeles for former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The cost of printing announcements for the reception will be reimbursed by Unruh's office, Politzer said.

A reception for the other "noncandidate" for the Democratic nomination for governor, San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto, is being planned for February, Politzer said.

Stereo Goods Taken

Old Adobe Trustees Eye Vote On Hiking Interest

An election next year to increase the interest rate on bond monies already authorized by voters and a possible tax increase election were considered last night by the Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma.

Supt. Dean D. Lagowan told the board that $500,000 remain in bonds approved in 1968 and are now unsaleable with a fixed interest rate of 5 per cent. Magowan said the board would consider seeking approval to raise the interest rate maximum to 7 per cent.

Magowan said the board scheduled no election date, but was considering September of 1970.

The superintendent told the board that due to the lack of state funds, double sessions may be necessary next fall unless a district tax increase is approved.

The board said it would consider the tax increase possibility along with the proposed bond election.

The Old Adobe School District board also:

HIGH SCHOOL — Heard a report from Lesly H. Meyer, superintendent of Petaluma City Schools, on proposed sites for a junior-senior high school in the vicinity of Casa Grande and Ely roads.

HIGH DENSITY — Asked Magowan to meet with city officials to review proposals for high density housing on the east side of Petaluma and to determine how it might affect school enrollment.

LANDSCAPE — Approved the development of a landscape master plan by William L. Kapranos of San Rafael for $640.

Zoning Delays Fairfax Hearing

Consideration of an application to build an office and store at 2405 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, was postponed last night by the city's planning commission.

The commission and the applicants, Meldon Embury and Harry Brogioli, agreed to delay consideration until after the city's new zoning ordinance is adopted.

The commission also granted a variance on parking requirements at the building at 1599 Sir Francis Drake. The number was reduced from 15 to 12 so there will be room for street improvements and installation of curb and gutter.

Aide Status Talks

The Kentfield School District board will discuss effects of bringing teacher aides into the classified employee system when the board meets at 8 p.m. Monday in the library of Adaline E. Kent School.

Congress Probe Urged In Vietnam Massacre

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress is being urged to investigate the reported massacre of Vietnamese civilians by American soldiers. An Army inquiry into the alleged incidents already has begun in Saigon.

Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., and Rep. William Minshall, R-Ohio, called for the investigations yesterday after three American veterans of Vietnam gave what they said were eyewitness accounts of mass slaying in March 1968, at a number of Vietnamese hamlets. All three said the killings were performed by members of C Company, 1st Battalion, 20th Infantry Regiment, to which they were attached at the time.

Two of the men—Sgt. Michael Bernhardt, 23, now stationed at Fort Dix, N.J., and Michael Terry, 22, now a college student in Utah—reported seeing many of their fellow soldiers gun down Vietnamese peasants, some fleeing and others herded together. The third report came from a former combat photographer, Ronald L. Haeberle, 28, who claimed his comrades "indiscriminately and wantonly mowed down" civilian residents of a small village.

Each man described the incidents separately in published accounts, which Minshall said indicated the facts had been covered up. He said the government's handling of the situation "smacks of the same kind of secrecy that surrounded the Green Beret case."

Minshall said he was asking Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and its defense subcommittee, to question all appropriate Defense Department and Army witnesses at a hearing as soon as possible.

ST. VINCENT'S ARTISTS

With Wood, Paint, Wire

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Rumors to the contrary, the monastic-looking St. Vincent's School for Boys in the farm lands opposite Marinwood, is not a reformatory. And while true that many boys are placed there by the courts, it is more accurately, a substitute home for boys who at the moment, don't happen to have any.

Obviously, these boys have known unusual emotional stress. And for those who believe that exciting art comes from creatively-channelled emotion, St. Vincent's provides a solid argument. The paintings, sculpture and crafts by first through twelfth grade students in this weekend's third annual art show-sale, have an intensity and direction that is arresting.

St. Vincent's art program which flourishes high up under the eaves if the great old mission-like buildings, is purely voluntary.

Its director, school counselor John Crawford says, "It's the one place where there's no pressure. We don't allow any arguments or tattling. They come up here to be themselves, to find self-expression and to relax."

In this light you might call art a therapeutic release. Of course, in part it is. This is usually too subtle to note. But there are a few strong samples such as the drawing one boy did after a counselor refused to take him into San Francisco. He rushed up to the studio where he drew the Golden Gate Bridge with the counselor's car going over the edge. Then, on second thought, he erased the car. Then de drew people on the bridge with the counselor falling over, having decided, Crawford reports, "To hell with it! I'll push him over myself."

The work in the show may be honest but it is never offensive.

"If it's in bad taste," Crawford tells the kids, "forget it!" Remember, if you want to sell, people won't buy junk." And since the proceeds go to the student artists for Christmas spending, they listen.

The work has been attractive enough in past shows to cause at least one near-battle between two ladies coveting the same sculpture and this year the show, which is open Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., is again heavy with good work. "Snoopy is big in the little yard (grades 1-6)," Crawford says. While landscapes, constructiins, ink abstractions, batiks, often-witty sculpture and crafts predominate through high school.

The students' overall high level of ability doesn't just happen. Crawford doesn't believe in being overly protective and while he tries to save hurt feelings he says emphatically, "In the art business, it's important to be honest."

This remark came while looking at an accomplished construction one boy was working on. "The first thing this kid did was really awful and I told him frankly what was wrong with it."

Later he said the boy told him, "Sir, you're the first one who ever bothered. Most people just passed off what I did by saying 'that's good.'" And Crawford continues, estimating his talent, "This boy was straight from the bottom and now he's going straight to the top.

Above all he adds, "The kids call the shots." And translated into art that simply means the imagination and individuality that come across so energetically throughout their student show.

Novato Planners Pass Plans For Apartment House

Plans for a 96-unit apartment house on 4.5 acres south of Ignacio Boulevard and west of Highway 101 were approved yesterday by the Novato Plan Review Committee.

The committee conditioned approval of the plans of Emerson Weiser, according to planning director Brian W. Mattson, on subsequent approval of drainage and grading plans, undergrounding the utilities and submitting landscaping plans.

The committee approved plans for five apartment buildings south of Olive Avenue and east of Railroad Avenue for Canadian American Oil Co. Site plans are to be submitted later.

The landscaping plans and some fencing plans were approved for the Los Robles Mobile Home Park on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard east of the Northwestern Pacific railroad.

Hayakawa Happy With Voter Poll

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — S.I. Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, president of San Francisco State College, says he is flattered by a poll showing him as the strongest Democratic contender in a race next year against Sen. George Murphy.

But he adds: "At present, I am far more concerned with the administration of San Francisco State College than with politics."

The latest California Poll of 834 persons indicated that Hayakawa, known for his stand against militants who closed the college last year, would fare best against Republican Murphy, a former actor expected to seek a second term, losing by a margin of 46 to 40 per cent.

Antidelinquency Support Sought

Involving members of the community in the Marin County Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission will be one of the major targets of the group during the next year, members have agreed.

The commission will form subcommittees to concentrate on specific areas and invite interested persons to serve, chairman Gary T. Giacomini reported.

The commission also decided, at its meeting Wednesday, to identify all Marin agencies which deal with youth. The commission is charged with coordinating activities of those agencies.

In other business, the commission sent a list of 12 persons to the board of supervisors to fill four vacancies.

Woman To Head Church Council?

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A woman is slated for the presidency of the National Council of Churches for the first time in its 20-year history.

She is Dr. Cynthia Wedel, 61, Alexandria, Va., wife of a prominent Episcopal theologian, Dr. Theodore O. Wedel.

Mrs. Wedel's name will be placed before the National Council of Churches General Assembly, which meets in Detroit Nov. 30, by the official nominating committee. Always in the past, the nominating committee's choice has been elected by the Assembly as a matter of course.

Informed sources said a black churchman, Bishop F.D. Jordan of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, will be nominated for first vice president of the nation's largest ecumenical organization. Bishop Jordan lives in Los Angeles.

Red, White, Blue Tax Forms Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service unveiled yesterday its new red-white-and-blue version of Form 1040.

Seventy-seven million people are expected to file the new income tax form before the deadline next April 15. For the first time, all individual taxpayers will use the same form, since the new 1040 replaces both the old long form and the short card from 1040A.

"We have done away with the card form 1040A because many taxpayers, in choosing this short form, denied themselves tax advantages to which they were entitled," said Randolph W. Thrower, the commissioner of internal revenue. His statement adorns the front of the 32-page booklet of tax forms, which should be received by most people the first week in January.

TWO-COLOR INK

Like the 1968 forms, most of the new 1040s are printed in blue and red ink on white paper instead of the old style black on white—a change the IRS says cost only $45 more for three new printing plates.

The red calls attention to sections where mistakes are commonly made, such as instructions on which tax table to use.

The biggest change this year is the simplification of putting everything on the front of one sheet. The IRS notes that the new 1040 is similar to the front and back of the old card form.

Instead of itemizing deductions in cramped spaces on the back of the form, as in the past, the taxpayer will find a separate form is provided. Those who do not itemize will throw the separate sheet away.

ADD-A-PAGE

Other schedules, to be used or discarded as needed, provide space for dividend and interest income, sales or exchanges of property, supplemental or miscellaneous income and a special form for tax computation.

IRS called the new system "the add-a-page feature."

About 76 million of the new booklets are being printed at commercial plants in Green Bay, Wis., and Los Angeles, and at the Government Printing Office here.

Total cost of the 65 million booklets most individual taxpayers will receive will be $2,162,499, or an average of less than 3.5 cents each.

Another 11 million 48-page booklets mainly for farmers and businessmen will cost about 5.5 cents each at the Government Printing Office.

Leader Named For Study Of Traffic Court

Warren P. Marsden, a San Francisco attorney, has been appointed project director for a three-year statewide study of the organization of California traffic courts.

The study will involve detailed examination of operating methods in the municipal and justice courts, and include an analysis of the condition of court business and caseloads.

The program was made possible by a $278,500 grant to the California Judicial Council under the provisions of the Federal Highway Safety Act of 1966.

Marsden was an attorney in the Administrative Office of the Courts in 1965 when he resigned to become staff counsel for the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District, a position he held four years before his appointment.

Three Drunken Drivers Fined

Three men have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Frank Ireton Butler, 54, of San Francisco, arrested Oct. 7 on Golden Gate Bridge, was placed on one year probation and fined $302.

Robert Terry Case, 26, of San Francisco, arrested Oct. 2 on Highway 101, was placed on six months' probation and fined $200.

John Federick Winter, 55, of 8 Upper Toyon Drive, Kentfield, was fined $300. He was arrested Oct. 2 on Highway 101.

Point Reyes Speedy Action Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said yesterday he expects Senate consideration early in January of legislation to authorize an additional $38 million to complete land acquisition for the Point Reyes National Seashore in California.

Cranston said Chairman Alan Bible, D-Nev., of the Senate interior subcommittee on parks has assured that the subcommittee will take up the bill as soon as it receives House approval.

The bill has approval of the House subcommittee on parks and is expected to be taken up in the full House Interior Committee next Wednesday.

Cranston said he anticipates House passage by mid-December.

Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., announced after a meeting with President Richard Nixon Tuesday that the President had agreed to request funding for the Point Reyes land acquisition in three annual installments.

Less than half the 54,000 acres of the park on the Marin county peninsula has been acquired with the $19,135,000 previously authorized by Congress.

Junior College Sets Entrance Deadline

Nine-County Transit Authority For Bay?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, says he will ask the legislature to set up a nine-county Metropolitan Transportation Agency in the San Francisco Bay area.

Foran heads the Assembly-Transportation Committee that completed a series of hearings on the subject in Oakland Wednesday.

He came out for a new agency despite strong pressure to give regional transportation functions to the association of bay area governments.

Officials from both Contra Costa and Marin Counties opposed a new agency at the hearings. Contra Costa Supervisor James B. Moriarty said the ABAG should undertake local regional transportation planning.

Marin Supervisor John McInnis, who is cahirmen of ABAG's Continuing Transportation Planning Committee, concurred.

But legislative analyst Alan Post told the hearing ABAG "is not a government body, but rather a voluntary association... in which local entities are neither compelled to join nor prevented from withdrawing."

Post's testimony was presented by his administrative assistant, James Cooney. The legislative analyst also ruled out the Bay Conservation and Development Commission as an administrator of Bay Area transportation.

The BCDC, he said, is a state agency directly supported by the state general fund and therefore serves on a statewide rather than a regional basis.

Foran said as he envisoned the new Metropolitan Transportation Agency, it would be responsible for planning and priorities and hold some veto powers over existing transit programs.

He said he might reconsider, however, a provision in a similar bill he sponsored which died without action in the last legislature, which would have all the MTA governing board appointed by local governments.

He said it had been suggested that at least half the new board be elected by the public.

Echo Of Past

STUBBEKOBING, Denmark (UPI)—A luxury yacht that belonged to Ivar Kreuger, Swedish match king who disappeared while on a trans-Atlantic flight aboard a commercial airliner in 1932, has been bought by A. Male's Emergence In Fashion

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you've already bought your fall 1969 wardrobe it's probably too late. But if you have not and want to be a jump ahead in men's fashions here is a rundown of the major trends in men's clothing for spring 1970.

The National Association of Men's Sportswear Buyers (NAMSB) issued monthly reports to guide buyers so they won't be caught short on market trends. So if you're still buying and read this you can look for features what will be a jump ahead.

Shaped single-breasted suits: This is the big spring 1970 fashion model and the leaders have lapels up to four inches wide. It should have roped or soft straight shoulder and center vent with fitted chest, close waistline and higher armhole.

Double-breasted: Manufacturers expected 40 per cent of the spring suits to be shaped double-breasted. The so-called Edwardian look is fading and those on order are being modified to lower and round off the lapel to show off more shirt.

Shape: Shape extends into everything including what used to be the so-called "American silhouette" or "basic" look. The last holdouts against shape were the West Coast producers of the California look and they, too, have gotten on the shape bandwagon.

The tube and squared front single-breasted: The next forward fashion phase of shape is a look some call the tube. It is a tubular body that starts at the top with a high armhole, fits close to the chest and comes down straight and long without flare. This is the model the designers of avant garde came up with. Straight bottom and 3-and 4-button single-breasteds also are part of the designer look.

SPRING 1970 suits for men are emerging with several notable changes as in this model by Hammonton Park. Lapels are at least four inches wider with roped shoulders and a lower gorge to show more shirt and tie. This double breasted suit features a new button treatment, six in a V shape with only the lower one to button, and very high cut armholes. (UPI telephoto)

Straight shoulders: The new look is medium padding and squared off, a compromise between built up and natural shoulders. Designer lines are showing roped and built up shoulders and narrow shoulders on tube type models.

Details: The center vent is taking over from side vents and inverted pleats. Some lapels are up to five inches wide, sometimes stiffened to hold their shape. Pocket flaps will be wide and straight. Suit pants will be a little wider and straighter with flare going out.

Suit colors: Most of the major mills showed darker fabrics for spring 1970 although some style leaders insist on light colors. Multi-color stripes are the important pattern story for spring since stripes complement the new models. Plains are good in textures that look and feel like linen.

Sports coats: Doublebreasteds still extremely strong, particularly in blazers which now account for 65 per cent of sales. Prints have still not really made it but some manufacturers are offering geometrics, abstract animal prints, patchworks, foulard and reptiles. There is less Edwardian uptightness in the spring lines. Blazer suits also are big.

Slacks: There are four categories for spring—flared pants with an 18-inch knee and 19½-inch bottom; straight 19-inch pants with beltloops, flap watch pocket, sometimes reverse pleats; beltless pants with 2-button closure and tucks on each side of the pocket to simulate pleats; three-inch-high waistband, 20 inches wide straight down (for the youngsters). About 75 per cent will be straight, not flared.

Topcoats: Knee-length styles are expected to be the best selling topcoats for spring and single-breasted models will emphasize the wide notched laps. Double-breasteds shown in both six-and eight-button models.

How To Talk To The Gas Station Man

One problem for a woman getting her car serviced is that she often has trouble with the language.

Service station men, like people in many other specialized professions, have their own way of saying things. As time goes on, they forget you may not "comprende la lingua".

To add to the confusion, when you confront your favorite car-care expert with, "My husband said you'll probably want to check the framiscron — or something like that," nobody knows what anybody is talking about.

What can be done about it?

The first thing you can do is to be sure of what your husband said. Next for the uninitiated, here is a pot pourri of expressions your automotive service man may throw at you.

For example: When he says, "You're aimed at the tree tops and weak on low beam," what he means is, "With your headlights that far out of aim, and one of them weak, you're lucky you can see at all. And how about the other drivers you are blinding?" To correct this, have your headlights checked for aim every six months and inspected more often for weak or burned out bulbs.

Ready for some more?

He says, "This sludge will wreck your lifters."

He means dirty oil and a clogged oil filter aren't doing their job. Grit and other contaminants work their way into finely machined parts of your car, including the valve lifters. The result is a noisy engine that grows old too soon.

The solution? The proper oil-change practice recommended by the American Petroleum Institute is: Change motor oil every 3,000 miles or three months, whichever comes first (but never exceed the car maker's warranty requirements for oil change). Also have a new oil filter installed every other oil change when following this practice.

"She's about to blow this hose."

This is a warning that you would be stranded in the middle of nowhere with a burned-up engine. Radiator hoses don't last forever, and with pressurized cooling systems (which work on the same principle as the pressure cooker in your kitchen) when a worn-out hose bursts, it really goes! Have your service station man give your car's cooling system a thorough going over twice a year.

"You've got corrosion on your terminals."

Translation: You may have trouble getting your car started unless you have the important battery connections cleaned and tightened. Have the battery and generator (or alternator) and other parts of the electrical system checked over in the fall and spring.

"It acts like your PCV is clogged."

Very simply, PCV means pos-

PSYCHIC POWERS

Women Outnumber Men 10 To One

By ARLEEN ABRAHAMS
AP Newsfeature

The next time you hear of a friend's husband's philandering and you worry over whether or not to clue her in, don't give it a second thought. "Chances are 99 to 1 that she already knows of her husband's activities. The only wife who is fooled by a husband's carrying on is one that wants to be. Her psychic powers always tell her when something is wrong."

So says Jess Stearn, author of "Adventures Into the Psychic." He adds that "It's a rare woman whose subconscious isn't attuned to every little nuance of her man." Stearn, who first entered the world of the psychic in 1952 and whose latest book is just one of several he's written on the topic, believes that one reason "men are more jealous lovers than women is because, lacking this intuition, this psychic power, they have to be wary. They just don't get as many hunches."

Reeling off a list of America's leading clairvoyants — Jeane Dixon, who predicted President Kennedy's assassination; Helen Stalls, who in 1965 at a dinner party for Stearn and some friends prophesied Adlai Stevenson would die at a public place abroad shortly and that within two years Jacqueline Kennedy would marry a foreigner; and Anne Gehman, who is often consulted by Florida police who are seeking clues to unsolved crimes — Stearn pointed out that "women outnumber men psychics 10 to 1. Edgar Cayce and a few others are clearly exceptions.

"I have no doubt that women are far more psychic than men," says the former New York City newspaper reporter. "It's been a woman's nature, at least until this generation, to rely primarily on feeling, intuition and second-sense. Men are the conscious thinkers; women function largely by using their unconscious and that's where the psychic lies."

"Although more and more women recently have entered the business world and consequently have trained their conscious minds to function logically, it will take several generations before women lose their psychic advantage over men," Stearn believes. "And who knows, women might revolt and go back to the home before then," chuckles the graying 6-footer.

Stearn admits that prior to 1952, he scoffed at any references to the psychic world. "If a girl I was dating suggested going to a fortune teller, I'd stop seeing her," says the man who now consults fortune tellers and other clairvoyants "all the time."

One day, while covering a story for the New York Daily News, Stearn found himself in mid-Manhattan and in need of a restroom. He walked upstairs to use a restaurant's facilities. Outside the door he encountered a woman who asked him, "Do you want a reading? I'm a sensitive."

"I didn't know if she meant she'd read Dickens or what," he recalls. But after she dropped a few eye openers — the fact that he was in the midst of getting a divorce, the fact that he wouldn't again see the girl with whom he was romantically involved at the time — his interest was peaked.

"Maya Perez was great. She predicted that I'd leave the newspaper business, that I'd write dozens of books and that the third book would become a best-seller." (His third book, "The Sixth Man," dealing with homosexuals, did indeed make the best-seller charts.)

"Then in my interviews as a reporter I became aware of how many people, particularly women and especially actresses, were attuned to astrology, palmistry. This really deepened my interest in the field.

"I remember discussing fortune tellers with Grace Kelly," he recalled. "She told me about one reader who predicted she'd become a famous actress at a time when she couldn't even land a modeling job. And I remember Grace saying, 'But the fortune teller did tell me the silliest thing. She said I'd become a princess.'" A year later Grace Kelly married the Prince of Monaco.

Stearn contends that everyone is more psychic than he realizes. Through training, such as yoga and other forms of meditation, people can develop their psychic powers, says the Malibu resident.

He explains that the basic idea is to get a clear channel to the subconscious mind. Admitting that it took him months of concentration before he was able to rid his mind of conscious thought, he suggests concentrating on God, a tree "anything that will produce a visual picture." The visual picture, he says, is a reflection of the subconscious.

Another technique that he recommends is to record your dreams. "You might not remember them at first, but after you get in the habit of writing them down you'll start to recall them regularly," he enthuses.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Medication Plus Psychotherapy Is New Mental Illness Treatment

DEAR HELEN:

If anyone writes to you in desperation; "Helen, I've been seeing a psychiatrist regularly but it's not helping. . . ." I thought you'd be happy to know that today there is still another place to turn. My husband literally dragged me to a doctor, connected with Columbia Medical School and Rockland State Hospital, who is doing research work with drug-therapy for emotional illness. The four-bit title for this is psychopharmacotherapy.

The doctor placed me on an experimental medication which has sustained me beautifully for three years now. In fact, I hold a responsible part time job; my family is united, and the children are doing us proud. My health is excellent, proving that continued use of drugs is not harmful — if taken under a doctor's supervision of course.

While on medication, most patients (who might otherwise be hiding their heads under a pillow in a darkened room or hitting the bottle to escape) react normally and can carry on their everyday lives. My doctor believes this method is tailor-made for the person who needs help desparately but who refuses to see a psychiatrist either through fear he will be labeled a nut or because of financial reasons — or because he is unwilling to bare his innermost feelings. This way he's simply going to a doctor and receiving medication. Appointments can be spaced a month or more apart and the cost is much less.

Believe me, Helen, I am not disparaging psychiatrists and psychologists who practice psychotherapy. Just wanted you to know that if talking it out doesn't help, there's no need for anyone to throw in the sponge.

While our scientists are sending men to the moon, they are also discovering new ways to deal with problems of mental illness here on earth.—D.A.

DEAR READERS:

More and more mental health clinics and psychotherapists are swinging to Psychopharmacotherapy often in conjunction with traditional treatments for emotional illness.

To locate doctors doing this type of work in your area, contact your County Medical Association. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Would you please again remind people how tactless and hurtful it is to ask, "Why aren't you having a family?" or "What, just one child?"

This is sheer cruelty to a couple who does not want to discuss its secret. We have a lovely three-year-old- girl. But my husband and I are on the verge of separation. No one knows — we put on a good show. But it would be disastrous to start another baby just now.

Yet friends are constantly alluding to only children, and asking why. Our lives are tough enough, without this. Sometimes I want to scream, "Mind your own business."

How can you shut such people up? — H.C.B.

DEAR H:

Don't let these tactless people put you on the defensive. Look them straight in the eye, smile, and say, "You're rattling our private cage. Let's change the subject" — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

A Sudden Teddy-Bear Fad Is Taking Over Coats And Suits

By JANE ROGERS
London Express Service

You may not be feeling in a particularly furry mood at the moment, but a sudden fad for the teddy-bear look is taking over for coats, suits and tailored clothes.

It all started when a fashion manufacturer found a huge supply of teddy-bear cloth in improbable colors lurking at the back of his warehouse, a hangover from the days when he was involved in toy manufacturing. His daughter, a trendy teen-ager, saw the cloth and said it would make up into a super floor-length coat. He had it dyed to more sober saner colorings and, presto, there's a sudden rash of furry maxi-coats around, double-breasted, belted and fastened with huge buttons.

At the same time the fur fabric industry has at last come round to the idea that fun fake furs should be fun, not pale imitations of the real thing, and have come out with a range of furry cloths that are used not just for coats and outer garments but casual clothes as well. They're making them in super light-weights that aren't necessarily intended to keep out the cold but just to look furry and pretty.

THERE ARE, for instance, wide furry trousers cut like cowboys' chaps, worn with a gun-slinging leather belt. The loops for bullets are used to hold lipsticks and other items like that. There's a furry mini-skirt in a mock tartan and for evening and hostess wear a long luxurious furry cloth skirt with a slight sheen in it that makes it look as if its made from black sealskin without the wearer feeling guilty about wearing an animal pelt.

Most fun of all, perhaps, are the ton-up clothes — battle-dress jackets, jeans and skirts made from shiny cire cloth trimmed with furry collars and cuffs. Some of them look like flying jackets, others like motor-cyclists' gear, all of them are exceedingly chic in a casual sort of way if you have a long slender shape.

The most practical use of furry fabric is of course the thin, lightweight mac that you wear now, plus a furry lining ing some improbable animal pattern like lion or hyena that you zip in when the weather gets cold. But remember that fur added this way adds inches to your shape too, so try it on with its lining first, before you finally make up your mind.

Faced with all this competition from fake furs, it's not surprising that the real fur designers are fighting back with up-to-the-minute designs and lower prices.

THEY'RE MIXING two kinds of furs, for instance, one flat, one hairy, to give a new fashion effect, broadtail or Persian lamb trimmed with fox. The trend this year is very much away from the hairy bulky ape-man coat and toward clothes that are tailored very much as if the fur is a fabric. There is a black suit with a swing skirt and a carefully tailored jacket made up in broadtail which is, if you're not up in furs, a flatter, less curly version of Persian lamb. This is strictly for the rich girls, however, who want 'throw-away clothes' made from fur. The rest if us would rather let the rest of the world know that we've got a fur coat — and how.

A SURE fire seller, this below-the-knee-length trouser suit of Persian lamb and black fox can be copied in astrakan and fox to sell at a fraction of the price of the real thing.

At the recent furriers' shows I spotted a snazzy below-the-knee-length trouser suit in Persian lamb worn with boots and trimmed with black fox, dying to be copied in astrakan and fox at a fraction of the price.

And if you don't feel in a furry mood look out for new accessories such as hats and belts, the in things to have them made from, from now on are either snakeskin or real fur — it's one way to make a little skin go a long way.

The "Make It Yourself With Wool," competition open to girls from 10 to 21 years old will be Dec. 13. The deadline for entering garments made of 100 per cent American made wool is Dec. 3.

Prizes in the local competition sponsored by the American Wool Council and the National Wool Growers Association, California Wool Growers and "Bo-Peeps," the North Bay Wool Growers Auxiliary, are yardage, cosmetics and sewing supplies. State prize winners will also receive yardage and nationally a junior and senior winner will each receive a European vacation and scholarships.

Girls in the junior (age 14-16) and senior (age 17-21) categories may make suits, coats or dresses. Locally a sub-deb competition (age 10-13) will be held and they may make pants, jumpers or skirts.

Junior and senior winners will go to state competition in Sacramento on Jan. 17 and 18. And state winners will go to the national finals Jan. 21 to 24, in Denver, Colo.

The local competition includes entries from Marin, Lake, Sonoma, Napa, and South Mendocino Counties. A luncheon will be held Dev. 13, at the El Rancho Motel in Santa Rosa at 12:30 p.m., with a style show to follow.

What He Means By 'You've Got Brittle Blades And A Weak Arm'

itive crankcase ventilation. Your car could be polluting the air and seriously hampering the performance of your engine. Have this valve checked every time you have the oil changed.

"Your timing is so late, I'm surprised she ran at all".

The service man is talking about late ignition timing, an indication that you are late for your tune-up. A minor tune-up should be done every six months. A complete tune-up, which includes new ignition parts, spark plugs and the other things that keep your car running right, should be done every year or 12,000 miles.

"You're toed out, Ma'am, and slightly out of balance."

Nothing personal. Your car probably is not steering too well. It may be shaking, wobbling and wearing a lot of rubber off the tires — all because you haven't had the front wheels aligned and balanced in awhile. Don't put it off any longer.

"You've got brittle blades and a weak arm."

No wonder you have been having trouble seeing in the rain. Wiper blades can grow brittle, dull and inefficient after about six months of normal use. After a couple of years, the wiper arms lose their tension and don't exert the right amount of pressure, to hold the blades against the glass. Solution: New ones.

"You need two clamps and a pipe to get you back in shape."

He is talking about exhaust pipes and the clamps that keep connections tight. When any parts of your exhaust system rust through you are in trouble. Worse than the noise is the carbon monoxide gas that can creep into your car. It is lethal.

"We changed your fluid, tightened your bands and adjusted your linkage; so it ought to feel better now."

It certainly should. Your car had been feeling sluggish, seemed to slip when it should have been shifting. It needed ATF (automatic transmission fluid) and some adjustments to get it back to normal. Lucky your service station man found this when he did, because neglect could cost you the price of a transmission overhaul.

"We can handle your warranty services."

Now you are both talking the same language. He is telling you that his service station is equipped and qualified to handle all routine services required to keep your car's warranty valid. All you have to do is make sure required maintenance is done on time and that you keep receipts in case of a future warranty claim to show that you had the services performed on schedule.

Overtidy Housewives Rebuked

BOSTON (WMNS) — Superhousewifery may not be advisable but it is not a clear and present danger compared to other careless customs, in the opinion of the New England Journal of Medicine, a studious publication that seldom strays from examining and operating rooms.

The Journal rebukes overtidy housewives who insist on polishing dishes fresh from the dishwasher — a practice that spreads bacteria — and advises non-owners of dishwashers to allow their dishes to dry in the rack.

But, asks the Journal, what about these customs "that disregard the simplest elements of sanitation?"

The family use of a single tube to toothpaste;

Exchanging lipsticks and combs;

Tasting food on the stove with a stirring spoon that goes back into the pot;

Feeding the baby from the parental plate with the parental fork;

Failing to wash your hands after using the toilet.

Although all these are less innocuous than germy dish towels, the Journal nevertheless remains cheerful: "Mankind still has a chance of survival by the development of natural immunities."

Shall it be cheese fondue for dinner, with everyone dipping repeatedly into a common pot?

HOW TO PLAY

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In Mapping Out Play, Count Your Tricks Before Action

You can often get away with planning the play of a hand only after you have played a few tricks. The cards are sometimes well placed, or the opponents mishandle the defense, and you somehow land on your feet. So don't pay any attention to today's hand: it probably won't happen to you.

BIG ACE

South won the first trick with the ace of hearts and led the king of spades without giving the hand any thought at all. When both opponents played low trumps, South led the queen of spades next.

East took the ace of spades with ominous speed and just as ominously returned a third round of trumps. This left only two trumps in the dummy, and South eventually discovered that he couldn't trump three red cards with only two trumps. South lost the ace of spades, a club trick, a diamond and one other red card that he couldn't ruff in dummy.

NEEDS SIX TRUMPS

South should count his tricks from the very beginning of the hand. He can win three aces and a king in the side suits and therefore needs six trump tricks to make his contract. This can be done by ruffing three cards in the dummy, but it is much simpler to ruff two cards in the South hand.

After taking the ace of hearts South should lead a club and try the finesse. East takes the king of clubs and will probably lead out the ace of trumps and then a low trump.

RUFF ACTION

South leads a club to the ace, ruffs a club, ruffs a heart in dummy to ruff another club and ruffs another heart to return to dummy.

Declarer then leads the ten of spades to draw the last trump and cashes the top diamonds to amass a total of 10 tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♥ 9 7 6 2
♦ Q J 9 7 6
♣ 10 8 7

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

You have only three points in high cards but should count another three points for the singleton when you have four trumps. Strain to raise partner's major suit when you have four-card trump support and only a singleton in the other major.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Nov. 21, the 325th day of 1969 with 40 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1877, Thomas Edison announced the invention of what he called the talking machine.

In 1938, the Nazis took over the western regions of Czechoslovakia and declared all persons in those areas German citizens.

In 1960, the first direct clash between the Congolese army and United Nations troops took place in Leopoldville.

A thought for the day: Daniel Webster said, "Let our object be our country, our whole country and nothing but our country."

Three-County Conclave Slated

Junior high school students from Novato and Sonoma and Napa counties will attend a conference tomorrow on better school government, sponsored by the National Bay League of Schools.

The conference will begin at 9 a.m. at San Jose Junior High School, 1000 San Jose Boulevard, Novato.

CONCERT REVIEW

Pianist Has Worthy Idea But Bad Evening

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Pianist Daniel Scarlett proved in one of his "keyboard conversations" Wednesday night at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley that he has the right formula for allowing an audience to enjoy music in a delightfully informal milieu. But it didn't work out just right.

The setting for his "Evening with Chopin and Schumann" was perfect: the intimate, artistic atmosphere of the clubhouse with a cheery fire blazing in the stone fireplace on the stage and wine served at intermission.

Dressed in a gray Douglas kilt of his Scottish ancestors, Scarlett was far from the formally clad recitalist. A relaxed performer, he put his near capacity audience at ease immediately with some chatty and informative comments on 19th Century music. His chosen composers were among those who avoided its evils of bombast and runaway emotionalism.

Other devices adding to the informality were his playing from the music — seldom seen in solo recitals — and reading interesting little sidelights from books.

What then didn't work out just right?

First, Scarlett seemed incapable of maintaining an audible level after a sentence or two. I can only think he had an off night — and this can happen to any musician.

He started out very well with Schumann's 13 little "Kinderscenen," continued safely through three Chopin mazurkas. Then, he played the Chopin Polonaise in C Sharp Minor instead of the one in E Flat Major listed on the program. Happily it wasn't the warhorse Polonaise in A Major — much credit to him.

But he was unable to complete the Chopin Ballade in F Major, saying he guessed it had just got away from him.

After intermission Scarlett recouped with the best work of the evening in several Schumann symphonic etudes. He was wise to conclude the program with three more Chopin mazurkas instead of that composer's "Berceuse" and Scherzo in B Minor listed on the program.

For an encore he played Schumann's charming "The Prophet Bird." He performs Schumann better than Chopin, at least this was so last night.

Despite the mishaps, Scarlett has an ingratiating personality and musical gifts, and I am sure many in the audience enjoyed the evening.

Larkspur Library To Show Miniatures

Miniature watercolors by Marjorie Voltz of Larkspur will be exhibited at the Larkspur Library in December and January.

Library hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesday through Thursday, and 10 a.m. to noon Saturday.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Honeymoon Machine" — Lively Navy farce about young officers who use a computer to break the bank at the casino in Venice. Hilarious comedy.

"Sweet Charity" — Expanding on the New York stage production, this film is a most entertaining musical filled with songs and dance numbers that are excitingly staged. A one-woman show by Shirley MacLaine.

"Undefeated" — A fullbodied post Civil War adventure. Plot enriched by touches of humor and warm friendships that develop between former adversaries. Violence of war shown in well-directed fighting sequences.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Alice's Restaurant" — Thought provoking true happening in New England village in 1964-67. Story told with implied criticism of Establishment and its follies, shows the immature, uncommitted, unmotivated hippies in their own milieu, enjoying their "pot" with sexual abandon and harming only themselves. For only the most mature teens.

"Bandolero" — Well made and well cast, very violent Western has a fitting background of fine desert scenery.

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid"—True story of two bank and train robbers in the late 1800s who were popularized by the news media is treated as comedy. Robbers move to Bolivia to continue their trade with mixed results. Delightful scenery, imaginative camera work, clever score and memorable performances from cast.

"Heart Is a Lonely Hunter" — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

"Lion in Winter" — Rich, explosive drama that makes brilliant reality out of distant history. Intrigues and maneuverings makes for high drama. Excellent production.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

"Southern Star" — Based on a novel by Jules Verne this complicated but trite melodrama is set in Africa where the world's largest diamond disappears at a party. The chase through the beautiful wilds is rather predictable.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Rosemary's Baby" — About a young woman who is marked by witches to conceive and bear Satan's baby. Brutal rape scene, nightmare during pregnancy and hospital scene during delivery add up to 90 minutes of sensationalism, shock and terror. Parents should not be misled by title.

ADULTS ONLY

"Easy Rider" — Two dope pushers take a motorcycle trip from Los Angeles to New Orleans. Film relates their experiences which provoke much soul searching about man's inhumanity to man.

"Goodbye Columbus" — A rich and spoiled college-age girl's summer love affair with a young man who is not ready for commitment and their dispute about using contraceptives. Their choice of values make a very frank and sophisticated film. Acting and photography good.

"I Am Curious, Yellow" — Complex movie-within-a-movie structure is somewhat confusing and laborious. A Swedish social expose which received undue publicity when seized by customs because of explicit treatment of sex, depicting intercourse and oral-genital contact full view, full length and minus strategic shadows or cutaways. Even for sophisticates who are not offended, there is just too much "bare" sex for one film. (Parents Magazine)

"Last Summer" — A thought-provoking drama about grouping up, stuns as it moves from youthful activity to depravity with a frightening combination of innocence, thwarted sex drives and destructive impulses in the skillful interplay of these groping, growing personalities.

"Midnight Cowboy" — An off-beat film peopled with the dregs of society is somber and hard hitting. A crippled small time chiseler first exploits and then befriends a vain Texan who comes to New York to be a male prostitute. Sordid story told in an uncompromising way and tempered by director's technical skill gives meaning to the term "adult movie." (Parents Magazine)

"Wild Bunch" — Opens and closes with two action sequences of such awesome brutality and explicit gruesomeness as to leave unprepared audiences in a state of shock. Director in attempting to make a statement about the true horror of gunplay completely deglorifies the act. Children are included in these scenes, their repeated exposure to violence makes them immune to its effects with emulation of their elders the inevitable result. Top-flight cast.

About 25 millionaires have residences in rural Talbot County on Maryland's Eastern shore.

On display are prints by San Anselmo artist Dennis R. Beall and Corte Madera artist Mary Tift, Wood workings by Espenet of Bolinas, sculpture by both Darrell Crisp of Cortera and Hall Riegger of Mill Valley, ceramics by Eric Norstad of Corte Madera, photographs by Gordon Bennett of Mill Valley and jewelry by Anne Dick of Point Reyes Station.

The gallery is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and from noon to 4 p.m. on Sunday.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Miracle Mile Proving To Be Fertile Restaurant Ground

In past years the Miracle Mile joining San Rafael and San Anselmo, has never been particularly fertile ground for the restaurant business.

Perhaps that is changing. A few have done well recently and I understand McDonald's is looking over the traffic flow and is planning a restaurant in the San Rafael section.

Certainly one of the most successful places on the entire stretch is London Arms on the San Anselmo side, which started out with one small store space and has now trebled in size. Owner Don Johnson reports that if he had closed out business for 1969 at the end of October he would still be ahead of all last year.

Not only is London Arms perpetually busy (you'll have to wait on weekends) but it is interesting in decor and action — and relaxing. It is definitely suitable for families and the kids love it.

Designed as an English pub, it carries out that atmosphere well, especially since Don's wife Betty designed the new barmaid costumes for the waitresses (each one different).

But the real test of any restaurant has to be the food. If it happens to be good and also reasonably priced there is no dearth of customers. One page of the London Arms menu tells the entire story — the others are devoted to special wines, wine cocktails and many imported ales and beers (on draft and bottled).

Dinners are limited to such entrees as Icelandic haddock, Icelandic cod, scallops, English sole, prawns and Cornish pasties. The latter (pronounced pahsties) are something like individual beef pies. Scotch beef pies and English pork pies are among the a la carte items. Add several interesting desserts and beverages. Haddock on the dinner is $1.50. So are the pasties.

Now in the cast is guitarist Fritz Von Gluck, a musician and one who has an amazing memory for scores. He plays weekends.

THE MATTSSONS at the Old Viking in Lagunitas are among those who have reported they will be open Thanksgiving, serving from 1 p.m. Reservations are important.

Menu includes the traditional roast turkey with dressing and giblet gravy — also roast duck and the regular menu. There is also a children's menu.

BILL AND ADOLPH'S WEST END VILLA never fails to stay open on Thanksgiving and dinner reservations are already piling up. Both small dining rooms are already booked. Service will be from 2 p.m.

If you are considering having a fair size family group, talk to Bill Bisson about having your own turkey carved at the table.

Other West End news: The restaurant is now serving its popular cannelloni to take out. Phone before you call for it and it will be freshly packaged in an aluminum tray with all the cheese and sauces. And for the holidays, the 5 to 7 p.m. cocktail period now features double bar drinks for $1. Hot hors d'oeuvres are served.

KIRBY ATTERBURY is keeping the Caprice in Tiburon open for Thanksgiving dinners this year. Service will be from 4 p.m. Definitely make reservations.

Regular menu will be served — also turkey. But you'll have to order the turkey in advance when you telephone.

AT LE CHALET BASQUE, Santa Venetia, the Coscarats plan on serving Thanksgiving dinner from 4 p.m. Regular menu will be featured — plus roast turkey.

OAK TREE INN at San Geronimo will serve Thanksgiving dinners from 3 p.m. Regular menu will not be served, but you can order either roast turkey with stuffing or baked ham with champagne sauce. Ray Brunal reports the complete dinner will be $3.50, with children's service at $2.

FRANCHINI'S CHATEAU at 101 Highway and Lucas Valley Road is again featuring its traditional crab cioppino dinners Friday nights. Oversized bibs are provided. Franchini's will be closed Thanksgiving.

Roy and Bess Franchini, who will be taking over the food service at Buckingham Golf and Country Club near Kelseyville, Lake County by the end of the year, have decided on this appropriate name for their lunch, dinner and cocktails operation — Franchini's Tee Room.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in many years, Rancho Nicasio is closing for Thanksgiving. But it will be open Friday and Saturday as usual.

Reservations are now being taken for the Rancho's annual New Year's Eve party. This always books up fast.

THE VALANS at the Grotto in San Rafael, which now has its bar and cocktail lounge completed, report that they too, will be closed on Thanksgiving.

Meanwhile, the menu here includes crab cioppino all the time — for both lunch and dinner. And the lunch carte now includes 25 different sandwiches, most of them seafood. One of the big favorites is the "sloppy fish Joe sandwich," big, fat and juciy, made with fresh sole served with garnish and salad at $1.25.

HOWARD AND MARY CADWELL are celebrating their first anniversary of ownership of the Fleur de France, San Rafael on Monday.

This restaurant will be closed Thanksgiving, as well as on next Friday, Saturday and Sunday so the Cadwells can take a well-earned holiday.

AL BARTHEL is starting up lunches again at Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant in San Anselmo — Mondays through Fridays from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. This will also be closed Thanksgiving.

WAYNE HENNINGER, owner of the Kettle, Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael, is diversifying and is now a principal in new motel at Shingle Springs in El Dorado County. It is called Cameron Park Inn and is on Highway 50, 28 miles east of Sacramento, at the foot of the snow country.

Reservations for the motel may be made at the Kettle.

DON HARRIS, whose San Francisco Diners Out Club in San Rafael is now completing its first year, has been continually expanding.

This dinner coupon operation has acquired a total of 5,000 members and 14 participating restaurants in Marin, 27 in San Francisco and still more in the rest of the Bay Area.

And the club now has an office in Walnut Creek and is establishing more in Oakland, San Mateo and Palo Alto. The company has incorporated and is issuing franchises in these areas.

RON BRANDES, of the new Bib 'n' Rib at 71 Red Hill Avenue on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile has been going over some of his grandmother's old recipes. He has come up with two new food items for his menu.

One of these is her sour cream raisin pie, which Ron says used to be called "poor man's pie." It isn't intended to be a holiday pie, although you may find that it qualifies. He's also using her recipe for stuffed hickory-smoked sausage. Both are available to eat on the premises or take out.

Try Bib 'n' Rib for lunches from 11:30 a.m. to p.m. It features a number of smoked meat sandwiches that should please you.

PINKY'S PIZZA in the Nave Shopping Center is holding its grand opening this week. Having actually been open since May, owners Art Schottie, Al Burns and Bud Benson say they don't dare hold off a celebration any longer.

This is a take-out-and-delivery establishment only. No food is served on the premises. This and the Petaluma Pinky's are the two exceptions in this regard. A drawing is being held Monday. First prize is a trip to Disneyland.

ARTIST Mrs. Betty Lamb is showing her paintings at the Palate in Mill Valley for the month of November. Her works have been accepted for juried shows in the Bay Area and Nevada A Mill Valley resident, she is a member of the Marin Society of Artist.

The Palate is one of the Marin restaurants remaining open for Thanksgiving dinner this year.

RUBINI'S in Fairfax will close Monday, Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday next week for refurbishing. It will reopen for business again on Friday.

Chinese Communists have declared there is a place for "spirits" in Chinese life under Mao Tsetung, but "wizards, fairies, and ghosts" are prohibited.

College Bicycle Rider Injured

James M. Jones, of 9767 Minnesota Avenue, Cotati, was treated at the college dispensary and Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital for a shoulder injury.

The California Highway Patrol said the bicycle swerved into the path of a car driven by Freddie A. Colbert of Santa Rosa, also a college student.

School Burglarized

Conservancy Given Land At Tiburon

Two Tiburon sisters have given a 5.4-acre tideland parcel off Tiburon's north shore to the Nature Conservancy, the conservation agency has announced.

The tidelands, lying immediately south of the Paradise Cay development, were donated by Harriet Day Robbins and Elma Louise Day, descendants of early-day Marin rancher George Ring, who owned large holdings along the Paradise side of the peninsula.

Gregory Archbald of the Nature Conservancy said the gift will prevent expansion of the Paradise Cay fill to the south, and will encourage gifts of tidelands down the coast to preserve the natural coastline.

Announcement of the gift is part of the Nature Conservancy's campaign to save key lands in San Francisco Bay from development.

Biggest acquisition so far is 330 acres of Lower Tubbs Island in southern Sonoma County.

The conservancy has set a fund-raising goal of $10 million to buy key bay sites. Largest gift so far is a $25,000 grant from the San Francisco Foundation.

The Nature Conservancy helped forestall plans for development in Bolinas Lagoon in 1967 by buying Kent Island, a key part of the plan, and giving it to Marin County.

San Rafael Planner Get Towers Problems

The design for an office building near Marin's Civic Center which has upset some county officials will go to the San Rafael Planning Commission Tuesday with minor changes.

Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner said the changes were part of a city effort to cooperate with the county to establish a basis of mutual understanding on future development adjacent to the county-owned property.

However, the major objection — has not been hurdled.

The county planning staff has argued that the hill proposed for the office building forms one of the natural backdrops of the Civic Center, and any structure there should be as unobtrusive as possible.

Hotchner, in a letter yesterday to Werner Von Gundell, chief of current planning for the county, pointed out the owner was "permitted to destroy the natural topography by removing the nose of the hill which served as the natural frame and backdrop for the Civic Center basin."

He added, "After grading a flat bench, an unnatural condition existed. Consequently any proposed development cannot be reviewed on the basis of the topography as we would like to have found it, but rather, must be evaluated on the basis of what treatment is suitable for the existing unnatural flat bench of several acres."

Hotchner said there are few points from which the Civic Center and the building could be seen.

The building, planned by American Pacific Life Insurance Co., is expected to cost $2.5 million. Plans call for a three-story structure with twin seven-story towers.

Rambling Youth Pleads Innocent

Edward Gerald Timmer, 21, of no fixed address, who was arrested at the Stinson Beach Motel Tuesday, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana.

A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Judge Peter Allen Smith refused to release Timmer on his own recognizance after learning from a probation officer that the youth is traveling around the country since his release from the Army and has no fixed address.

Liz Taylor Set For Debut On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor will make her dramatic debut on television in a one-hour, original dramatic special to be broadcast by NBC during the 1970-71 season.

Mort Werner, NBC vice president for programs and talent, said yesterday the teleplay is being developed and will be produced in England by the Harlech Television and Independent Associated Television companies in association with NBC.

The producers said Miss Taylor's fee — reportedly $240,000— is the highest ever offered for a single television performance.

Nixon's Foreign Aid Bill Survives

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon's first foreign aid bill has squeaked through the House, trimmed to $2.19 billion but not battered.

The action was packed into a nearly eight-hour session which ended last night with a tense series of three roll call votes.

Enough Republicans rallied behind Nixon in the early fighting to ward off deeper cuts proposed by some of their own members. The President had asked for $2.6 billion for foreign aid.

When the day was over, the bill was sent to the Senate on a 176-163 vote. In addition to the spending ceiling for this almost half-gone fiscal year it also contains a nearly identical authorization for 1971.

But the final outcome appeared in doubt for a time as a bloc of liberal Democrats delayed their voting in protest to cuts in development loans and a proposal to give Nationalist China $54.5 million for planes.

Last year, when Democratic President Lyndon B. Johnson's proposal was slashed about $1 billion, a group of House Republicans led a floor onslaught which resulted in cuts of about $370 million.

But this year Rep. E. Ross Adair of Indiana, the ranking GOP member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee who led the anti-Johnson attack, proposed only one cutting amendment.

He succeeded in reducing development loans by $50 million on a 185-157 vote after the committee earlier had cut it back $200 million.

On final passage, 106 Democrats and 70 Republicans joined forces to vote for the bill which was opposed by 86 Democrats and 77 Republicans.

But on a 176-169 vote on the planes for Formosa, proposed by Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., there were 92 Republicans and 84 Democrats in favor of the issue and 111 Democrats and 58 Republicans opposed.

Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn., who led the fight against the planes, questioned whether Formosa was in danger of an invasion and termed it ridiculous to give planes to that country when Israel "which is under attack day after day is required to pay."

Major provisions of the bill include:

Technical assistance, $422,620,000; development loans, $425,500,000; Latin America's Alliance for Progress loans, $337,500,000; supporting assistance $414,600,000 and military aid, $350 million with a special addition of $50 million for South Korea.

There also is an earmarking of $75 million this year and $100 million in fiscal 1971 for family planning programs, $40 million to help build a desalting plant in Israel, and new authority for a Nixon-proposed overseas private investment corporation designed to promote private investment in developing lands.

Youth Arraigned On Drug Charge

John Keats Thomson Jr., 19, of San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court in a charge of possessing marijuana. His case was continued until next Thursday for entry of plea.

Thomson was arrested Wednesday night when deputies saw his car on Tiburon with only one headlight on. The deputy said that he found butts of what appeared to be marijuana cigarettes in the car.

No charges were filed yesterday in court against two other youths arrested with Thomson, Theodore Edward Berquist, 19, of Fairfax, and Philip Kith Fitzhugh, 18, of Ross.

L. A. Educator Resigns Office

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Jack F. Crowther has resigned as superintendent of the Los Angeles School District, second in size only to New York's.

Crowther, 60, gave no reason in his letter of resignation submitted last night to the Board of Education, but a board spokesman said he has not been in the best health and had recently expressed a desire to retire.

The resignation is effective Jan. 9, but Crowther said he would stay until April 8 if needed.

Crowther, superintendent since Jan. 1, 1962, went to work in the district 35 years ago as a night teacher.

Cyclamates Restrictions Are Eased

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government has decided to allow food products containing cyclamate to remain on the market, but it warns consumers to buy them only on the advice of a doctor.

HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch, who announced the decision Thursday, said the previously announced ban on beverages containing the artificial sweetener, including "diet pop", would remain in effect. That order bans all beverages containing cyclamate after Jan. 1, 1970.

But Finch, in accepting the recommendations of a scientific panel assigned to study the problem, said food products containing cyclamate would continue on the market, on a nonprescription basis. They would, however, carry a label cautioning the buyer and informing him of how much cyclamate would be contained in an average serving of the product.

The committee said cyclamated foods should remain available to the public to help diabetics, especially youngsters, and to aid those with weight problems. It said the "medical benefits in these instances outweigh the possibility for harm..."

Probation Officials Will Consider Case

The case of Robert J. Kirby, 19, of San Rafael, yesterday was referred by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court to probation officers for a report on whether it is acceptable to juvenile court.

Kirby is accused of a felony battery upon a police officer and possessing an open container of liquor in his car on Nov. 13. A sheriff's deputy said that Kirby resisted arrest of the alcohol violation by shoving and then kicking the deputy in the groin. A second deputy finally sbudued the youth, he said.

Crackdown Speeded On DDT, All Poisons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin, after moving to eliminate all but emergency uses of DDT by the end of 1970, is planning steps to restrict the widespread application of other persistent pesticides.

In accelerating efforts to halt the use of DDT, Hardin said yesterday he intends to:

Cancel in 30 days the registration of DDT for use against pests in homes, gardens, shade trees, tobacco fields and aquatic areas.

Outlaw by Dec. 30, 1970, all uses of DDT except for emergency control of diseases and massive crop pest infestations.

The secretary said he would begin taking action in March against other persistent pesticides "using the same criteria and procedures being applied to DDT."

Hardin's decision for a general ban against DDT by the end of 1970 cuts in half the timetable proposed by Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, who urged DDT be phased out for all but emergency uses in two years.

Finch made his statement about two weeks ago. At the same time, he warned that action curtailing the use of DDT could result in greater application of other members of the family of hard pesticides. These include dieldrin, aldrin, endrin, heptachlor, chlordane and Lindane.

Hardin's plan to review uses of other hard pesticides apparently is an effort to encourage the use of substitute chemicals or alternative methods of treatment for DDT instead of relying on one of its long-lived cousins.

The plan to cancel the registration of DDT for use around the home and in tobacco fields would prohibit interstate shipment or sale of some 14 million pounds of the long-lived insecticide—about 35 per cent of the total DDT used in this country.

Hardin's action would not prohibit a person from using stocks of DDT presently in his possession.

The secretary's action was endorsed yesterday by the President's Environmental Quality Council after its meeting with President Richard M. Nixon at the White House.

The council's executive secretary, Dr. Lee DuBridge, said the ban on DDT came because of its possible harmful effects.

In a related action, Hardin said his department would relinquish its authority to determine the health hazards posed by pesticides.

Instead, the department will rely on HEW to document which chemicals are safe for human consumption before taking any action to approve or cancel the registration of economic poisons, he said.

Tax Lien Filed On Silverthorne

A tax lien of $2,047,340 has been filed by the United States government against Don C. and Ann Silverthorne, 7 Salt Landing, Tiburon.

The former president of the defunct San Francisco National Bank, who was sentenced in the U.S. District Court last August to eight years in jail for manipulation and mismanagement if bank funds, has remained free on $15,000 personal bond pending appeal of his conviction by his attorney, George C. Martinez.

He was earlier reported by Martinez to be living in a small apartment in Tiburon, collecting Social Security checks.

Only the price keeps it from being expensive.

LOW COST SOLUTION?

Tiburon Citizen Wants Parking On Ground, Housing Upstairs

By ANNE BARDWELL

Those parking lots full of cars around supermarkets and shopping centers generally are considered a necessary but aesthetically unpleasant evil.

However, according to Clarence O. Bullard, a Tiburon writer and real estate man, those same parking lots could serve a socially useful function and have their aesthetic quality improved by being utilized as the base for low cost housing.

Bullard envisions adapting ancient European style housing developments to modern American needs by constructing two or more stories of low cost housing in the air space over existing parking areas.

It's not a new idea, as he's the first to admit. But believing in action as well as ideas, he's followed up on his thoughts by conducting a one-man campaign to convince major Tiburon Peninsula property owners that such a development can be to their advantage.

Bullard first became aware of the county's needs for low cost housing for the elderly and others with low incomes at a conference on housing needs held recently at Dominican College.

After a few days of thinking, he kicked off his campaign by writing to Fred G. Zelinsky of Tiburon and the Allen family of Belvedere, who, Bullard claims, own among them 95 per cent of the business areas of the Tiburon peninsula.

In the letters, Bullard pointed out the government is searching for low cost housing sites. "It regards providers of such sites (as) public benefactors," he said. Furhter, he noted, "you would be provided with lowest cost financing, tax shelters, and rebates, plus . . . unanticipated income from areas now productive during only one-half a 24 hour day."

Pointing out similar air space developments over shopping areas in Paris, London and Amsterdam as well as the old French Market section of New Orleans, Bullard told developers that low cost modular (prefabricated) apartments could be constructed on girders over the blacktopped Safeway, Boardwalk and Main Street parking areas.

Further, he said, 10 to 20 per cent of the normal land costs for residential income property would be saved since the land already is owned and being utilized by the developers.

Semi-retired, Bullard and his wife have lived for the past two years in Tiburon's Hilarita housing, the county's low cost housing project, which is scheduled to be torn down in 1971.

Most of Hilarita's residents, he said, work on the Peninsula and will need new housing if they are to remain in the area after Hilarita is torn down.

The Tiburon City Council has gone on record in favor of low and moderate priced housing being constructed on the Hilarita property, but Bullard thinks the city's position is not feasible.

"This land is some of the best land on the peninsula," he said yesterday pointing out a magnificent view of Tiburon, Belevedere and San Francisco. "It's just too expensive, potentially, for low cost housing."

But the development of parking lot air rights will not threaten residential values, he argued, and such a development is a much more economically efficient use of the property.

Bullard said the county and city officials he has approached are enthusiastic about his idea. However, they've had similar ideas for a long time, he said. "What we need now is leverage of public opinion to entice the property owners into considering the plan seriously."

So far, he hasn't heard a thing from Zelinsky or the Allens, but he's not discouraged. "It's only been a week," he said, "and I know that this idea really is going to take off. After all, it's a good one. How can it miss?"

Children's Fares Lowered On Tiburon Ferryboat Runs

Fares for children 12 and under on the Tiburon ferry were cut to 25 cents today by Golden Gate Bridge District directors.

"Babes in arms," a phrase that aroused some levity among the directors, are free under the new fare structure.

The one-way fare for adults remainde the same, 75 cents.

Marin Supervisor Michael Wornum suggested a 10-cent fare for children, but other directors said a 25 cent fare would be easier to handle because adults pay thier fares with quarters.

The bridge district resumed ferry service on the Tiburon - San Francisco run on Nov. 10.

Gen. mgr. Dale W. Luehring reported that an average of 826 one-way passengers are being carried daily in a schedule of seven round trips with one vessel.

Blocked Leaper Flees Hospital

A 21-year-old Jacksonville, Fla., woman was taken off Golden Gate Bridge yesterday after perching on the outer side of the railing for at least an hour and half, then later escaped from San Francisco General Hospital where she was committed for observation, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

The patrol said Gloria Jean Bradley, who works in San Francisco, was taken from the bridge at 8:47 p.m. after a struggle with a bridge employee.

She later left the hospital through an open restroom window, the patrol said. The woman, according to the patrol, said she had tried to take her life with pills at least 20 times before the would try again.

Car Rams Into Parked Auto; Man Injured

A 26-year old San Rafael man was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a concussion suffered when his car left a turn on Bayview Street slammed into a parked car, according to San Rafael police.

The man, Donald Jackson Tucker of 214 Bayview Street, was driving at a high rate of speed at 8:45 p.m., according to police, when his car hit a vehicle owned by David L. Worley of 11B Taylor Street.

Non-Graded Program Discussed

The Fairfax School District's citizen committee studying goals and objectives dug into a variety of topics last night in the second of a series of discussion sessions.

The committee discussed the pros and cons of allowing children to progress at their own speed in a non-graded program, according to Jane Durr, a member of the district board.

A teacher, who favored the non graded idea, worried about funds for adequate help and materials, Mrs. Durr said.

Also discussed was the kind of world children will be living in and whether schools should provide instruction in leisure time activities.

The need to relate subjects to one another; methods of making history relevant; the importance of including ecology and related subjects in the curriculum, and the San Anselmo School District's goals plan, were also discussed.

No action was taken on any of the items. Each member of the committee will write his own view on goals and objectives in time for the next meeting at 8 p.m. Dec. 11 at White Hill School.

Novato Hits Car License Shutdown

Because not quite 6,000 people bought their auto licenses last year in the branch office at Crocker-Citizens Bank in Novato, that office will be closed this year, and the Novato Chamber of Commerce board is protesting.

At the board meeting last night it voted to ask the Department of Motor Vehicles to keep the Novato office open.

Since 1961 the DMV has kept a clerk at the bank. The department requires minimum of 6,000 license sales for an office and last year only 5,850 were sold in Novato, according to chamber secretary Billie Garl.

If the office is closed, residents of Novato must either write to Sacramento or go to Corte Madera or Petaluma to get their car licenses.

Peter J. Ferrarese, manager of the Novato branch of Crocker-Citizens Bank, said one reason for the smaller number last year was that the DMV did not open its office in the bank until Jan. 15. The bank was notified only last Friday of the closing he said.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board also:

CHRISTMAS — Voted $800 and asked for donations to erect the Nativity scene at the northeast corner of Highway 101 and Vallejo Avenue, erect a lighted tree there and place two "Noel" signs in the median strip of Highway 101, one at Vallejo Avenue and one near De Long Avenue.

MEMBERS — Heard a report that new members signed up during the recent membership drive, bringing the total to 265.

OFFICE — Authorized Theodore R. Schuman, chairman of the office site committee, to negotiate with G' Tec cable television for subleasing its office at 947 Front Street. G' Tec is planning on moving into new offices on Grant Avenue.

BIRTHDAY — Named Phillip Coady chairman of the birthday party committee. The party is scheduled for Jan. 17 at the Moose lodge to celebrate the 10th anniversay of the city.

AWARD — Approved a plan of making an annual award for the best renovated building, or new building added to the business district each year. Final details will be worked out later.

Sonoma, Marin Repairs Funded

Projects on Marin and Southern Sonoma highways were among those approved today by the California Highway Commission in a meeting at the Civic Center.

One-inch asphaltic concrete blankets will be installed next spring on portions of Shoreline Highway between Highway 101 and the Sonoma County line; on Shoreline Highway in Sonoma, from the Marin County line to a mile south of Fort Ross, and on Route 37 between the Petaluma Creek Bridge and Lakeville Road.

The commission also approved the installation of changeable message signs at the truck weighing stations for north and southbound traffic on Highway 101, south of the Miller Creek interchange.

The commission allocated $47,000 for the project.

Court Beside Victim's Bed Binds Gun Case Defendant

Walter Lee Hale, 51, accused of shooting Petaluma Officer Vilho Ahola, was bound over to Sonoma County Superior Court today after a preliminary hearing at the officer's hospital bedside.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon said Hale was ordered held on charges of assault with intent to commit murder and assault on a peace officer after Ahola identified him as his assailant.

Hale was scheduled to appear before Superior Court Judge Lincoln F. Mahon at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Judge McMahon said Ahola testified that he had accompanied Mrs. Helen Hale, the estranged wife, to the Hale home at 718 I Street on Nov. 7 to assist her in removing personal items from the home.

Ahola said he spoke with Hale in the living room and then assisted Mrs. Hale in loading some boxes into a pickup truck.

After completing the loading, Ahola said, he re-entered the living room, where Hale was sitting in a chair. The officer said he saw no weapon but did notice a box of ammunition.

"Put up your hands, Officer," Ahola recalled Hale saying. The officer said Hale pointed a .25-caliber automatic at him and that he raised his arms slightly.

As Hale motioned for him to drop his gun, Ahola said he grabbed at the man and in the struggle the gun discharged, hitting Ahola in the neck.

"I was out of balance — all out of control," Ahola said. After falling to the floor, Ahola said he could hear Hale making a telephone call and saying, "There's been an officer shot." He said Hale was impatient at the slow response of an ambulance and made a second telephone call for help.

"I didn't have anything in for you," Ahola remembered Hale saying. "You done me in," Ahola said he responded.

Ahola said that Hale picked up his discarded .38 caliber service revolver and remembers Hale being disarmed by Sgt. William Reed.

Judge McMahon recessed the two-hour hearing three times so that Ahola could rest.

Ahola underwent surgery to remove a bullet lodged next to the spinal cord. Total paralysis was feared at first, but Police Chief Larry D. Higgins said that some movement has returned to the officer's arms and that today he began having feeling in his toes.

The Cotati City Council said last night that cars parked by commuters on old Reswood Highway near the post office were causing traffic problems and voted to ban parking on the west side of the building.

HELPFUL MEDIC IS FROM MARIN

Agents Seize $4 Million In Bogus Bills

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Secret Service agents reported today seizure of more than $4 million in counterfeit $20 bills and said five men have been arrested.

A cache of nearly $2.5 million was found stuffed in a fir tree thicket along a logging road 40 miles east of Porterville, in the San Joaquin Valley, said Stephen A. Byrne, agent in charge of this region.

All the men arrested are from Porterville, Byrne said.

He said the haul was the largest in western U.S. history.

The Wednesday night arrest of Printer William E. Waits, 44, and the re-arrest yesterday of Harold C. Reeves, 35, netted agents said Byrne some $1.7 million in bogus bills found in paper sacks.

Byrne said Reeves then led agents to the logging road cache early this morning.

Also found with the phony money was a partly destroyed printing plate.

Byrne said the notes were "pretty good bills" and said, "That really would have hurt merchants if they had gotten in circulation."

Byrne said the other three men were arrested in San Jose Sunday and booked for investigation of attempting to pass bogus $20 bills at a drive-in restaurant. San Jose police said federal agents said they found about $10,000 in counterfeit bills in a shoebox during the Sunday arrests.

The three were identified as Robert R. Delk, 27; Robert R. Phillips, 38, and David Marshall, 21.

Reeves was first arrested Wednesday and arraigned on charges of forgery and possessing material used in manufacture of money, Byrne said.

Waits will be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner in Fresno, the agent added.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Matutinophiles awaken with the birds and finish most of their work in the morning. Matutionophobes are just the opposite, they cannot get going until noon.

Most of us fall into one of these broad categories and the phenomenon is best observed among college and professional students.

Fifty years ago, Sir William Osler was well aware of these differences. It explained when the students did their best work.

IN OSLER'S CELEBRATED address "The Student Life," he told about the "student lark." This individual loves to see the sun rise, comes to breakfast with a face full of cheer, and is never so fit as he is at 6 a.m.

In contrast was the "student owl" (matutionophobe) with his sullen morning countenance, thoroughly unhappy, and muttering that the breakfast bell cheated him of the best two hours of the night. He has no appetite and is permeated with unspeakable hostility against his matutinophile counterparts who are talkative and in good humor.

Dr. Osler believed that body temperature played a role and that as the day wore on, the reading increased and the student owl became tolerable to himself and to others.

In time the worm turns; the matutinophobe, who is worthless in the morning hours, is wide awake by 10 p.m., while the blithe lark is nodding over his books and falling asleep. His owl friend is bright and ready for hours of anything you wish. If he is not studying he may play cards, discuss politics, or watch television until 2 a.m.

THESE TWO TYPES of students differ constitutionally, and their habits cannot be regarded as virtues or faults. We do not know whether man acquires his timing system through heredity, experience, or necessity. Psychiatrists have noted that some of their patients are depressed in the morning whereas others are cheerful. This may be part of the same mechanism.

WRITERS ALSO do their best work at certain times of the day — or night. Osler asked a well-known author what time he found best for work and was told: "Not in the eevening and never between meals."

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

VANITY AND VEINS

Miss B. writes: Should ugly looking veins be removed if they are not causing trouble?

REPLY

This depends upon how vain you are. Varicosed veins do not function properly and are potentially hazardous even if they are not bothersome at this time. Varicostities may interfere with healing of a wound in the lower leg, or lead to complications should abdominal surgery be needed. A vein big enough to look ugly is large enough to be removed.

SCALP DISORDER

S. B. D. writes: Will decreasing fats in the diet help seborrheic dermatitis of the scalp?

RELPY

Yes. Seborrhea of the scalp is comparable to acne of the face. The oil glands are over-active, and although fatty foods are not causative, they aggravate both conditions. There are several good dandruff remedies such as Selsun, Fostex cream, Pragmatar, and pHiso Dan.

PAIN AFTER REPAIR

A reader writes: Please mention what causes pain in the area of hernia surgery. The operation was done seven years ago. The sufferer is an elderly woman. At times, the involved area is swollen.

RELPY

The hernia may have recurred.

20/20 VISION

Mrs. A. B. writes: After an eye doctor examines one's eyes and prescribes glasses, will wearing the prescription lenses give the patient 20/20 vision?

REPLY

This is what the ophthalmologist attempts to do provided the eye condition can be corrected completely with glasses. Many people have impaired vision that cannot be restored to 20/20, under any circumstances.

Today's Health Hint — Skin rashes should not be neglected.

Self-Styled Zodiac Killed By Policeman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A policeman early today shot and killed a man who claimed he was the killer Zodiac and was threatening to stab his own daughter to death.

Several hours later, Captain of Inspectors Charles Barca said "there is no connection whatsoever" between the slain man and Zodiac.

"Through his physical description and his fingerprints he's a loser. He's been arrested quite a few times for narcotics violations so we had prints on him," Barca said.

Just before he was shot. Sgt. Eugene O. Knight said the victim, David O. Martin, 30, shouted: "The Zodiac, that's me!"

Martin used his knife to cut the hair of his daughter Kim, 11, and already had nicked her throat when he was shot by patrolman Thomas Burns, officers said.

Martin's wife, Geraldine, had fled the house with her son, Fran, 9. She said her husband was under the influence of drugs when he began threatening their daughter.

Police, responding to her alarm, were trying unsuccessfully to get the girl away from the father. Burns fired only because her life was in danger, Macia said.

Burns' shot struck the man in the shoulder and it coursed through his body. As he died, he said, "I'm through, officer, thank you."

Zodiac, still believed at large, has admitted via letters to newspapers the fatal shooting of two men and two women, and of stabbing a woman to death. Two young men survived, one from a gun attack and one from a knife attack.

In his letters, he says the persons he kills will become his slaves in his next life.

Santa Barbara Fish-In Blocks Oil Tower Site

They claim right-of-way over any vessels attempting to enter the area.

Nobody reported catching anything.

On the deck of the motorboat was a long-haired denim- clad youth waving a protest banner. It circled the other two boats.

Harold Beveridge, 55, skipper of the sailboat and vice president of a citizens committee to Get Oil Out (GOO), held a fishing pole with a line dangling over the stern. He said, "We'll stay a darned long time."

The boats sat in a half-mile square glistening oil slick, the result of oil well seapage in the channel.

The boats carried a total of about a dozen persons and stood between the platform and the site about a thousand feet away from where the Sun Oil Co. prepared to erect it on channel land leased from the government.

There were indications the company might try to obtain an injunction against the fish-in.

The area is six miles offshore and a half a mile east of where a well under a similiar platform operated by Union Oil Co. blew out last Jan. 28, blackening 800 square miles of sea and 40 miles of beach.

Fearful the new platform and its wells would increase chances for a similar blowout, the 750-member committee to Get Oil Out began the fish-in yesterday.

Alvin C. Weingand, chairman of GOO, said his organization would occupy the installation site until "there is a ruling by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas on whether he'll call a halt to all operations."

If Douglas' ruling is negative, "then we'll stay there until officially ordered to leave," Weingand said.

Lipman Seated On Planner Panel

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Former Petaluma City Councilman Robert A. Lipman took a seat last night on the Sonoma County Planning Commission.

Under a revision plan by the board of supervisors, the planning commission was enlarged from seven to 10 members with each of the five supervisorial districts having two representatives. The commissioners will rotate monthly in serving on the planning commission and board of zoning adjustments.

Lipman, whose appointment will become official on Dec. 1, joins William E. Monogue as the Petaluma representatives.

Air Force Getting F111 Back In Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — All of the Air Force's swing wing F111 aircraft are expected to return to normal flying operations by December, the Pentagon said today.

F111 flights were temporarily suspended a week ago after two planes turned up with a faulty heat duct which could have caused accidents.

The Air Force said it is in the process of inspecting, and repairing as necessary, 210 of the planes. A few already have been put back into service.

Marin City X-Rays Hint At TB Cases

Four of the 92 chest X-rays taken in Marin City by a mobile unit October 16 have been declared "suspicious" and will be followed by diagnostic tests to make sure tuberculosis is not present, the Marin Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association reported today.

Reports of satisfactory findings were mailed yesterday by the association.

Mexican Aides Killed In Payroll Pobbery

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A Finance Ministry paymaster and his secretary were fatally shot and robbed of a $15,000 payroll early today while driving from Naucalpan de Juarez, a small town near Mexico City, to Toluca, 50 miles west of the capital, police said.

The victims were Federico Zubieta Yoldy, 74, and Elsa Margarita Millan Carrillo, 26, who were delivering the payroll to the ministry's printing shop at Toluca. Police said they were looking for Luis Muniz Rivas, 42, who had been the paymaster, and his secretary.

Tools Are Stolen

Tools valued at $150 were stolen yesterday from a truck owned by Roland A. MacCudbin of 314 Las Flores Avenue, Rafael Meadows, while the vehicle was parked at Terra Linda High School, San Rafael police reported.

Troppmann Resigns Redwood Football Coaching Job

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Explaining that changing times have made it more difficult to coach his basic philosophies by his own personality, Robert J. "Bob" Troppmann yesterday resigned as head football coach at Redwood High School, a post he has held since the school's inception in 1958.

The 46-year-old dean of Marin County grid mentors said he would remain at Redwood as chairman of the physical education department.

Principal Donald Kreps immediately recommended the appointment of assistant coach Al Endriss to succeed Troppmann, pending approval of the Tamalpais High School District board.

Endriss, 39, Troppmann's assistant since 1958, also is the head baseball coach but will relinquish that position after the 1970 season to devote his full coaching time to football. He said he was "very happy" with his new assignment.

Elaborating on his reason for giving up football after 15 years as a head coach in Marin, including four seasons at Drake High, Troppmann said: "Each coach must coach by his own personality and this is getting tougher and tougher to do. The world is changing. There are too many people trying to break down the good of athletics.

"Our profession as a whole is losing from within. We don't even agree on our basic philosophies anymore. And the outsiders are attacking us one by one.

"I imagine there will always be athletics, but not as our generation has known them. The kids are thinking differently, the coaches are thinking differently and most are compromising with the times. I, for one, have liked what I've seen and I want to remember it that way, so I'm going to get away from it for a while and take a long look at what is happening."

He said he has been contemplating quitting football "for the past few years, but I had to wait until the team I had this year was finished."

Troppmann, who had three championships at Redwood in 1959-60-62, told his team of his plans last Saturday after the Giants lost to San Marin High, 17-14, in the season finale, giving them a 5-4 won-lost record.

Troppmann recently was center of a heated controversy over an athletic grooming policy at Redwood. When District Supt. Robert D. Torrey suspended grooming rules for athletes pending a study of them, Troppmann announced his resignation as director of athletics.

The board since has worked out a new policy in which the athletic department must define appropriate rules and regulations, each of which must clearly relate to a valid educational, performance, health or safety reason.

The Redwood athletic department has been working on a new policy to be submitted to the board, said Troppmann, adding: "I will resume my position as athletic director when our problem is resolved."

As a head coach in Marin, Troppmann compiled a 76-53-10 won-lost-tied record, including 16-17-3 at Drake from 1954-57 and 60-41-7 at Redwood. In addition to the three Marin County Athletic League titles, his teams won the Tam District champion-

An Empty Hat Marks Farewell

It was a raunchy, crummy, battered up old pork-pie job.

I'd seen the lid before. More than 100 times, atop Bob Troppmann's balding hat rack on the sidelines at local football games. It was his trademark and its flight through the door meant that Tropp was hanging it up as a football coach.

"I really think the well has run dry," the ex-Marine lieutenant said before elaborating on his resignation, reported elsewhere on this page.

It was a sad announcement because Tropp was the dean of the local coaches with 15 years — 144 hat-battering games — on Marin sidelines, following eight years as an assistant coach at San Francisco State College and Richmond High.

"I might even see a leaf fall from a tree — something I haven't seen in many years." Troppmann the sentimentalist. He coached with his heart and it was slowly breaking.

One Of Best Known Coaches

His long list of football credits has made him one of the country's best known and most respected high school coaches. He has published 16 articles on the sport in the Athletic Journal, one booklet on championship drills, one book, "Master Defensive Guide," and is under contract with the Parker Publishing Co. to write a book on drills.

"I'd like to spend more time with my wife if she doesn't object. The family's growing up. Jim was just commissioned as a Marine lieutenant. (Chip off the old block). Joan's in her fifth year at Chico State. Jan is finishing up at College of Marin. Judy is planning to return to school. John's in the eighth grade. I probably am doing him a favor by not coaching him."

Football Is His World

He's a member of just about every coaches' and athletic directors' association in his domain last January was one of six Californians selected to attend a National Athletic Directors Conference in Washington, D.C. has run his own clinic for 16 years, is director of the National Coach of the Year Clinic, is a director, founder or past or present chairman of dozens of organizations, is film analyst for the S.F. 49ers, runs a summer football camp, and, well, let's just say that his world is an oblate spheroid.

"I think my 1956 Drake team was one of my two best — remember, Reg Carolan, Ron Cox and Dick DeBisschop? Highlight of my career had to be 1962 when we lost our practice games, won all the league games and beat Tam on Thanksgiving Day." That was the season Tropp earned the honor of coaching in the California Shrine high school classic in L.A.

"I'd say my 1962 Redwood team was a team of dedication and the 1959 squad with Sam Williams, Curtis Embry, Mike Alessio and Mike Hoffman my most memorable team. I can go on naming names like Steve Minutoli and Dennis Schunk and Joel Wallace and, back to 1954 at Drake . . . Tom Brown, my first quarterback and Bob Franceschini, my first assistant . . ."

Will Stay At Redwood

What next, coach? "I'll stay at Redwood as a physical education teacher and department chairman. Also, I am going to keep my eyes and ears open and will not be opposed to any good suggestions about my future. I have a lot of outside interests like the clinics, the state athletic directors association, the football camp, my book . . .

"I couldn't have asked for a better career. The kids and their parents have been tremendous and the men I've met in the coaching profession have all been great. I've had everything that any coach could have — the ups and the downs, and that's what the game's all about. The trying to win is the most important thing — not winning alone."

I know there are legions of sportsmen who join me in wishing Troppmann well and extend to him a sincere thanks for making sports a little more meaningful in a colorful and dedicated career.

WIDMER, JORDAN

Two San Rafael Scholar-Athletes

Football players are getting bigger these days, but at San Rafael High School, they're still medium-sized, smart and good.

Dan Jordan and Lowell Widmer, two key members of San Rafael High School's football team, were chosen Marin County's 1969 scholar-athletes yesterday, Jordan as lineman and Widmer as a back.

Jordan, an all-Marin County Athletic League guard for coach Bob Muster's Bulldogs this year, cuts straight into the myth that linemen are supposed to be huge and major in basket-weaving.

A STUDENT

A straight-A student this semester on a demanding subject schedule, Jordan has had only four Bs in his high school scholastic career. The rest of his grades have been As. The 165-pound senior made the 1966 National Pop Warner All-American Team of Little Scholars when he was 13 years old as a member of the San Rafael Junior Bulldogs.

He was a straight-A student at Davidson Junior High School. Dan has been a member of the San Rafael High School student congress for the past four years.

Widmer, only 140 pounds, was the core of the San Rafael team this season. Lowell, who captured all-MCAL honors as a safety for two years running, carries a 3.2 (B) grade average.

The scrappy quarterback, who made the Bulldogs' belly offense work to perfection, is following in the scholar-athlete footsteps of older brother Roger, who received the same honor in 1966.

HALL OF FAME

The scholar-athlete award is under the auspices of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. Redwood High School principal Donald Kreps, Novato High School grid coach Al Scott and Independent-Journal sports writer Gary Tischler picked the two Marin County selections out of a list of nominees from Marin County high schools. Choices were made on the basis of athletic ability, scholarship and citizenship.

Widmer and Jordan will join other scholar-athletes from Northern California at the annual National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame scholar-athlete banquet in San Francisco sometime next month. Date has not yet been set.

Pinson Traded To Indians

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I'm not throwing out that old, 'I'm going to retire' threat, and I won't refuse to play baseball because it is my business," Vada Pinson said last night before official announcement of his trade to the Cleveland Indians.

But Pinson, swapped by the St. Louis Cardinals for Jose Cardenal, made it clear that "there are some things I want to find out about, and I will as soon as somebody from either the Indians or Cardinals calls me and tells me what's going on."

AND CASH

Official announcement of the trade, which was reported in newspapers several weeks ago, wasn't made until midnight yesterday when the inter-league trading season opened. The Indians also got an indisclosed sum of cash in the deal.

Pinson wasn't officially informed before the trading deadline, either. "We couldn't," explained Indians vice president Hank Peters. "If the Indians talked to Pinson before the trade could be legally made, we'd be guilty of tampering with another team's player. The rules are very explicit."

'PROBLEMS'

Pinson, who played 10 seasons at Cincinnati before being traded to the Cardinals last year for relief pitcher Wayne Granger and outfielder Bobby Tolan, said, "I've talked to so many guys who have played for (Indians' Manager Alvin) Dark and had problems with him—guys like Tommy Harper, Lee Maye, Leon Wagner, Lou Johnson, and Orlando Cepeda.

"I can't afford those kind of problems with any manager. That's why I have mixed emotions. That's why it's important that I talk to Alvin, and some of the other people, too," Pinson said.

Moscow Makes Sudden Bid For 1976 Olympic Games

MOSCOW (AP) — The Olympic Committee of the Soviet Union announced today the city of Moscow will bid to stage the 1976 Summer Olympics.

The brief announcement carried by the official news agency Tass said the city "has advanced its candidacy for the Summer Olympics of 1976."

This is the first time the Soviet Union has made an offer to stage an Olympics. It has been an Olympic competitor since 1952.

A FIRST

The Soviet Union has been host to various European and world championships in the past but has never undertaken an event approaching the complexity and size of the Olympic Games.

The International Olympic Committee is to decide next year on the site of the 1976 Games. The 1972 Summer Olympics are scheduled to be held in Munich, West Germany.

The Soviet Union was the top medal winner in 1956 and 1960 Summer Olympics held in Melbourne and Rome. It ranked second to the United States in the 1964 and 1968 Games at Tokyo and Mexico City.

LOS ANGELES

Moscow sports sources figure the city faces competition from the other announced candidates for the 1976 Summer Games—Los Angeles, Montreal and Florence.

The official news agency Tass published an account of Moscow's candidacy listing its numerous stadia and sporting facilities. Moscow, it declared, it one of the major sports centers of the world.

Its main sports field is Lenin Stadium seating 101,000. In addition there are two other stadia with tracks and soccer fields seating 53,800 and 45,000 respectively.

SWIMMING

Smaller outdoor facilities are available for less crowded sports, The city also boasts an outdoor swimming stadium seating 12,000 and two indoor Olympic pools with room for 1,500 spectators.

Since 1952 Moscow has been the site for world championships in volleyball, pentathlon, target shooting, gymnastics and fencing. It has also been host to European championship in basketball, canoeing, boxing, three-day equestrian competition and weightlifting.

As for handling large numbers of athletes, the city claims the experience of staging the People's Games of the U.S.S.R., which in 1957 drew 8,287 contestants in 23 sports.

At a press conference Moscow Mayor Vladimir Promyslov said funds for additional facilities needed for the games could easily be found in the city's current construction budget.

Moscow is now chronically short of hotel space, but Promyslov said he saw no problem there. He said seven big hotels are now being built and 15 more are to be built in the near future.

Konstantin Andrianov, chairman of the Soviet Olympic Committee, stated that Moscow's bid had the full support of the committee.

Promyslov read a statement by the City Executive Committee, which announced the bid and declared:

"The ideas of the modern Olympic movement proclaimed in the Olympic charter are close to and understood by the Soviet people.

"We see in the Olympic Games yet another possibility to unite the forces of the people of our planet in the struggle for peace, friendship and mutual understanding."

150 Golf Pros In Nevada Open

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—A field of more than 150 pros swung into action today in the $18,500 Nevada State Open golf tournament, with half the participants playing the Sahara National Course and the others at Paradise Valley.

Cage Commissioner Rules Game A Tie

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association upheld a formal Chicago protest today and ruled an Atlanta-Chicago game at Chicago, Nov. 6, a 124-124 tie instead of an Atlanta victory, 124-122.

Kennedy directed that the game be concluded on Atlanta's next appearance in Chicago, Feb. 8, 1970, prior to the start of the regularly scheduled game between the teams on that date. Only players eligible to play in the Nov. 6 game will be eligible to play in the completion of the game.

Atlanta will have possession of the ball with one second remaining.

The dispute involved the tying field goal by Chicago's Tom Boerwinkle and whether it was made within the time limit. The original ruling was that time had run out. Kennedy said an investigation showed that the goal was made with one second still left to play.

Atlanta was leading 124-122 when Chicago put the ball in play at mid-court. Chicago's Clem Haskins received the inbound pass, took one dribble and attempted a field goal. The attempt was short but Boerwinkle caught the ball and in the same motion scored a field goal.

Trailing official, Bob Rakel, had signalled that the goal would have been good if made by Haskins. But as soon as Boerwinkle made the goal, official timer Jim Seri immediately stopped the clock in accordance with the rules. The clock showed one second to play.

Martin Talking To Pilot Owner

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Billy Martin former Minnesota Twins manager, says he might be interested in the Seattle Pilots managing job — "If I could get a two-year contract and the salaries were right."

Martin, 41, was fired as Minnesota manager last month. He had had a one-year contract with the Twins and guided them to the American League's Western championship.

Martin said he had a phone call Wednesday from Marvin Milkes, the Pilots' general manager, inquiring if he had any interest in the Seattle job.

Martin said he also talked to Bill Daley, 30 per cent owner of the Pilots, and discussed the job with him.

100,000 Fans Expected In Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Since automobiles will not be allowed to park on grassy areas near Michigan Stadium for the Michigan-Ohio State football game tomorrow, a master plan has been adopted for Saturday parking for the 100,000 fans expected for the game.

Normally some 5,000 parking spaces are available on grassy plots and golf courses near the stadium.

Six university-owned parking structures in downtown Ann Arbor, will be available for free use. They are about a mile from the stadium.

Two downtown city-owned structures will be available at regular fees.

Free parking will be provided in a drive-in theatre four miles east of the stadium and fans transported by bus for a $1 fare.

Three parking lots with 1,400 spaces at industries long Plymouth Road, will be available for free parking, with shuttle buses running to the stadium at a 50-cent per person fare.

An Ann Arbor church is making 150 spaces available at a fee.

Police plan to have 100 officers directing traffic, double the regular football Saturday force. In all, 24 university and city buses will run shuttle service to the stadium.

The stadium's artificial turf is dry and will be kept covered until game time.

He had one undefeated season when his 1959 team won all eight games. Another highlight of his career was the 1962 season when his Giants won the MCAL title and he was selected to coach the North team in the annual North-South California high school classic in Los Angeles. His son, Jim, was quarterback in that Shrine-sponsored game after leading Redwood to the title.

'FORTUNATE'

"Payan is as fine a coach as you can find," said Endriss. "I'm fortunate to have him and Phil on my staff."

Endriss, who played one season for the San Francisco 49ers in 1952 following graduation from S.F. State, accepts his new job with enthusiasm and confidence, saying: "We're going to be winners. If I didn't feel that way I wouldn't have accepted the challenge. We'll inject some new ideas and change the coaching philosophy at Redwood; you can say there'll be a new breed of Redwood football. But, I won't change the traditions Bob and I have built there.

DIFFICULT

"It will be fiddicult to take over for Bob. All I know about football coaching I learned from him. He's always made me feel like more than just an assistant coach on the sidelines. I hope I can give my assistants the same feeling of importance."

Endriss came to Redwood from St. Vincent High School in Vallejo in 1958.

BIG GAME TOMORROW

Stanford Is 14-Point Favorite

STANFORD (AP) — Some 80,000 of the faithful are expected to jam Stanford's football stadium tomorrow when California travels down the Peninsula for the 72nd annual Big Game.

Stanford is favored by about 14 points to win its eighth game in the last nine meetings with the Golden Bears, but the history of this season-ending clash for both schools is dotted with upsets.

DISAPPOINTMENT

Though the Indians presently have a 6-2-1 record and can post their best mark since their 1951 Rose Bowl team by beating the Bears, the season still must be counted something of a disappointment by both squads.

Stanford's inability to beat either Southern Cal or UCLA —the Indians tied the Bruins— has kept them out of the Rose Bowl despite its finest team in years.

Cal, now 5-4, was crushed by UCLA, lost to Southern Cal in the final minute and then fell apart against Oregon State in losing all Pacific-8 Conference championship hopes.

The 1:30 game will match the passing of Stanford's Jim Plunkett—who owns most of the season offense records in the Pac-8 and is now going after the career marks—against a California running attack that lacks consistency.

DEFENSE

Cal's defense has also been strong on occasions this year, but injuries have spoiled its overall effectiveness.

"We expect an all-out battle," says Stanford Coach John Ralston, who points out that the underdog has won four of the last six Big Games.

"You have to live with the outcome of this one through the long winter months," says Cal's Ray Willsey.

His star fullback, Gary Fowler, said, "The Big Game is an emotional thing. From the way practice has been going, I feel we'll be ready."

Both teams are in good shape. Cal welcomes back quarterback Steve Curtis, who was No. 1 before breaking his collarbone against UCLA. Dave Penhall will start, however.

WILLIAMS BACK

Stanford gets fullback Howie Williams and starting offensive guard Bob Reinhard back. Both played only slightly last week, though Hillary Shockley took over for Williams and did an excellent job.

The Indians have won seven of the last eight Big Games, but Cal won 10 of 14 before that. Overall, Stanford has won 32, Cal has won 29 and there have been 10 ties.

Big Ten Men Deny Report

DETROIT (AP)—Big Ten athletic directors have strongly denied a Detroit sportscaster's report that Michigan has already been chosen to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl.

"It's not true," said Ohio State University athletic director Richard C. Larkins. "It's impossible."

"This is absolutely fictitious and a fabrication," said Marsh Ryan, athletic director at Minnesota, who added it was "an afront to the integrity of conference athletic directors."

Bob Reynolds, sports director of radio station WJR, said yesterday he had learned the action to chose Michigan over Purdue was "taken the first of the week."

NOT ELIGIBLE

Michigan with a 5-1 Big Ten mark closes its regular season Saturday against undefeated Ohio State, which is not eligible to return to the Rose Bowl this year. Purdue, which has a 4-2 Big Ten record, plays Indiana Saturday.

The Ohio State athletic director said the selection of the Big Ten representative to the bowl would be made at 9 p.m. Saturday in the league office in Chicago.

In his broadcast, Reynolds said his information would receive a strong denial. He declined to disclose his sources.

He said only a "debacle of gigantic proportions" by Michigan Saturday would "make any change at this late date."

Less than a year ago, Reynolds had the first report of Vince Lombardi leaving as general manager of the National Football League's Green Bay Packers to join the Washington Redskins.

CERTAIN

Reynolds said he was as certain of the Michigan report as he was about Lombardi's changeover.

Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed said Big Ten athletic directors met in Chicago Wednesday, but they did not discuss the Rose Bowl game. He said they had been meeting monthly, mostly to discuss financial problems.

J. W. (Bill) Orwig, athletic director at Indiana, termed the report completely untrue. Biggie Munn, athletic director at Michigan State, said it was news to him. Purdue athletic director Guy J. Mackey said "That's silly."

Rosy Showdown For Bruins, Troy

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

As the 100th season of Pacific-8 Conference football comes to a close tomorrow, Southern California and UCLA clash in a showdown for the conference championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

The two unbeaten, once-tied Los Angeles rivals collide in Memorial Coliseum before a national television audience (3 p.m., Channel 7.)

Either a victory or a tie would make it the fourth straight time Southern Cal goes to Pasadena's New Year's Day classic against the winner of the Big Ten Conference championship.

The Trojans would make it on a tie because they were deadlocked with Notre Dame in a non-conference game while the Bruins tied Pac-8 rival Stanford.

This is the weekend of traditional rivalries. Oregon and Oregon State meet at Eugene for the 73rd time. Oregon is 4-4-1, Oregon State is 5-4.

California and Stanford play game No. 72 at Stanford. Washington State, 1-8, and Washington, 0-9, battle in game No. 61 at Seattle which will settle, among other matters, the dubious cellar championship of the league.

UCLA is favored by about two points over the Trojans although the latter has been voted a step ahead of the Bruins all season in the Associated Press weekly poll. USC hols a 21-12-5 series edge over UCLA.

Stanford, 6-2-1, is the general choice to whip California, 5-4, while the feuds in Oregon and Washington figure to be toss-ups.

Golfer Gary Player Defends Apartheid In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Golfer Gary Player defended Apartheidin South Africa, but urged that strict racial segregation be softened to let American tennis star Arthur Ashe compete in open tournaments here.

"The government of South Africa, rightly or wrongly, has decided on a policy of separate development. This is the law and whether one is white, black, brown or brindle, one has to obey it," he said in a statement today.

Player called for time and understanding to let South Africa implement Apartheid which he said was "intended for the betterment of all races."

Player's comments were in reply to an overseas organization called Halt All Racial Tours (HART). Eight members of New Zealand recently, but the golfer said he would only answer written questions on his own time.

The government once indicated that Ashe would be permitted to play in South Africa on a U.S. Davis Cup team, but not as an individual competitor. However, recent harsh comments about Apartheid by Ashe may have convinced officials that he should not get a visa under any circumstances.

Stanford Vs. Cal; Oldest Grid Rivalry

Before the turn of the century University of California and Stanford began a football rivalry. That was in 1892. It was the first Big Game and was played in San Francisco. Stanford won 14-10.

Tomorrow in Stanford Stadium the Big Game will be played for the 72nd time. It is the oldest football rivalry in the western United States.

DURING WORLD War I years of 1915-16-17 and World War II years of 1943-44-45 no Big Games were played. In 1918 California won an unofficial SATC game 67-0. It still is considered unofficial because only members of the Student Army Training Corps were allowed to compete.

Best remembered fact about the first Big Game 77 years ago is that neither team remembered to bring a ball and the game was delayed an hour.

Disaster struck the Big Game of 1900 when many spectators who climbed the roof of a nearby glassworks to watch were killed or injured when the roof collapsed.

THE 1902 Big Game was called the "Remember Smith" contest. Locomotive Smith was the star of the California team that year but he was declared ineligible on a technicality. His substitute, Bobby Sherman, return a punt 105 yards, still a Big Game record, as Cal won 16-0.

But the 1947 Big Game was a thriller, too. The Bears were behind 14-18 with three minutes left. An 80-yard Jackie Jensen-Paul Keckley pass play made Cal a 21-18 winner.

THAT YEAR of 1947 was Pappy Waldorf's first as Cal coach. Under Waldorf Cal achieved its greatest Big Game success. The Bears lost only one Big Game during the 10 years he was their coach. Waldorf retired in 1956 with the best Big Game record of any coach, 7-1-2.

In the past decade Cal won only three of 10 Big Games, one of them 20-17 in 1959 despite a spectacular performance by Dick Norman. In the 1959 game the Stanford quarterback completed 34 of 39 passes for 401 yards.

STANFORD leads 32-29-10 in the Big Game series and is favored to retain possession of the Big Game Axe next Saturday.

The coveted Big Game trophy made its first appearance in 1899 at a Cal-Stanford baseball game. Stanford students that year flashed the axe, a 10-pound, 15-inch lumberman's blade painted red, as they gave their famous Axe yell.

A group of Cal students stole the axe and put it in a Berkeley bank vault. It was brought out only at the annual Big Game rally and carried around in an armored car.

AFTER THREE decades of unsuccessful raids, Stanford students finally recaptured the axe in 1930. Three years later an agreement was signed making it the official Big Game trophy.

The axe has been stolen three times since, once in '46 from Stanford, in '48 and '53 from Berkeley, but each time recovered before the Big Game.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG

If you are rushing the foul line and have trouble slowing down, move a few inches closer to the line before starting your approach (see illustration). This will force you to be cautious, for fear of fouling, and you'll go up slower. As you get accustomed to the proper rhythm, you can gradually move back to your nor-

Cowboys Have End Problem

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mike Ditka, the starting tight end of the Dallas Cowboys, is listed as "questionable" for the key National Football League game with the Los Angeles Rams Sunday, a club spokesman said yesterday.

The spokesman said Ditka suffered a pull in the calf of his left leg.

If Ditka cannot play, Dallas will be maneuvering to find a replacement. Pettis Norman, the other tight end, has two broken bones in a hand and is on the inactive list.

The spokesman said Norman could be recalled from inactive status, or Bobby Joe Conrad, the veteran acquired from St. Louis, could play tight end although listed as a flanker.

Thurmond Ready For Two More Seven-Footers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After outplaying Lew Alcindor, San Francisco's Nate Thurmond is ready for two more seven-footers—Henry Finkel of the Boston Celtics tonight and Mel Counts and his Los Angeles Lakers tomorrow night. Both 8 o'clock games are in the Cow Palace.

Thurmond, whose primary rebounding competition in the past has come from Boston's Bill Russell and Los Angeles' Wilt Chamberlain, held Alcindor to 21 points and five rebounds as the Warriors beat Milwaukee 127-110 Tuesday night.

Thurmond helped the Warriors snap a six-game losing streak with 26 points and 13 rebounds.

Boston won the National Basketball Association playoffs last year but its fortunes plummeted with the retirement of Russell. Now, the Celtics are struggling to move out of the Eastern Division cellar.

Los Angeles, meanwhile, has dropped to the middle of the Western Division after an injury to Chamberlain, who is expected to be out for several months.

Marin Lifter Holder Of Two National Marks

Farnkopf lifted 255 pounds in clean-and-jerk and totaled 600 pounds Nov. 9 in an AAU Junior Olympics meet and won the outstanding lifter trophy in his division.

Jockey Keeps Promise To Church After Win

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — While riding at Garden State Park last year jockey Mike Micelli promised Mons. John Goan of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church in Berlin, N.J., he would make a nice donation to the church if he ever won a $100,000 race.

Last March Micelli won the Gulfstream Park Handicap with C. V. Whitney's Court Recess. This spring he kept his promise by presenting the church with a six foot statue of Our Blessed Mother.

The domestic car sizes have 3 carcass belts and 6 tread stabilizing belts. This means 9 FULL plies on the ground.

That, folks, is a lot of beef on the road, giving fantastic tread stability and consequently some great mileage, plus think of the safety you have against punctures and breaks. Not at all like the flimsy 2 plus 2 glass belted tires...

Rules On Pheasants; Fishermen Need Rain

With pheasant season opening tomorrow, I felt we had better review some rules. Here are the regulations pertaining to pheasants:

Season and Area: From Saturday, through Jan. 1, in Imperial County and a portion of Riverside County. (Consult the hunting regulations for boundary lines.) From Saturday through Dec. 7 in the balance of the state.

Bag and possession limit: Two pheasants of either sex per day, 10 pheasants of either sex per season in the counties of San Luis Obispo, Inyo, Imperial, Mono, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego and Riverside. In the balance of the state only male pheasant may be taken — two per day on Nov. 22 and 23, four per day Nov. 24 through Dec. 7 — total 10 males per season.

Shooting hours on pheasants are from 8 a.m. until sunset.

I RECEIVED a note from Steve White of 48 Buena Vista, Novato. He teaches hunter safety and is an instructor of the Marin Rifle and Pistol Club. Anyone who would like to shoot a .22 caliber rifle indoors, four positions at 50 feet, is welcome to join the ranks of the group.

Also a new hunter safety course is being started on Monday at 7 p.m. at the San Rafael Police Pistol Range. The requirement for hunters under 18 years of age is that they take a California approved hunter safety training course, or present a hunting license from a prior year before getting a new license.

I know of no hunting accidents in Marin County this past year. The hunter safety instructors who donate their time to teach these courses to our kids certainly deserve a big hand from us. And if you have any children — boys or girls — who are shooting minded, get them down to the range next Monday evening.

I TOOK MY weekly bass trip a few days ago out to the pumphouse area of San Pablo Bay. Sam Knoles of San Anselmo and Andy Bronanski of Woodacre came along. We had a good outgoing tide starting about 9 a.m., so I figured we would "murder" the fish.

As we dropped anchor, a big sturgeon jumped just off the bow! We used shrimp and bullheads. Here's the catch for the day: one 22-pound bass, one seven-pound bass, two leopard sharks, three bullheads, six flounders (large ones) and one crab (undersized).

Sam caught both bass, with the 22-pounder taking him 25 minutes to land. He used his new fly rod, and you never saw a happier guy. (I'm waiting for the day when a big sturgeon takes his bait because he kept saying, "Boy, I got a big sturgeon on!" and it was just a little old 22-pound striper.)

We need a little more rain to move the trash fish out. They were sure pesty out there, but it will be time to go any day now.

IN THE TOMALES Bay area near Inverness, there have been a few good days trolling for silver salmon with fish up to 12 pounds being taken. One day last week 12 fish were brought into the Golden Hinde Boatel. Most of the fish were taken on flatfish, spinners and flies.

Lefty Arnt of Point Reyes Station still holds the lead in the Inverness striped bass derby with a 15½-pounder, taken on a bullhead. Norm Quadros of Mill Valley and Frank Sue of Corte Madera and I plan to take a trip and lower the boom on Lefty's fish. We shall see!

Boy, it's pretty cold night-fishing in Tomales. If you try it, wear two sets of winter underwear, and handwarmers with a coleman lantern to see by. If it's windy or too foggy, stay home because you will end up lost. It's a great life if you don't weaken.

Raiders Work On Defense

The emphasis, as usual, was on the passing arm of Daryle Lamonica, who leads the loop in touchdown throws with 27.

Kansas City owns the league's strongest defense, tops in 19 categories.

The game will be played in Kansas City.

MARIN PREP NOTES

Fall Sports Season Truly 'Different'

By GARY TISCHLER

The long, somewhat amazing Marin County fall sports season is over. Put it away and say it was truly different. Not spectacular, although it had some spectacle. Not stupendous. Just different.

If you look it up in the statistics, the scores and the final records, not all that much happened. The whole three months, in fact, were almost placid in terms of concrete, single happenings.

For instance, it was the kind of year in which Redwood won the cross-country title, a single fact which surprised nobody.

But the very presence of several long-haired runners on the team embroiled the entire Tamalpais School District into an emotional debate about hair, authority, discipline, and the athletic way of life and probably made Redwood Coach Bob Troppmann endure one of his more agonizing autumns. There was more than just hair involved in the dispute, which appears to have mellowed, but it is one way of showing that this fall's end results were not as simple as they looked.

And there was the football season, a season of changes, and new things.

This was the season in which Drake, which had come up with title contenders almost out of habit, reeled through one of its worst seasons. A combination of a youthful line that never quite matured in injuries that you wouldn't wish on your worst enemy did the Pirates in as Bob Sutherland, the league's leading rusher last year, field goal kicker and back John Loane, and top receiver Jim Dominguez were lost to the team for various reasons.

This was the year that San Marin, making its varsity debut, was supposed to come up against the facts of life. But the Mustangs surprised everybody by finishing with a 6-2 record and a 4-2 league record good for a tie for second place. They seemed to do it with mirrors, but it was mostly with an unexceptional offense and a very fine defense.

If there were two things that set the tone of the season and made it unusual, they were kickers and kids. The league seemed to ave been infiltrated by a sudden rash of field goal kickers, and eventually, three games were decided by field goals. The best of the lot were Bob Daniele of Terra Linda, who kicked three, Mike Howard of San Rafael and Urbano Bouscieguez of San Marin, in addition to John Loane of Drake prior to his injury.

Without taking anything away from great jobs by Dewey Forry, Bob Daniele and Tom Jackson of Terra Linda, Mike Farley and Tom Wickert of Drake, Dave Perron of Novato, Mark Silverman of Drake and a fine bunch of seniors this was still the season in which everyone walked around talking in terms of the next few years.

There haven't been so many talented juniors and sophomores in years. Almost the entire Tamalpais team, which showed flashes of brilliance, returns next year with an all-star cast headed by marvelous juniors Mark Costello and Billy Washington and sophomore Clifford Hall, who tied for the season pass receiving honors and was runnerup in scoring. He could be a great one.

Terra Linda has all-league tackle Bruce Little coming back, along with bulky fullback John Scozzofava. Both Pat Locey of Tamalpais and Marti Moroski of Novato look to be promising quarterbacks. And one of the top lineman around is Novato's sophomore tackle Russ Weklych. Drake has fine people coming back in running back Ron Biddle, tackle Jeff Allen and end Jim Dominguez.

San Rafael has Howard back, and what may be one of the brightest prospects in the league, halfback Scott Duncan, who in his first year of varsity competition, rushed for over 800 yards on the season, took the league rushing title and amassed 210 yards against Terra Linda.

So, as they say down in Kezar Stadium between beers, wait till bext year.

BILL FIRPO, Washington (S.F.) High School baseball coach, has berths available in the Golden Gate Invitaitonal tournament March 24 through 28 at Big Rec field. Interested high school baseball coaches can reach Firpo at school during the day.

Want To Live Better? Get On Public Payroll

If you want to get into the upper pay brackets in Marin County, get on the public payroll.

That seems to be the message from a recent series of actions by public bodies in the county.

A COUPLE OF WEEKS back, Marin Junior College District trustees hired a new superintendent-president to take over in January at $35,000 a year. According to figures prepared by the California Teachers Association, only two junior college superintendent-presidents received salaries above that figure for the last fiscal year. Mount San Antonio Junior College District paid $39,960, and San Joaquin Delta paid $35,500.

In 1965, Marin Junior College District raised Stephen E. Epler, who then held the job, from $19,000 to $21,546. Thus, the salary for the job has gone up 84.2 per cent in five years.

There were some anguished screams from taxpayers about the junior college district's generosity.

BUT THEN ALONG CAME the county board of supervisors this week with a series of raises that make the inflation in the junior college president's salary appear right in line.

The supervisors boosted the pay of the county assessor from $22,000 to $25,200 as of Jan. 1; the sheriff, from $21,000 to $24,000; the treasurer, from $19,500 to $22,725; the clerk, from $19,500 to $22,725; the recorder, from $15,000 to $19,350.

In 1965, the county assessor was drawing $14,700, so his pay has risen 89.1 per cent in five years. The sheriff was getting $14,700, so his stipend has gone up 79.5 per cent. The treasurer also drew $14,700, so his has risen 67.3 per cent. The clerk got $16,200, so his salary has been hiked 52 per cent. The recorder was paid $12,300, so his raises total 81.3 per cent in five years.

THE ROUND of salary raises for top county officials actually began last June, when the board raised the pay of the county counsel to $28,000 (he drew $17,600 back in 1965). At that time, Supervisor Louis H. Baar warned his fellow board members this was starting a trend. He was so right!

The new pay put the counsel above the county administrator — a situation naturally not to the liking of that official, who is the No. 1 man in county government. So he was given a piddling $110 a year raise, to $28,010, to put him back on top. Percentagewise, he has not done so well as some of the others in the last five years. He was getting $21,000 in 1965.

The legislature, which sets salaries for district attorney and auditor, kept the ball rolling uphill by giving Marin's district attorney a raise from $24,000 to $28,000 (he drew only $16,650 in 1965) and the auditor-controller from $19,000 to $23,020 (he got $16,200 in 1965).

IN THE SAME PERIOD that salaries for these top-level public jobs in Marin County have been increased by up to 89.1 per cent (since August, 1965), the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumer price index has risen by 18 per cent.

If you want to be able to buy more, even though prices are rising, get on the public payroll in Marin.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Teachers' Tax Initiative Serves Legislature With Ultimatum

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMANTO (CNS) — Any failure of the state legislature to enact a tax reform program next year is going to result in the people taking the matter into their own hands, which they may do anyhow.

The California Teachers Association and the California County Supervisors Association have teamed up to seek more than 600,000 signatures to qualify an initiative placing school costs on a 50-50 basis between the state and local government, and requiring the state to assume 90 per cent of welfare costs.

Under the initiative, homeowners property tax exemptions would be increased from $750 to $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Cost to the state's general fund, should this measure be voted into the constitution, would amount to approximately $898 million the first year of operation. This sum would increase annually.

THE IMPLICATIONS of the proposed amendment cover a lot of territory. In the first place, were it adopted, it would be up to the legislature to adopt laws providing for replacement of the revenue in the general fund for the schools, welfare, and replacement of exemption losses.

In effect, the proposed amendment would be a forcing issue on tax reform, voted by the people. It woulld be an issue signifying that the citizens of the state are not going to tolerate any more dallying on the part of the legislative body. Also that the people want a different system of taxation, and they want it now.

THE LEGISLATURE will have to increase taxes other than property taxes in the event CTA is successful.

In fact, in some counties taxes on property have been increased some 200 per cent in the face of the so-called "tax relief" of 1968, which turned out to be one of the biggest farces ever perpetrated on a long-suffering public.

About the only out for the legislature is adoption of a sane and practical tax reform program, which will redistribute the burden of taxation along more equitable lines. It is too much to hope that any tax reduction can or will be effected.

Such action by the lawmakers at least would give the people a choice between a legislative proposal and the offering of the California Teachers Association at the general election next November.

THE LEGISLATURE has no lack of tax reform proposals. Several are "under study," but so far no one has been selected which has met the approval of citizens, business and industry.

Some years have been consumed in arguing. Governor Reagan made tax reform one of the prime objectives of his administration when he took office, but so far, has been unable to sell a program either to the legislature or the public. But it looks as if the time for quibbling is over.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Many Over 21 Deserve College

Regarding your editorial entitled "Over-age Outsiders Deny College to Resident Youth" . . .

First, let me say that many of these "over 21" students . . . are indeed residents, property owners and have been taxpayers in the district for many years. Many are women, who having raised their families to the point of having time for college work, are returning to college to finish their education . . . More older men are also benefitting from this same educational opportunity and are furthering their careers in this way.

Next, there are the young men who elect to serve their country before continuing with their education . . .

Then there are those young people who just haven't found themselves by the time they graduate from high school. I personally know of several cases where it has taken three or four years of working at various jobs before the maturity of self-realized need for more education has made itself known . . .

I agree that our high school students should have access to the college, but let me remind you that there are abuses of the college by that group as well. . .

Please, before you urge arbitrary removal of "over 21" students from College of Marin, carefully consider all the people who will be affected by such a serious decision and see if perhaps there is not some other criteria for the solution to the problem of our crowding.

Community Ferry System Needed

The Tiburon ferry has now been on the job for one week, and we can't begin to tell you how great it is. We certainly appreciated your coverage of the five month old strike. More commuters are using the system now than before.

Special honors should be bestowed on Vern Perry, Belvedere, who first conceived the idea that the GGBD take over the strike-bound ferry system. Also deserving special thanks is GGBD Director Steve Leonoudakis who carried the plan forward to a successful conclusion (at least for the next 85 days).

Tiburon's mayor unfortunately played only a minor part in getting the boat going again. We hope he will devote more effort to finding a permanent solution — like creation of a community owned and operated ferry boat system. Weekdays it would serve the commuter, and on the weekend it would bring tourists here by boat thereby solving most of our parking problems.

Does Administration Fear The People?

This is to express appreciation for the conclusion of your Nov. 12 lead editorial. The kind of unity which enhances the quality of American life cannot be based on a repressive fear that stifles public opinion. In the strident warnings of the vice president and the many administrative challenges to those of us determined to witness peacefully for peace Saturday, the Nixon administration may be showing its true colors. Are they afraid that the will of the people to end the war will be heard for what it is — the voice of sanity and responsibility?

Picture Offends Teen-Age Reader

Tonight's (Nov. 13) front page picture is that of a girl crying over her injured horse. Don't you have anything better to print in your paper other than a picture of a grief stricken teen-age girl? Being a teen-age girl and owner of a horse, I sympathize greatly with this girl's feelings and I don't understand why you feel you have to publicize her emotions.

Tiburon Gesture Deserves Bouquet

Bouquets to the committee of Tiburon residents headed by Fred Mantegani, Doc English and Police Chief William Johansen who reserved the Corinthian Yacht Club on Veteran's Day to entertain ambulatory Vietnam veterans from Letterman Hospital.

Local businessmen, merchants and residents donated goods and cash to make the event a success and the hospitality chairmen did a wonderful job. The event was open to the public and well attended. It was indeed an honor to share lunch with so many of our unsung heroes, many of whom have returned from oveseas to a warm welcome from family and friends but to an indifferent public.

Tiburon's gesture of honoring the war dead by thanking the living could well be imitated by other communities. Bravo to all connected with making this Veteran's Day an early "Thanksgiving."

Why Not Grind Up Accumulated Leaves?

Your article about the odor of burning leaves was very sentimental and brought back many memories of sliding down hills of leaves. However, since losing most of my ability at sliding down hills of leaves I have never understood why we pay a garbage man to take leaves and grass cuttings and good garbage away and then go out and buy fertilizer for our gardens. Wouldn't it make good sense to grind these leaves and grass up and work it back into the soil instead of seeing it go up in smoke? Couldn't a machine be made to grind this stuff and then people could either rent it or take their stuff in garbage can size plastic bags to a "grinderett" where they put a coin in the machine and it grinds all the small branches and grass and stuff into fertilizer and then you take it home and put it back into the ground? Or the grinder could be mounted on a truck and a man come around and grind your stuff on the spot.

Just an idea.

Blood Bath Feared If We Withdraw

I note that 85 doctors from Marin County sent a telegram to President Nixon expressing their opposition to the Vietnam war (I-J, Nov. 14). As the I-J quotes it this telegram reads: "We who have known and fought death implore you to do what only you can do — end the killing." They suggest this could be done by an "immediate cease-fire and prompt withdrawal of all our troops."

I didn't realize doctors could be so naive. They say "end the killing." More than one North Vietnamese spokesman has made it clear that "when," not if, they take over, they intend to slaughter tens of thousands of South Vietnamese. They've promised a blood bath that would put to shame any incurred to date during the war. Judging from past performance, they would likely do just that.

No, good doctors, You'd better find other reasons for suddenly ending the war and withdrawing all our troops. This one hardly holds water.

Who Won Vietnam Moratorium? Evidence Shows The President Did

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — What's the meaning of the latest Vietnam moratorium? We'll try to answer.

WHO WON? — It was a massive and marvelous outpouring of young people — earnest, orderly, peaceful — exhibiting their wish for instant and total withdrawal from Vietnam. There was some peripheral violence, handled superbly by the Washington police.

It won sympathy and respect — and deserved to. But the preponderant evidence is that most Americans do not support the antiwar demonstrators' plan for precipitant withdrawal. They support the antiwar President's plan for staged withdrawal which will enable the South Vietnamese to defend themselves when withdrawal is complete.

THE EVIDENCE? — It is impressive. The Gallup Poll shows 77 per cent support for President Richard Nixon's way of ending the war, only 6 per cent for the demonstrators' way (the rest undecided). Another poll shows 79 per cent backing for the President. Sixty senators have endorsed the President's Vietnam peace efforts, and the House of Representatives has overwhelmingly passed a resolution doing the same. Some protesters argue that a Vietnam war policy was never approved by Congress, but they can no longer argue that a Vietnam peace policy has not been approved by Congress. It has.

Our judgment is that Mr. Nixon will be able to hold this consensus well into the 1970s, perhaps as long as necessary to end the war without throwing away the peace.

WHAT CONSENSUS? — The evidence is that most Americans are agreed:

That the war should be deescalated.

That U.S. combat ground troops should be withdrawan at a pace that will give the South Vietnamese time to get ready to defend themselves for as long as they are being attacked.

That the remaining American presence in Vietnam should be reduced just as steadily and rapidly as possible.

DOES PRESIDENT Nixon really want out? — On the basis of his words, his actions and his own self-interest, the answer is an unqualified yes.

In the presidential campaign, he pledged his best efforts to end the war in a way which would not plant the seeds of a future war.

In Mr. Nixon's first 10 months in office, he has greatly stepped up the training and equipping of the South Vietnamese armed forces, started substantial American troop withdrawal and advanced concrete peace proposals.

From the standpoint of his own political self-interest, there is no person in the nation who would benefit as much from getting an acceptable peace in Vietnam as Richard Nixon.

WHAT DOES President Nixon offer? — What are the inducements the President is holding out for a negotiated peace? He is offering Hanoi and the National Liberation Front a choice. It is a choice between their being willing to submit to the verdict of election — which they would have a share in supervising — or seeing the United States withdraw in a way to put the South Vietnamese in the best position to defend themselves successfully.

It is a gamble to withdraw, even as rapidly as Mr. Nixon is preparing to do. But because of public frustration and impatience over a long and indecisive war, it is an inescapable gamble. We believe that if impatience in the United States forces the President to withdraw faster, the consequence will divide the nation more than it is now divided and lead to things few Americans would relish.

AFTER VIETNAM, WHAT? It is clear that a large number of people today are impatient for peace. But are they willing to do the things and support the things necessary to preserve peace? Not just now, but after Vietnam? Peace won't come for the asking. It never has. The thousands of young Britons who in the 1930s signed the Oxford Pledge not to fight did not keep Adolf Hitler from launching World War II. The best way to deter war is to serve advance notice on potential aggressors that they can't commit aggression with impunity.

Philippines Keep Leader, And His Problems Remain

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

By comparison, the Philippines national elections were relatively peaceful.

Violent deaths during the campaign and on election day were something under 100. Two years ago, during senatorial and local elections the figure ran over 100.

Someone started a rumor that $4 million in counterfeit Philippine currency had been brought in from Hong Kong to buy votes.

In the Manila shantytown of Tondo, residents used the posters of rival candidates to patch up their hovels against wind and rain, took the $5 that was to buy their votes and then went out and voted for the other man.

onetheless, it was democracy Filipino style and in the newspaper and television reports no one could deny that there was both freedom of the press and of speech.

FINAL RETURNS sent Marcos back to Malacanang Palace for an unprecedented second term and with it a host of problems.

He had campaigned on his record, pointing to new schools and roads and to a selfsufficiency in rice brought about by new "miracle" seed strains.

He promised to put new life into a sadly lagging land reform approved by congress years ago but without the money to make it operative.

There were other problems, foreign and domestic.

More than half of the Philippines' 34 million people are under the age of 18 and jobs have not been keeping pace with the more than 1,000 new workers pouring into the market each day. Men trained in the professions work as waiters and car washers.

This year's trade deficit is expected to equal last year's $300 million. Dollar supplies are dwindling.

Anyway, It Was A Speech That Nobody Will Remember

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was a little perturbed recently about television news commentators analyzing a President's speech before the echo of the last word had died.

Don't knock it until you give it a little thought was the gist of Agnew's message, and some commentators apparently have taken it to heart.

For example, I tuned in the other night just in time to catch the following:

CHET — I don't think the President said anything new in his address.

CHET — I can see it dragging on until 1865.

DAVID — Yes, that line about being "dedicated here to the unfinished work" would lead one to believe that he was seeking support for a longer war.

CHET — I felt it was too political. I mean, going for the slave vote with that line about "all men are created equal."

DAVID — There was somewhat of a socialistic note in that closing line about "government of the people, by the people, for the people."

CHET — So it seems, but like all political speeches, there was a little bit of something for everybody.

DAVID — Of course, we don't know how it was received in the South.

CHET — I have doubts that the President's talk did much toward unifying the country. It seems to me he was taking a hard line.

DAVID — I'm inclined to disagree. I think he left the door open with that plea to the living to work for "a new birth of freedom."

CHET — I think he underplayed it when he said, "The world will little note nor long remember what we say here."

DAVID — Well. the President has never been one for blowing his own horn, and his advisers probably told him to come on stronger, but I think it was a nice humble touch.

CHET — When it comes to style, I think he could have changed that opening line about "fourscore and seven years ago." I mean it distracted a lot of people who had to figure out how many years that was.

DAVID — It was just sort of an opening throwaway line. Nobody ever pays attention to the first sentence of a speech anyway.

CHET — I wonder why he picked Gettysburg for this address.

DAVID — Probably because they were still fighting on the other battlefields.

Mental Health Debacle Hinted In Report To Supervisors In '66

Fusselman

In this column on Aug. 5, 1966, you will find this: "Thomas F. Campanella, the newly acquired assistant of the administrator, warned the board (of supervisors) in a letter that any committee other than he was recommending on the mental health set-up might run into 'lack of staff support' among other dangers, such as with the authority of the county administrator.

"There was one loud and protesting squeal from the board chairman. Said he, 'The whole thing is being operated at the staff level . . . The thing's developing at the staff level and it gets to be suddenly sacrosanct."

The chairman had been one of the chief advocates of abdication, but it was getting too thick even for him.

IN THESE THREE years, it has become thicker and thicker. Witness the control that Alan Bruce and Campanella are maintaining on the whole mental health program. It wonders one as to just how much farther this board will abdicate.

They are continuing to let Bruce and his strong-hearted men call the play. There are competent heads of departments in most offices. They are elected by you voters — the choice of the majority.

You have been denied the opportunity of confirming or rejecting the present operation by such men as former supervisor Peter Behr and his cohorts on the several boards during the past 11 years, when you had rejected the idea by a 60 per cent majority.

All the costly debacles in county government have been the result of faulty judgment of Bruce and his departments. He has never had any experience in this type of operation except right here in Marin, where the record is not one to be proud of.

THERE IS ONE phase of getting commuters to San Francisco from Marin that I don't recall any study being made of. This is the time factor.

I listen to the traffic reports on the radio during commute hours each morning. There's usually a report of congestion, south bound, on the California Park hill, north of Greenbrae, then again at Alto hill and the Waldo grade, all time-consuming.

The thing I often wonder about is just what the speed of the buses is on these grades. We all know diesel motor powered trucks and buses are forced into the lowest gears and slowest speeds on all grades.

A string of buses, one after the other, stretches the time in getting to the city. It seems that a study should be made of this.

We are a people who, right or wrong, demand speed in all forms of travel. It would be unfortunate indeed if this factor would loom large in the acceptance or not of commute bus service.

Court Restores Teacher's Papers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Teaching credentials of a Los Angeles area high school teacher involved in a homosexual incident have been ordered restored by the California Supreme Court.

The high court, in reversing a state Board of Education and Los Angeles Superior Court order, ruled 4-3 yesterday that an individual cannot be denied his right to teach unless evidence shows homosexual behavior affected his fitness as an instructor.

The state Board of Education revoked in 1967 the two lifetime teaching diplomas of Marc S. Morrison, a teacher for the Lowell Joint School District for several years.

The Supreme Court said Morrison engaged with a fellow teacher in a "limited, noncriminal, physical relationship which Morrison described as being homosexual in nature."

Murphy Suggests Unified Agency For Ocean Search

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Creation of a National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Agency has been proposed by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif.

In a letter to President Richard M. Nixon, the senator envisioned a new agency to direct the exploration of the ocean much as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration does in outer space. Joining Murphy in signing the letter were Sens. John G. Tower, R-Texas, and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore.

Such an agency presumably would include the Tiburon Oceanographic Center, where the government is conducting researchi nto extraction of minerals from the ocean.

"The situation now is too fraught with duplicated authority and lack of direction to lend itself to an efficient organization," the denators wrote. "The mood of the Congress is right to move in this direction; we hope that you will help us," they said.

Senate's 55-45 Vote Rejects Haynsworth

GOP Defections Cost Nixon Major Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected today the nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

The vote was 55 to 45.

The Senate's refusal to confirm the 57-year-old South Carolinian was the sharpest rebuff the Democratic-controlled Congress has dealt President Richard M. Nixon. But it took a split in Republican ranks to defeat the nomination.

At the White House, there was no immediate comment and reporters were told there would be none until mid-afternoon at the earliest.

The President laid his prestige on the line by standing steadfast behind Haynsworth in the face of strong opposition mounted by labor leaders and civil rights forces.

Haynsworth, now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, was the first Supreme Court nominee to be rejected by the Senate since 1930 when Judge John J. Parker was defeated by two votes.

The Senate Republican leader, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, said before the vote that confirmation by a narrow margin could raise later difficulties with public opinion.

The vote was more one-sided than expected, with all of the lately uncommitted senators voting against confirmation except for Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., who had voted to approve the nomination in the Judiciary Committee and had been listed among the supporters, cast his vote against confirmation.

The leaders of both parties, Scott and Democratic Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, were among those who had not made their position known in advance and who voted against confirmation. California Sens. George

CLAMPDOWN ASKED

By FRANK FARRARA

The strongest salvo came from the Marin County Property Owners Association which expressed "critical concern over steady deterioration of educational, social and moral discipline at the College of Marin."

The call for discipline came about a month after a near-riotous board session disrupted by students, and two weeks after similar calls by other community representatives.

"That a few persons should be allowed to disrupt that (educational) process by rudeness, obscenity, intimidation, insistance on the granting of unconscionable demands, and threats of reprisal and violence, is ridiculous on one hand and appalling on the other," said the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce.

The third complaint read at the meeting came from the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau which felt that the board "has failed to create and enforce an atmosphere of respect and orderly procedure at your meetings."

The chamber and bureau also charged the board has "allowed some enrollees and instructors to present an objectionable and defiant attitude on campus which is destroying the confidence of the majority of citizens in the college district."

After the letters were read by representatives of the three organizations, trustees offered no reply.

Board President Robert E. Rogers explained that the letters, just heard, would be reviewed and then answered "in orderly fashion."

Michael Hanson, representing the Academic Senate, pointed out that the college does have a policy on student conduct and it is "rather stringent."

"This is a far-out, xxxxxxx, stinking racist community," she said. Trustee Harry J. Moore, replied, "That language is out of order."

Rogers then told her "you're all done." She finished saying "they're not aware of the truth, and want to deal with other issues, not the truth."

The Marin Property Owners Association contended that its members "Can no longer accept nor tolerate what we consider to be 'excessive educational per-

Apollo Hits Long Trail For Home

COMBINED AP & UPI

SPACE CENTER, Houston — Apollo 12's moon voyagers fired themselves out of lunar orbit today and began the 240,724-mile journey back to their home planet.

At 12:49 p.m. PST, while on the backside of the moon and out of radio contact with earth, they triggered Yankee Clipper's bell-shaped engine for a burn of about two minutes.

BEHIND MOON

The jolting burst of power increased their speed from about 3,700 to about 5,700 miles an hour, enough to break the grip of lunar gravity and send them on a great arc toward earth.

Yankee Clipper reappeared around the western edge of the moon several minutes later, and it was then the world knew that astronauts Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean were on the way home, ending man's second moon-landing expedition.

After a three-day downhill coast, they are to splash down in the Pacific Ocean at 12:57 p.m. PST Monday

EAGER TO RETURN

Yankee Clipper had orbited the moon 45 times, with Gordon flying it alone while Conrad and Bean spent 31.5 hours on the surface.

The triumphant pilots were eager to get back. Conrad asked if they had enough fuel to speed up the trip so they would return a day early, but ground controllers said no.

"OK, no problem," said the veteran space commander. "No problem at all."

"That's one less day in the LRL (Lunar Receiving Laboratory) Ed (Gibson)," Conrad said. The astronauts must remain in quarantine in Houston until Dec. 10 to make certain they picked up no alien germs during their 1.5 miles of hiking on the dusty Lunar surface.

Today's lunar orbital flight was devoted to scouting potential landing sites for future Apollo crews. On Yankee Clipper's 40th pass, Conrad said, "we've got Dick working this pass.

WARNINGS OVERRULED

Span Protests Face Outright Ban

A ban on all political demonstrations on the Golden Gate Bridge was voted unanimously yesterday by the bridge district's rules and policy committee.

Three demonstrations have been held on the bridge sidewalk in the past year, and each snarled traffic as motorists slowed to gawk. One was for the plight of the Biafrans, and two to protest the Vietnam War.

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring told directors that he had received "quite a few calls" protesting the three-hour snarl last Friday when about 600 Moratorium Day marchers paraded across the bridge in the morning commute period.

He noted the snarl was aggravated by drivers sympathetic to the marchers, with a number of drivers slowing to give the "V" sign.

The committee's recommendation needs full board approval to become effective, but approval seemingly was assured by the fact that all 10 directors present yesterday favored the ban — a majority of the board's 18 members.

The committee's vote overrode Luehring's cautions that "if we try to stop them, we may cause more trouble than by permitting them." After the Biafran march last November, he had suggested a ban on demonstrations during peak traffic hours.

Also warning of possible consequences of an outright ban was Capt. Dan. W. Lyons, commander of the California Highway Patrol in Marin and on the bridge. Frustrated demonstrators may "all have flat tires and run out of gas on the bridge," he suggested.

Lyons also envisioned the possibility of "attacks on this (administration) building and on toll structures," but San Francisco Supervisor Peter Tamaras said in that case the bridge district should "call in the Army.'

The ban will not apply to welcomes for warships entering the bay, directors agreed, although persons who go out onto the birdge for such welcomings will not be allowed to carry signs. The ban will not mean the closing of the sidewalks to pedestrians, they stressed.

Director Joseph P. Mazzola, who made the motion to ban demonstrations, said he was not concerned with "whether we're for or against demonstrations," but rather with traffic safety.

The committee action came after it met behind closed doors for one hour. Afterward, the district's attorney, Jerome B. White, told newsmen that directors had "agreed to employ security personnel." White said "specifid names" of persons to be hired had been discussed, and that Luehring was authorized to proceed with their hiring.

In other business, directors met as the insurance committee and recommended updating engineering and appraisal reports on the bridge to help assure renewal of insurance on its next year.

The committee also dropped from consideration proposals by San Francisco Supervisor William C. Blake that the district insure itself and change the beneficiary on its multi-risk policies from the district to the six counties in the district. White ruled both illegal.

Nixon Pledges Return Of Okinawa In 1972

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The United States agreed today to return the island of Okinawa to Japan in 1972. As part of the agreement — although not specifically spelled out —nuclear weapons will be removed from the island which is now a major American base in the Pacific.

President Richard M. Nixon and Prime Minister Eisaku Sato announced the basic agreement in a communique issued after the last of the three White House meetings.

Okinawa was seized by American troops toward the end of World War II from the Japanese—on June 21, 1945 — and the United States had ruled it under terms of the 1951 Japan-U. S. Security Treaty ever since. A big B52 base is now located there.

It is known that nuclear weapons have been stored on Okinawa but the United States never officially acknowledged this.

The communique did not specifically say that the United States would remove nuclear bombs from the island, but noted that the "sentiment of the Japanese people" was against nuclear devices, and Nixon said the reversion of Okinawa would be carried out "in a manner consistent with the policy of the Japanese government."

The understanding is that the bombs could be returned to Okinawa in event of some future emergency, subject to consent by Tokyo.

The agreement also will have to be approved by both the U. S. Senate and the Japanese Diet.

The United States agreed to have the Okinawa base governed by terms of the 1951 treaty, which requires prior consultation with the Japanese government before any U. S. military personnel or equipment can be used against third nations.

The Japanese, in return, agreed to indefinite extension of the treaty, which permits the United States to maintain military installations on Japanese soil.

On the crucial nuclear issue, the Japanese delegation said Sato succeeded in obtaining return of the island in a nuclear free condition, while on the American side, the Nixon Administration will be able to argue with congressional critics that strategic flexibility had been retained.

Senate Viet Investigation To Be Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee decided today to hold public hearings on Vietnam.

But the committee said witnesses would probably be limited to administration officials and senators who have sponsored a series of Vietnam resolutions.

The decision was reached at a meeting after what Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., said was "quite a struggle." McGee opposed the move.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the committee, said the panel decided, on a 7-2 vote, to hold the hearings. He said a lengthy discussion preceded the vote.

Fulbright said no specific time has been set for the start of the hearings. They will begin after the committee completes work on the foreign aid bill, he said. Hearings on the latter measure will commence immediately after Thanksgiving, he said.

The chairman said the decision to hold the Vietnam hearings was "not a confrontation" with the Nixon administration.

"This is just a normal opportunity for a Senate committee to consider gravely important national issues. I think such hearings are highly educational."

He said there are nine resolutions dealing with Vietnam to be considered by the committee.

Living Costs Continue Record Rise: Up .4 Per Cent In October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher prices for cars and houses were major factors in a .4 per cent hise in living costs last month that continued the nations's sharpest inflation in some 20 years, the government said today.

However, Americans got a break at the grocery store in October when food prices declined .6 per cent, notably for meat and vegetables.

The over-all rise in living costs brought the Labor Department's consumer price index to 129.8. This means it cost $12.98 last month for every $10 worth of food, housing, clothing, transportation and medical care in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

At the same time, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported that average pay of some 45 million rank and file workers declined 86 cents a week to $116.94 because of a substantial cut in the work week. After the deduction for taxes and the rise in living costs, the purchasing power of the average pay check was down 1 per cent for the month and .8 of one per cent below a year earlier.

"October marked the ninth consecutive month that real earnings (purchasing power) have remained below year-ago levels," the bureau said.

While living costs continued to rise, said Dr. Joel Popkin, assistant commissioner of the bureau, "the rate of increase in prices has leveled off" since mid-year.

The over-all consumer price index was up 5.6 per cent over the year, and the rise in living costs in calendar 1969 continued at an annual rate of just under 6 per cent. This was about the same as the 1951 rise in living costs, the previous highest year.

Some 88,000 workers with cost of living escalator clauses in their labor contracts will receive pay increases ranging from 1 to 9 cents an hour, figured over varying periods of price hikes reflected in the government index in the past year. Most of these workers are in automotive, farm equipment and office equipment industries.

AEC Explodes Atomic Device

WASHINGTON (AP) — An underground nuclear blast of low intermediate yield was set off in Nevada today by the Atomic Energy Commission.

It was the 24th such test announced by the AEC this year. All but one of the 1969 series has been related to military weapons development. One test, in the Plowshare program, concerned the peaceful uses of nuclear blasts to aid extraction of fossil fuels.

Low intermediate yields are those producing the explosive equivalent of from 20,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT.

Agnew Swings Guns Onto Newspapers

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, saying he does "not seek to intimidate the press," has extended his criticism of the nation's news media to some daily newspapers.

Finding particular fault with the New York Times and the Washington Post, Agnew last night charged there is a "growing monopolization of the voices of public opinion on which we all depend—for our knowledge and for the basis of our views."

The vice president's attack in a speech to the Alabama Chamber of Commerce came exactly one week after he leveled sharp criticism against the nation's television networks for their handling of news.

In answer to critics who asserted he was attempting to muzzle newsmen, the vice president told his audience:

"I am opposed to censorship of television or the press in any form. I don't care whether the censorship is imposed by government or whether it results from management in the choice and the presentation of the news by a little fraternity having similar social and political views. I am against, repeat am against, censorship in all forms."

However, Agnew said, this does not mean the news media should be free of criticism.

In his speech, which ran slightly over half an hour and was interrupted 17 times by applause, Agnew said "... the American people should be made aware of the trend toward the monopolization of the great public information vehicles and the concentration if more and more power over public opinion in fewer and fewer hands."

He then pointed to the Washington Post Co.; "a single company, in the nation's capital, (that) holds control of the largest newspaper in Washington, D.C., and one of the four major television stations, and an all-news radio station, and one of the three major national news magazines—all grinding out the same editorial line—and this is not a subject you have seen debated on the editorial pages of the Washington Post or the New York Times."

However, he said, "I am not recommending the dismemberment of the Washington Post Co. I am merely pointing out that the public should be aware that these four powerful voices harken to the same master."

Agnew's speech drew immediate defenses from the Post and the Times.

"The Washington Post, Newsweek, WTOP-TV and WTOP radio decidedly do not 'grind out the same editorial line.' ... Each branch is operated autonomously."

Following his theme that there is a trend toward monopolization in news gathering, Agnew then turned from the Post to the New York Times.

It was "a great, great political tragedy for the people of New York," he said, when four daily newspapers died in that city in the last decade.

"The New York Times was a better newspaper when they

Nixon War Plan Working—Packard

SAIGON (AP) — Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard said today that President Richard M. Nixon's plans for peace in Vietnam is working and is not being jeopardized at this point by increasing enemy activity.

Winding up a six-day assessment of the war situation—and his first visit to Vietnam—Packard said he does not claim that "peace and tranquility stand within immediate reach on some certain, predictable, preplanned schedule."

"There has never been any progress in Paris, and a determined enemy still faces us here," he told an airport news conference before flying on to other points in Southeast Asia.

"There are going to be ups and downs in the situation," he continued. "We've anticipated that there would be some increased enemy activity at this time, and I see this as no hazard at all to the President's plan."

But the secretary said as the Saigon government's forces grow "inexorably stronger, it will be possible for President Nixon to maintain the momentum of U.S. troop replacements based on his three determining criteria of progress in Paris, the level of enemy activity and growing South Vietnamese armed forces strength.

"Because growing Vietnamese armed forces strength is the most promising of the three criteria and the one most subject to allied control, it has been a major part of my purpose here to assess this strength. I have not the slightest doubt that the South Vietnamese will be able to handle the job with a much lower level of U.S. combat strength and other support within a reasonable time.

Packard added that he would tell the President, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird and Secretary of State William P. Rogers "That on the basis if what I have seen here I believe President Nixon's plan for peace is practical, feasible, and most important, is working."

On the battlefields, action flared anew yesterday around the Bu Prang Special Forces camp, an area where Nixon's plans to turn the war over to the South Vietnamese are being tested by heavy enemy pressure.

U.S. military sources reported that an American reconnaissance platoon on a similar mission was ambushed in War Zone C, about 61 miles northwest of Saigon, and four Americans were killed and two wounded.

The Americans were moving toward the scene of a B52 strike to assess the results. They walked into a complex of North Vietnamese bunkers and were hit by claymore mines and small arms.

Ray Of Hope At Arms Talk With USSR

HELSINKI (AP) — After two U.S.-Soviet meetings in Helsinki, there is cautious optimism among the Americans that the talks will lead to fullscale negotiations to curb the nuclear arms race.

At the Soviet Union's request, the secret strategic arms limitation talks, dubbed SALT, adjourned until Monday after yesterday's 100-minute session.

Authoritative conference sources said the shortness of the meetings and the time between them are evidence of the seriousness of the two sides rather than of delaying action.

It was understood that at the first 90-minute secret meeting Tuesday, the U.S. team headed by Gerard C. Smith exchanged general oral statements with the Soviets led by Vladimir S. Semenov, then each provided papers containing what he had said.

Yesterday the Soviets were said to have asked a number of questions involving elaboration of the U.S. view.

The Helsinki round is expected to last several weeks as the two superpowers probe each others' positions for what might be negotiated later.

Pow-Wow Begins On Fate Of Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Seventy-eight Indians from about 30 tribes have invaded Alcatraz Island in San Francisco Bay, demanding the federal government turn it over to them under provisions of an 1868 treaty.

The tribesmen crept ashore from boats Wednesday night and vowed yesterday that most would remain until the federal government rules formally on their demands.

Indian leader Richard Oakes, 26, claimed that an 1868 treaty with the Sioux provides that any unused federal land reverts automatically to Indians.

The federal government abandoned its prison on the 21-acre island in 1963 and the property has been declared surplus. The General Services Administration is in charge of disposal.

GSA Regional Administrator Thomas Hannon visited Alcatraz yesterday and began "peaceable" talks with the Indians.

"They certainly have possession," he acknowledged. "But I explained to them the difficulties they would encounter even if they could legally gain title. They are not financially equipped to make any use of the island."

Oakes said the invaders want to set up a museum, a school and an Indian center.

Oakes and six other leaders accompanied Hannon to the mainland last night for continued talks. The rest remained behind to spend a second night in pitched tents.

Rating Asked For County Personnel

A rating system should be set up to evaluate the performance of new county empoyees during their probationary period, personnel analyst Jack M. Atkin declared yesterday at a meeting of a the Marin County Personnel Commission.

Evaluating permanent county employees is also long overdue, but this can come later, said Atkin, junior administrative analyst in the county personnel office.

TRAINING SESSIONS

Before such an evaluation system is started, Atkin assured commissioners he would conduct a series of training sessions to indoctrinate department supervisors who would be rating their subordinates.

"I think you've got a monster by the tail," declared Commissioner A. Bruce McKenzie. "We've got to get job descriptions and responsibilities spelled out before we can start rating. I'm not going to approve this yet." Evaluation of permanent employees will also run into the problem of which department should be evaluated first, added McKenzie. "They'll all want to be put off until the last."

Personnel commissioners decided to take Atkin's proposal under submission for further study.

The commissioners set a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Dec. 10 at the civic center to hear a grievance from the Marin County Employees Association on an interpretation of the county's contract with the employees.

PAY QUARREL

Randall M. Prevo, manager of the county employees, said his group disagrees with the county administrator on the payment of one hour's pay for each eight hours that a county employee is required to be on standby duty.

Prevo said the standby pay should go to all employees represented by MCEA, whereas the county administrator contends that standby pay should go only to time-related jobs and not to supervisory employees who are ineligible for overtime pay.

Herkenhoff Is Named Executive Assistant

Dr. Louis H. Herkenhoff, acting superintendent-president of the Marin Junior College District, was given a new post last night by the district trustees. (Another Marin Junior College story, page 1.)

He will serve as assistant to recently appointed Supt.-President John A. Grasham as soon as Grasham arrives on the job.

Herkenhoff became acting superintendent-president after the resignation of William K. Ramstad in April, 1968, with a contract to run until, June 30, 1970.

His role after the succession of Grasham has been the subject of several closed meetings of the district trustees. who announced last night that he will serve at his present salary of $23,058 as assistant to the new superintendent-president through June 30.

Legion Donates City Hall Fountain

The fountain will be in a rectangular shape, 16 feet, two inches by nine feet, five inches, with a spray in the center. Indirect lighting will play on the spray, according to City Mgr. James H. McCown. It will be just east of the police department entrance.

A plaque will be attached to the fountain, using letters like others on city hall. It will read, "This memorial dedicated by Wilkins Post 37 Inc., American Legion in memory of those who gave their lives for our country in time of war."

McCown said the architect for the fountain is Henry Cole who also did the landscape work at the city hall.

Work by Pacific Water Arts Co. of Palo Alto began yesterday and is expected to take about 30 days, McCown reported.

Environment Study Center At College

Marin Junior College District trustees last night authorized establishment of a Center for Environmental Studies at the Kentfield campus.

Trustees Charles W. Gray, who suggested such a center at the Nov. 6 board meeting, said it should be a center "not only for study, but a center for solutions."

He felt the center could get underway without any large expenditures.

Establishing the center is an outgrowth of a symposium at the college early this month which attracted about 5,000 persons.

Trustees said this turnout "clearly indicated the concern of the community as a whole about the pressing environmental and ecological problems now facing mankind."

Among the activities planned, besides study on ecology and environment, are guest speakers, seminars, field trips, start of a library and a speakers bureau.

Indecent Exposure At Novato Campus

A 15-year-old Novato girl was the victim of indecent exposure at 4:20 p.m., yesterday on the Novato High School campus, police reported.

The man was described as about 25 to 26 years old, five feet, eight inches tall, stocky build weighing about 175 pounds with brown hair. He was wearing a white shirt and brown trousers. This is the second such incident this week on the campus, but the descriptions of the men are different.

AGNEW

were alive than it is now that they are gone."

"I offer an example. When 300 congressmen and 59 senators signed a letter endorsing the President's policy in Vietnam it was news—it was big news. Even the Washington Post and the Baltimore Sun—scarcely house organs of the Nixon administration—placed it prominently on their front pages.

"Yet the next mirning the New York Times, which considers itself America's paper of record, did not carry a word. Why? Why?

Arthur Ochs Sulzberger, president and publisher of the New York Times, answered in a statement, which read in part:

"Vice President Agnew . . . is in error when he implies that the New York Times ever sought or enjoyed immunity from comment or criticism."

And, the statement said, "sime of Mr. Agnew's statements are inaccurate." Besides carrying the story of congressional endorsement in its later editions, that day, Sulzberger said the Times gave the story considerable attention to subsequent developments.

In referring to the criticism that followed his speech last week, Agnew said: "I am not asking any immunity from criticism. That is the lot of the man in politics; we would have it no other way in this democratic society.

"But my political and journalistic adversaries sometimes seem to be asking something more—that I circumscribe my rhetorical freedom, while they place no restrictions on theirs."

"I do not seek to intimidate the press, the networks or anyone else from speaking out. But the time for blind acceptance of their opinions is past. And the time for naive belief in their neutrality is gone."

Then, to end his remarks, Agnew reached into the past to invoke the words of one of the most outspoken journalists in the nation's history, the 19th century abolitionist William Lloyd Garrison.

"'I am in earnest. I will not equivocate. I will not excuse. I will not retreat a single inch. And I will be heard.'"

Youth Admits Drug Possession

Paul Edward LeClair, 18, of San Anselmo, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of possessing phenobarbital and a hypodermic needle when arrested in San Anselmo Aug. 30.

A charge of possessing marijuana against him was dismissed.

Charges against another youth arrested with LeClair, Herbert Travis Martin, 21, of Mill Valley, were also dismissed yesterday. He had been accused of possessing phenobarbital and needles.

The pair was arrested in San Anselmo's Sorich Park after a citizen complained to police that he had seen them drive into the park, walk down a gully and return carrying a box.

Two Given Prison In Attack Case

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced two San Francisco men to state prison after their conviction on two counts of rape, and one charge each of kidnaping, robbery and car theft stemming from an attack on a San Leandro woman last August.

McGuire gave Robert James Walker, 23, and Edward McCullough, 29, five prison terms each to run concurrently.

The sentence for rape is not less than three years, and kidnaping carries a term of one to 25 years. The robbery term is not less than one year and car theft, one to five years.)

The two men were convicted by a jury last month of raping the woman at Muir Beach on Aug. 2, then taking her to San Francisco in her car, attacking her again and then stealing her purse and car.

The woman's companion, who was a casual friend of McCullough and Walker, testified that he attempted to help her but was knocked unconscious.

VOTE

Just before the vote, Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., floor manager for the nomination, asked his colleagues "where do we go from here if we reject this nomination."

He said "it would amount to a rejection of the President's purpose of restoring balance to the court. It is what the President wants. It is what the nation wants."

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said in a statement after the vote that the Senate's action "represents a tragic loss for America."

"Judge Haynsworth is a good man, an honest man, and a great judge," Eastland said. "We have been deprived of his services as an associate justice in a day when men of his caliber are sorely needed in the highest councils of our land."

Woman Declared Guilty In Store Stabbing Fracas

A Marin Superior Court judge yesterday found Patricia Ann Fusiliereia, 18, of Marin City guilty of two counts of assault with a deadly weapon stemming from stabbing in a Sausalito market May 23.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson who tried the case without a jury, ordered Mrs. Fusiliereia held in jail while probation officers prepare a report. He set sentencing for Dec. 11.

The stabbing took place after Mrs. Fusiliereia got into a heated argument with a female employee of the Big G supermarket when she thought the woman had made fun of her miniskirt.

Mrs. Fusiliereia pulled a five-inch hunting knife from her purse and lunged at the woman but another employee, Thomas Bernier of San Francisco, stepped between the two women and was stabbed in the left shoulder. He was treated at Marin General Hospital for the wound.

Student Leader Seeks Court Aid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dan Siegel, ousted president of the Associated Students of the University of California, will take his fight for full exoneration in last spring's "People's Park" riots back to federal court today.

Siegel was acquitted earlier this week of misdemeanor charges of inciting to riot for telling a crowd at the Berkeley campus to go down and "take the park". He said his remarks were not intended to produce violence but to urge a long-term campaign.

Siegel was suspended and ousted by the university from his student post following the incident.

we've had to get a look at the moon. That backside doesn't look anything like what we were on."

Bean said the moon looks more spectacular from orbit than it does on the surface. "You can see all these gigantic craters. When you get on the surface, it's interesting, down there, naturally, but it's not too much unlike just being out on a big field of pumice on earth."

One of the astronauts' parting shots was to send the ascent section of their lunar lander smacking back on the moon at 3,780 m.p.h., setting off vibrations felt for more than 40 minutes by the seismometer they had left behind.

LIKE A GONG

Dr. Maurice Ewing, one of the project scientists, said "the duration was most surprising, just as many other things on the moon have been."

"As for the meaning of it (the sustained vibrations), I'd rather not make an interpretation of it right now," he said. "It is as though one had struck a gong, say in the belfry of a church, a single blow and found the reverberations had continued for 40 minutes."

"Whatever it turns out to be, I think it will represent a major discovery completely unanticipated about the moon," said geophysicist Frank Press.

The astronauts decided to make an additional photographic pass over the craters Lalande, DesCartes and Fra Mauro, possible future landing sites, by eliminating some of their navigational practice after the side of a film magazine popped off during the 43rd lunar orbit.

Cattle Rustling Trial Continues

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — A trial in Sonoma County Superior Court entered its third day today for two Petaluma men accused of stealing 18 calves from the Petaluma Livestock Co. on July 24.

On trial are Ernest Bussman and Richard James Hale, who are charged with grand theft of cattle. Thomas Kenney, deputy district attorney, said two ranchers sold the cattle, valued at more than $2,000, to Anthony Brazil of Petaluma during an auction at the livestock company.

Kenney said the cattle were found five days later on the Bussman ranch with identification marks removed from all but one of them.

A state cattle brand inspector was expected to testify today.

Police Nab Youth In Petty Theft

A 19-year-old Marin City youth was arrested on suspicion of petty theft yesterday at the Greyhound Bus Depot after a chase through San Rafael streets.

According to police, the chase began about 2 p.m. when Charles Dobson of 99 Cole Avenue was seen leaving the Rasco Store at 1138 Fourth Street with a radio-phonograph that had not been paid for.

Store owner William G. Schendel took off in hot pursuit down Fourth Street. He was joined by two passersby who followed the Dobson to the rear of Macy's at Fourth and Court streets, where Schendel and one pursuer lost the trail.

The other witness stayed on Dobson's trail and alerted a police officer of the situation at Lootens and Commercial places who notified the police department.

The radio-phonograph was recovered by police.

Dobson who was booked into Marin County Jail is scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Illegal Evidence Upheld In Veto Of Jobless Pay

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board, in reversing a decision of an unemployment insurance referree, has declared that evidence, even if illegally obtained, could be used to support a finding that a claimant is not entitled to unemployment benefits.

In a case involving Edward L. Johnson of La Puente and Trans World Airlines, Inc., Johnson, an employee of the Airline was stopped by a Los Angeles police officer after leaving work.

The officer searched Johnson's car, without a search warrant, in what was described as a "routine check." Discovery of food items and miniature bottles of liquor bearing the employer's label resulted in the suspect being taken back to his employer where he was given the opportunity to resign or be dismissed. He resigned.

The suspect was not arrested. He later filed a claim for unemployment benefits and his employer contended he was discharged for misconduct.

The referee held the claimant was not subject to disqualification on unemployment benefits because the evidence was illegally obtained.

Inmates Charged With Offenses While In Prison

Two San Quentin inmates were indicted yesterday by the Marin County Grand Jury for offenses committed while in prison.

Howard Bert Rook, 35, is charged with having a gun when returned to the prison on July 9. Prison officials said that Rook, who was serving time for kidnaping and child molesting from San Mateo County, excaped from the state prison in San Luis Obispo on July 5.

He was captured in San Francisco on July 9 and when taken to San Quentin, was found to have an automatic pistol in his possession.

Ignacio Calvillo Jr., 26, was charged with having heroin and methamphetamine with him Oct. 18 when he returned to the prison from a 72-hour pass. Calvillo, who had been due for parole board appearance this fall, is serving a sentence following a bad check conviction in Orange County.

missiveness' at this tax-supported school."

The association believes the problems "have been caused by a relatively small percentage of the student population, but like a cancer, they are slowly destroying an educational facility, which for years had enjoyed the highest quality of education and student cooperation."

The association said it wants to support the college: "But when we learn of a series of incidents, which can be verified by faculty members, concerning alcoholism, vandalism, drug usage, sexual promiscuousness, student intimidation by other students, preaching and practicing revolutionary tactics and the indiscriminate use of obscenity at the college, our desire to carry on our public duty to support the College, our desire to carry on our public duty to support the College of Marin tends to evaporate."

"Equally appalling," the association said, "is the knowledge that the administration and school administration has not, and is not, exerting its rightful authority to discipline the student perpetrators of these incidents either by suspension or expulsion."

The association asked that the school administration "regain control," and said it wanted "the majority of the students who are sincere in their educational objectives to be freed from the current abuses of the small dissident element."

The association wants to pledge itself to a strong board and a strong administration, it said. "We can pledge ourselves equally to the task of initiating any and all appropriate measures leading to the dismissal of those appointed and elective officials who cannot, or will not, institute immediate remedial solutions to the problems outlined."

The chamber and bureau asked that the board "forthwith set out in writing and deed a reasonable set of regulations covering activities, procedures and deportment on school grounds."

Melanie Annin, secretary of the Associated Students, reported that the discussion sessions between students and residents, proposed at the Nov. 6 board session, are tentatively scheduled for Dec. 2.

Acting Supt.-President Louis H. Herkenhoff reported that proposed revisions to the discipline sections of the college policies handbook were about ready for board discussion.

Since the suspension of four students and the placing of a fifth on probation for disrupting a board meeting last month, student government groups and the Academic Senate have recommended changes in the rules.

Weaver Reelected MCEA President

Weaver received the highest number of votes in a recent board of directors election.

Bob Nelson was reelected vice president and Leona Meysembourg was chosen to serve another term as secretary. Frances Ball was named treasurer.

Randall M. Prevo, association manager, said the elections were by acclamation — a departure from the tradition of ballot voting.

Marinites Set Grape Boycott On Pesticides

A coalition of consumers and farm workers was offered yesterday as the only way to force pesticide controls on California grape growers.

And in response to the appeal by Dolores Huerta, Bay Area organizer for the Delano grape strike, a group of Marin County residents announced the reorganization of the Friends of Delano, as a consumer action group.

The announcement came at a press conference held at the Belvedere home of Leonard S. Sperry where Mrs. Huerta charged that table grapes sold in local supermarkets contained harmful levels of pesticide residues.

Tests conducted by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, Mrs. Huerta said, showed that table grapes purchased from stores contained harmful residues of DDT, aldrin endrin, and parathion.

Appeals by grape pickers to growers to institute controls over the use of pesticides have been unsuccessful, Mrs. Huerta said.

The workers, she said, show signs of slow poisoning when they are sent into the fields shortly after they have been sprayed.

CONTROLS SOUGHT

Controls sought by grape strikers, according to Mrs. Huerta, include use of some of the less deadly organic phosphates which break down in a very short period of time, a greater time span between spraying and when workers return to the fields and protective clothing for workers.

The Friends of Delano, led by Betty Meredith of Ross and Mrs. Sperry, have planned a multipronged attack in support of the grape boycott which will be kicked off tomorrow when Safeway stores in Novato and San Rafael will be picketed.

Sunday, strike supporters are being asked to fast in support of the strike and also "to understand how hungry some of the strikers get while working for the cause," Mrs. Huerta said.

The group also plans to collect food and money for the grape strikers and toys for Christmas gifts for the strikers' children. A legislative lobbying program also is contemplated.

BOYCOTT EFFORT

But the main effort of the group will be to get the consumer not only to boycott grapes but to boycott stores which supply grapes, Mrs. Meredith said.

"Each of us will have to talk to our own favorite grocer and tell him we won't shop in his store any more until he stops selling grapes," she said.

"Every grocer I've talked to has said he sells grapes becuase his customers want them. When they stop wanting them, he'll stop selling them. 'Talk to the customer', they tell me," Mrs. Meredith said.

"And that's exactly what we're going to do."

Rich Pool Of Talent In Puccini Operas

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A high point in the two-year history of the Dominican College Opera Theater was reached last night at Angelico Hall in a superb "Gianni Schicchi" and a good "Il Tabarro," the one-act Puccini operas sung in English.

Like previous productions, they had the advantage of the skills of director Arthur Conrad and musical coach Dr. Ted Blair, but this time a much larger supply of remarkable vocal and dramatic talent was apparently available. Operatic soprano Gwen Curatilo made a surprising and successful debut as a conductor in "Gianni Schicchi."

This production was a masterpiece in many ways, notably in ensemble work that achieved a near perfect realization of broad comedy. The set and costumes (Mark Jordan was production manager and designer) were brilliant and very successful in suggesting the medieval period in Florence.

In the title role of the rascal Schicchi, who turns the greed of deceased nobleman Donati's relatives to his own advantage, baritone James Standard was a singing actor who would do credit to a top professional production.

Soprano Joan Smith sang with exactly the right youthful, light vocal quality for the daughter Lauretta and made of the famed aria "O Mio Babbina Caro" a musical highlight. Fine singing and acting were done by bass Allan Guerin as the old man Simone. Also outstanding in their musical and dramatic characterizations were mezzos Arlene White as Zita, the old woman, and Roberta Wain, who showed a decided flair for caricature as La Ciesca.

Never out of character for an instant and very effective in lesser roles of relatives were sopranos Elizabeth Heffernan and Joan Goodman, tenor Kenneth Rowland and baritones John Graulich and Matthew Miksak. Bass Richard Goodman was splendid as both the doctor and notary, and tiny Natalie Smith was appealing as the little boy Gherardino.

Judith Storss's piano accompaniment was flawless.

The set of "Il Tabarro" ("The Cloak"), a tragedy based on a love triangle, showed the same attention to detail as the comedy, but it was more dependent on lighting because of the importance of mood.

While George Baker's rich sombre bass was very good for the role of Michele, the jealous murderer of his wife's lover Luigi, his acting was rather too low key for this passionate role.

As Luigi, Rex Schrader was the vocal surprise of the evening for me with a powerful, beautifully clear tenor.

Sopran Sharon DeFremery as the wife Giorgetta had too much vibrato for my taste and was shrill on high notes. Robert Grant (Rinuccio in the other opera' and mezzo Mary Wildensten turned in good performances as a stevedore and his wife, and Matthew Miksak (one of the relatives in "Gianni Schicchi") was another stevedore.

Possibly because of what amounted to necessary conducting from the piano Blair's piano accompaniment was at times too loud but otherwise excellent.

If there was a general fault, it was too much singing at top volume, even in tender love scenes in "Il Tabarro." Unavoidable acoustical problems at Angelico making clear diction difficult require only the comment that they can be overcome with proper training and care, for at times every word could be heard perfectly.

Another preformance of "Gianni Schicchi" was given this afternoon, and there will be another performance of both operas tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall. Do go if you like opera, especially Puccini.

Closed Session

The San Anselmo School Board reached no decision last night in a closed meeting to discuss dismissal of an employee, Chairman Cornelia B. Busse reported. The issue probably will be discussed further at following meetings, she said, but no date has been set.

ABAG Names Fanning To BCDC Seat

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Tiburon Mayor Branwell D. Fanning has been elected to represent the Association of Bay Area Governments on the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Fanning was chosen yesterday by ABAG's executive committee to fill one of four ABAG seats on the commission. He will represent four North Bay counties — Marin, Sonoma, Napa and Solano.

He was elected under a new state law that makes BCDC a permanent commission and reorganizes its membership. His appointment gives the Tiburon Peninsula two votes on the 27-member commission, since Belvedere Mayor Thomas S. Price has already been named to BCDC by the Senate Rules Committee.

Fanning, a member of the Tiburon City Council since 1966, is an executive with a San Francisco advertising firm.

Also named to BCDC yesterday was Berkeley City Councilman Bernice H. May. She defeated Albany Mayor Richard O. Clark, who encountered opposition from conversationists after he campainged successfully to have the Albany Isles fill site exempted from Commission control. She will represent the East Bay.

San Francisco Supervisor Robert Mendelsohn will represent the West Bay and Ronald James, San Jose mayor, South Bay.

Albee Not On Sunday

Performances of Edward Albee's play, "A Delicate Balance" will be presented by Terra Linda High School tonight, tomorrow and Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Room 802 of the music building. There will be no performance on Sunday as was erroneously reported in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Bay Pollution Board To Act On San Francisco

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — The City of San Francisco, a major polluter of the bay, is to report exact target dates for building new sewage treatment plants to the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board when it meets Tuesday at the Concord Civic Center, Concord.

The regional board warned San Francisco last month that new construction in the city would be halted if the city doesn't comply with antipollution orders.

The board's all-day session starts at 10 a.m. Jerome B. Gilbert of Novato, executive officer of the state Water Resources Control Board, will discuss the state's tough new antipollution law in an evening session beginning at 8.

Also in the board's agenda during the day sessions are staff reports on cease-and-desist orders against the San Quentin Disposal Site, Gilardi's Resort in Sonoma County, and the Bolinas Community Public Utility Dsitrict.

Judge Won't Halt Hearing On Barb

OAKLAND (UPI)—A superior court judge has refused to stop the Berkeley municipal court trial of the former publisher of the Berkeley Barb on obscenity charges.

"This court is not going to interfere with the lower court," Judge William Brailsford said yesterday. "It is not for me to decide if a cause of action exists."

Paul Halvonik, attorney for defendant Max Scherr, argued that a March 21 issue of the Barb alleged obscene in its entirety was protected by the constitutions of the United States and the state of California.

MASSACRE SURVIVORS?—These men, some bearing old bullet wounds, claim to be survivors of a mass slaughter at the hands of American GIs in March 1968. The men, now at the Bon My government resettlement center, say hundreds of South Vietnamese men, women and children were surrounded and gunned down in the village of Mai-Tai No. 4, but that some survived by playing dead. San Anselmo Garbage Fee Hike Voted

Unlimited garbage pickups will cost San Anselmo residents an extra $2 a month, the San Anselmo City Council agreed last night.

The council approved an offer by the San Anselmo Garbage Disposal Co. to provide weekly residential pickup of an unlimited amount of waste for $4.50 a month in flat areas and $4.75 a month in hilly areas. The waste must be in containers of up to 32 gallons.

Residents will be able to order pickup of only one can a week for rates of $2.50 a month on flat areas, $2.75 in hilly areas. This is an increase from the present rates of $2.30 and $2.60.

The council ordered an ordinance prepared incorporating the changes and redefining the definition of flat and hill areas in the cities, City Administrator-controller Alfred C. Kaeppel reported.

The ordinance may be ready for the Dec. 9 meeting and may be passed as an emergency ordinance to take effect immediately, Kaeppel daid.

Details of the new ordinance are to be worked out between the garbage company, City Atty. John G. Buresh and Councilman James F. Reed.

Provision may also be made for pickup of material such as garden clippings if tied in bundles rather than put in containers, Kaeppel said.

Corte Madera Theater Carpenter Dies In Fall

A 40-year-old carpenter died yesterday after he fell 35 feet onto a sidewalk from the Cinema 21 Theater under construction in Corte Madera, police reported.

Robert A. LaBonte of Paradise, Butte County, died in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital at 5 p.m., two and a half hours after he plunged from a scaffold at 41 Tamal Vista Boulevard, landing on his head and shoulder. Autopsy is pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Other workers for Stendell Construction Company of San Francisco said LaBonte was helping put the roof on when he slipped, grabbed at the scaffolding and fell.

LaBonte is survived by his wife, Eva Jane LaBonte of Paradise. Funeral will be at Paradise, Butte County, with local arrangements by Halstead and Company of San Francisco.

Old Adobe Trustees Eye Vote On Hiking Interest

An election next year to increase the interest rate on bond monies already authorized by voters and a possible tax increase election were considered last night by the Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma.

Supt. Dean D. Lagowan told the board that $500,000 remain in bonds approved in 1968 and are now unsaleable with a fixed interest rate of 5 per cent. Magowan said the board would consider seeking approval to raise the interest rate maximum to 7 per cent.

Magowan said the board scheduled no election date, but was considering September of 1970.

The superintendent told the board that due to the lack of state funds, double sessions may be necessary next fall unless a district tax increase is approved.

The board said it would consider the tax increase possibility along with the proposed bond election.

The Old Adobe School District board also:

HIGH SCHOOL — Heard a report from Lesly H. Meyer, superintendent of Petaluma City Schools, on proposed sites for a junior-senior high school in the vicinity of Casa Grande and Ely roads.

HIGH DENSITY — Asked Magowan to meet with city officials to review proposals for high density housing on the east side of Petaluma and to determine how it might affect school enrollment.

LANDSCAPE — Approved the development of a landscape master plan by William L. Kapranos of San Rafael for $640.

Zoning Delays Fairfax Hearing

Consideration of an application to build an office and store at 2405 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, was postponed last night by the city's planning commission.

The commission and the applicants, Meldon Embury and Harry Brogioli, agreed to delay consideration until after the city's new zoning ordinance is adopted.

The commission also granted a variance on parking requirements at the building at 1599 Sir Francis Drake. The number was reduced from 15 to 12 so there will be room for street improvements and installation of curb and gutter.

Unruh Reception Off To January

A Sausalito reception scheduled tomorrow for Assemblyman Jessie M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, has been postponed to January.

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito, chairman of the Marin County Democratic Central Committee, which was to have sponsored the reception, announced that Unruh had to cancel because of a conflicting fund-raising dinner tomorrow in Los Angeles for former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

The cost of printing announcements for the reception will be reimbursed by Unruh's office, Politzer said.

A reception for the other "noncandidate" for the Democratic nomination for governor, San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto, is being planned for February, Politzer said.

Stereo Goods Taken

Congress Probe Urged In Vietnam Massacre

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress is being urged to investigate the reported massacre of Vietnamese civilians by American soldiers. An Army inquiry into the alleged incidents already has begun in Saigon.

Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., and Rep. William Minshall, R-Ohio, called for the investigations yesterday after three American veterans of Vietnam gave what they said were eyewitness accounts of mass slaying in March 1968, at a number of Vietnamese hamlets. All three said the killings were performed by members of C Company, 1st Battalion, 20th Infantry Regiment, to which they were attached at the time.

Two of the men—Sgt. Michael Bernhardt, 23, now stationed at Fort Dix, N.J., and Michael Terry, 22, now a college student in Utah—reported seeing many of their fellow soldiers gun down Vietnamese peasants, some fleeing and others herded together. The third report came from a former combat photographer, Ronald L. Haeberle, 28, who claimed his comrades "indiscriminately and wantonly mowed down" civilian residents of a small village.

Each man described the incidents separately in published accounts, which Minshall said indicated the facts had been covered up. He said the government's handling of the situation "smacks of the same kind of secrecy that surrounded the Green Beret case."

Minshall said he was asking Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and its defense subcommittee, to question all appropriate Defense Department and Army witnesses at a hearing as soon as possible.

ST. VINCENT'S ARTISTS

With Wood, Paint, Wire

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Rumors to the contrary, the monastic-looking St. Vincent's School for Boys in the farm lands opposite Marinwood, is not a reformatory. And while true that many boys are placed there by the courts, it is more accurately, a substitute home for boys who at the moment, don't happen to have any.

Obviously, these boys have known unusual emotional stress. And for those who believe that exciting art comes from creatively-channelled emotion, St. Vincent's provides a solid argument. The paintings, sculpture and crafts by first through twelfth grade students in this weekend's third annual art show-sale, have an intensity and direction that is arresting.

St. Vincent's art program which flourishes high up under the eaves if the great old mission-like buildings, is purely voluntary.

Its director, school counselor John Crawford says, "It's the one place where there's no pressure. We don't allow any arguments or tattling. They come up here to be themselves, to find self-expression and to relax."

In this light you might call art a therapeutic release. Of course, in part it is. This is usually too subtle to note. But there are a few strong samples such as the drawing one boy did after a counselor refused to take him into San Francisco. He rushed up to the studio where he drew the Golden Gate Bridge with the counselor's car going over the edge. Then, on second thought, he erased the car. Then de drew people on the bridge with the counselor falling over, having decided, Crawford reports, "To hell with it! I'll push him over myself."

The work in the show may be honest but it is never offensive.

"If it's in bad taste," Crawford tells the kids, "forget it!" Remember, if you want to sell, people won't buy junk." And since the proceeds go to the student artists for Christmas spending, they listen.

The work has been attractive enough in past shows to cause at least one near-battle between two ladies coveting the same sculpture and this year the show, which is open Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., is again heavy with good work. "Snoopy is big in the little yard (grades 1-6)," Crawford says. While landscapes, constructiins, ink abstractions, batiks, often-witty sculpture and crafts predominate through high school.

The students' overall high level of ability doesn't just happen. Crawford doesn't believe in being overly protective and while he tries to save hurt feelings he says emphatically, "In the art business, it's important to be honest."

This remark came while looking at an accomplished construction one boy was working on. "The first thing this kid did was really awful and I told him frankly what was wrong with it."

Later he said the boy told him, "Sir, you're the first one who ever bothered. Most people just passed off what I did by saying 'that's good.'" And Crawford continues, estimating his talent, "This boy was straight from the bottom and now he's going straight to the top.

Above all he adds, "The kids call the shots." And translated into art that simply means the imagination and individuality that come across so energetically throughout their student show.

Novato Planners Pass Plans For Apartment House

Plans for a 96-unit apartment house on 4.5 acres south of Ignacio Boulevard and west of Highway 101 were approved yesterday by the Novato Plan Review Committee.

The committee conditioned approval of the plans of Emerson Weiser, according to planning director Brian W. Mattson, on subsequent approval of drainage and grading plans, undergrounding the utilities and submitting landscaping plans.

The committee approved plans for five apartment buildings south of Olive Avenue and east of Railroad Avenue for Canadian American Oil Co. Site plans are to be submitted later.

The landscaping plans and some fencing plans were approved for the Los Robles Mobile Home Park on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard east of the Northwestern Pacific railroad.

Hayakawa Happy With Voter Poll

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — S.I. Hayakawa, of Mill Valley, president of San Francisco State College, says he is flattered by a poll showing him as the strongest Democratic contender in a race next year against Sen. George Murphy.

But he adds: "At present, I am far more concerned with the administration of San Francisco State College than with politics."

The latest California Poll of 834 persons indicated that Hayakawa, known for his stand against militants who closed the college last year, would fare best against Republican Murphy, a former actor expected to seek a second term, losing by a margin of 46 to 40 per cent.

Antidelinquency Support Sought

Involving members of the community in the Marin County Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission will be one of the major targets of the group during the next year, members have agreed.

The commission will form subcommittees to concentrate on specific areas and invite interested persons to serve, chairman Gary T. Giacomini reported.

The commission also decided, at its meeting Wednesday, to identify all Marin agencies which deal with youth. The commission is charged with coordinating activities of those agencies.

In other business, the commission sent a list of 12 persons to the board of supervisors to fill four vacancies.

Woman To Head Church Council?

She is Dr. Cynthia Wedel, 61, Alexandria, Va., wife of a prominent Episcopal theologian, Dr. Theodore O. Wedel.

Mrs. Wedel's name will be placed before the National Council of Churches General Assembly, which meets in Detroit Nov. 30, by the official nominating committee. Always in the past, the nominating committee's choice has been elected by the Assembly as a matter of course.

Informed sources said a black churchman, Bishop F.D. Jordan of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, will be nominated for first vice president of the nation's largest ecumenical organization. Bishop Jordan lives in Los Angeles.

Red, White, Blue Tax Forms Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service unveiled yesterday its new red-white-and-blue version of Form 1040.

Seventy-seven million people are expected to file the new income tax form before the deadline next April 15. For the first time, all individual taxpayers will use the same form, since the new 1040 replaces both the old long form and the short card from 1040A.

"We have done away with the card form 1040A because many taxpayers, in choosing this short form, denied themselves tax advantages to which they were entitled," said Randolph W. Thrower, the commissioner of internal revenue. His statement adorns the front of the 32-page booklet of tax forms, which should be received by most people the first week in January.

TWO-COLOR INK

Like the 1968 forms, most of the new 1040s are printed in blue and red ink on white paper instead of the old style black on white—a change the IRS says cost only $45 more for three new printing plates.

The red calls attention to sections where mistakes are commonly made, such as instructions on which tax table to use.

The biggest change this year is the simplification of putting everything on the front of one sheet. The IRS notes that the new 1040 is similar to the front and back of the old card form.

Instead of itemizing deductions in cramped spaces on the back of the form, as in the past, the taxpayer will find a separate form is provided. Those who do not itemize will throw the separate sheet away.

ADD-A-PAGE

Other schedules, to be used or discarded as needed, provide space for dividend and interest income, sales or exchanges of property, supplemental or miscellaneous income and a special form for tax computation.

IRS called the new system "the add-a-page feature."

About 76 million of the new booklets are being printed at commercial plants in Green Bay, Wis., and Los Angeles, and at the Government Printing Office here.

Total cost of the 65 million booklets most individual taxpayers will receive will be $2,162,499, or an average of less than 3.5 cents each.

Another 11 million 48-page booklets mainly for farmers and businessmen will cost about 5.5 cents each at the Government Printing Office.

Leader Named For Study Of Traffic Court

Warren P. Marsden, a San Francisco attorney, has been appointed project director for a three-year statewide study of the organization of California traffic courts.

The study will involve detailed examination of operating methods in the municipal and justice courts, and include an analysis of the condition of court business and caseloads.

The program was made possible by a $278,500 grant to the California Judicial Council under the provisions of the Federal Highway Safety Act of 1966.

Marsden was an attorney in the Administrative Office of the Courts in 1965 when he resigned to become staff counsel for the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District, a position he held four years before his appointment.

Three Drunken Drivers Fined

Three men have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Frank Ireton Butler, 54, of San Francisco, arrested Oct. 7 on Golden Gate Bridge, was placed on one year probation and fined $302.

Robert Terry Case, 26, of San Francisco, arrested Oct. 2 on Highway 101, was placed on six months' probation and fined $200.

John Federick Winter, 55, of 8 Upper Toyon Drive, Kentfield, was fined $300. He was arrested Oct. 2 on Highway 101.

Point Reyes Speedy Action Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said yesterday he expects Senate consideration early in January of legislation to authorize an additional $38 million to complete land acquisition for the Point Reyes National Seashore in California.

Cranston said Chairman Alan Bible, D-Nev., of the Senate interior subcommittee on parks has assured that the subcommittee will take up the bill as soon as it receives House approval.

The bill has approval of the House subcommittee on parks and is expected to be taken up in the full House Interior Committee next Wednesday.

Cranston said he anticipates House passage by mid-December.

Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., announced after a meeting with President Richard Nixon Tuesday that the President had agreed to request funding for the Point Reyes land acquisition in three annual installments.

Less than half the 54,000 acres of the park on the Marin county peninsula has been acquired with the $19,135,000 previously authorized by Congress.

Junior College Sets Entrance Deadline

Applications for admission to Santa Rosa Junior College for spring semester must be filed by Dec. 15.

Forms may be received by writing or visiting the office of the registrar. Transcripts from schools previously attended and scores from the American College Test are required to obtain forms.

Nine-County Transit Authority For Bay?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, says he will ask the legislature to set up a nine-county Metropolitan Transportation Agency in the San Francisco Bay area.

Foran heads the Assembly-Transportation Committee that completed a series of hearings on the subject in Oakland Wednesday.

He came out for a new agency despite strong pressure to give regional transportation functions to the association of bay area governments.

Officials from both Contra Costa and Marin Counties opposed a new agency at the hearings. Contra Costa Supervisor James B. Moriarty said the ABAG should undertake local regional transportation planning.

Marin Supervisor John McInnis, who is cahirmen of ABAG's Continuing Transportation Planning Committee, concurred.

But legislative analyst Alan Post told the hearing ABAG "is not a government body, but rather a voluntary association... in which local entities are neither compelled to join nor prevented from withdrawing."

Post's testimony was presented by his administrative assistant, James Cooney. The legislative analyst also ruled out the Bay Conservation and Development Commission as an administrator of Bay Area transportation.

The BCDC, he said, is a state agency directly supported by the state general fund and therefore serves on a statewide rather than a regional basis.

Foran said as he envisoned the new Metropolitan Transportation Agency, it would be responsible for planning and priorities and hold some veto powers over existing transit programs.

He said he might reconsider, however, a provision in a similar bill he sponsored which died without action in the last legislature, which would have all the MTA governing board appointed by local governments.

He said it had been suggested that at least half the new board be elected by the public.

Echo Of Past

STUBBEKOBING, Denmark (UPI)—A luxury yacht that belonged to Ivar Kreuger, Swedish match king who disappeared while on a trans-Atlantic flight aboard a commercial airliner in 1932, has been bought by A. Galsgaard, a local planter. Galsgaard purchased the yacht from a Swedish engineer. He refused to disclose the price.

1889 Not much to look at. But P. Menotti started a boat building tradition here. That man knew his trade.

Male's Emergence In Fashion

By WALTER LOGAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you've already bought your fall 1969 wardrobe it's probably too late. But if you have not and want to be a jump ahead in men's fashions here is a rundown of the major trends in men's clothing for spring 1970.

The National Association of Men's Sportswear Buyers (NAMSB) issued monthly reports to guide buyers so they won't be caught short on market trends. So if you're still buying and read this you can look for features what will be a jump ahead.

Shaped single-breasted suits: This is the big spring 1970 fashion model and the leaders have lapels up to four inches wide. It should have roped or soft straight shoulder and center vent with fitted chest, close waistline and higher armhole.

Double-breasted: Manufacturers expected 40 per cent of the spring suits to be shaped double-breasted. The so-called Edwardian look is fading and those on order are being modified to lower and round off the lapel to show off more shirt.

Shape: Shape extends into everything including what used to be the so-called "American silhouette" or "basic" look. The last holdouts against shape were the West Coast producers of the California look and they, too, have gotten on the shape bandwagon.

The tube and squared front single-breasted: The next forward fashion phase of shape is a look some call the tube. It is a tubular body that starts at the top with a high armhole, fits close to the chest and comes down straight and long without flare. This is the model the designers of avant garde came up with. Straight bottom and 3-and 4-button single-breasteds also are part of the designer look.

SPRING 1970 suits for men are emerging with several notable changes as in this model by Hammonton Park. Lapels are at least four inches wider with roped shoulders and a lower gorge to show more shirt and tie. This double breasted suit features a new button treatment, six in a V shape with only the lower one to button, and very high cut armholes. (UPI telephoto)

Straight shoulders: The new look is medium padding and squared off, a compromise between built up and natural shoulders. Designer lines are showing roped and built up shoulders and narrow shoulders on tube type models.

Details: The center vent is taking over from side vents and inverted pleats. Some lapels are up to five inches wide, sometimes stiffened to hold their shape. Pocket flaps will be wide and straight. Suit pants will be a little wider and straighter with flare going out.

Suit colors: Most of the major mills showed darker fabrics for spring 1970 although some style leaders insist on light colors. Multi-color stripes are the important pattern story for spring since stripes complement the new models. Plains are good in textures that look and feel like linen.

Sports coats: Doublebreasteds still extremely strong, particularly in blazers which now account for 65 per cent of sales. Prints have still not really made it but some manufacturers are offering geometrics, abstract animal prints, patchworks, foulard and reptiles. There is less Edwardian uptightness in the spring lines. Blazer suits also are big.

Slacks: There are four categories for spring—flared pants with an 18-inch knee and 19½-inch bottom; straight 19-inch pants with beltloops, flap watch pocket, sometimes reverse pleats; beltless pants with 2-button closure and tucks on each side of the pocket to simulate pleats; three-inch-high waistband, 20 inches wide straight down (for the youngsters). About 75 per cent will be straight, not flared.

Topcoats: Knee-length styles are expected to be the best selling topcoats for spring and single-breasted models will emphasize the wide notched laps. Double-breasteds shown in both six-and eight-button models.

PSYCHIC POWERS

Women Outnumber Men 10 To One

By ARLEEN ABRAHAMS
AP Newsfeature

The next time you hear of a friend's husband's philandering and you worry over whether or not to clue her in, don't give it a second thought. "Chances are 99 to 1 that she already knows of her husband's activities. The only wife who is fooled by a husband's carrying on is one that wants to be. Her psychic powers always tell her when something is wrong."

So says Jess Stearn, author of "Adventures Into the Psychic." He adds that "It's a rare woman whose subconscious isn't attuned to every little nuance of her man." Stearn, who first entered the world of the psychic in 1952 and whose latest book is just one of several he's written on the topic, believes that one reason "men are more jealous lovers than women is because, lacking this intuition, this psychic power, they have to be wary. They just don't get as many hunches."

Reeling off a list of America's leading clairvoyants — Jeane Dixon, who predicted President Kennedy's assassination; Helen Stalls, who in 1965 at a dinner party for Stearn and some friends prophesied Adlai Stevenson would die at a public place abroad shortly and that within two years Jacqueline Kennedy would marry a foreigner; and Anne Gehman, who is often consulted by Florida police who are seeking clues to unsolved crimes — Stearn pointed out that "women outnumber men psychics 10 to 1. Edgar Cayce and a few others are clearly exceptions.

"I have no doubt that women are far more psychic than men," says the former New York City newspaper reporter. "It's been a woman's nature, at least until this generation, to rely primarily on feeling, intuition and second-sense. Men are the conscious thinkers; women function largely by using their unconscious and that's where the psychic lies."

"Although more and more women recently have entered the business world and consequently have trained their conscious minds to function logically, it will take several generations before women lose their psychic advantage over men," Stearn believes. "And who knows, women might revolt and go back to the home before then," chuckles the graying 6-footer.

Stearn admits that prior to 1952, he scoffed at any references to the psychic world. "If a girl I was dating suggested going to a fortune teller, I'd stop seeing her," says the man who now consults fortune tellers and other clairvoyants "all the time."

One day, while covering a story for the New York Daily News, Stearn found himself in mid-Manhattan and in need of a restroom. He walked upstairs to use a restaurant's facilities. Outside the door he encountered a woman who asked him, "Do you want a reading? I'm a sensitive."

"I didn't know if she meant she'd read Dickens or what," he recalls. But after she dropped a few eye openers — the fact that he was in the midst of getting a divorce, the fact that he wouldn't again see the girl with whom he was romantically involved at the time — his interest was peaked.

"Maya Perez was great. She predicted that I'd leave the newspaper business, that I'd write dozens of books and that the third book would become a best-seller." (His third book, "The Sixth Man," dealing with homosexuals, did indeed make the best-seller charts.)

"Then in my interviews as a reporter I became aware of how many people, particularly women and especially actresses, were attuned to astrology, palmistry. This really deepened my interest in the field.

"I remember discussing fortune tellers with Grace Kelly," he recalled. "She told me about one reader who predicted she'd become a famous actress at a time when she couldn't even land a modeling job. And I remember Grace saying, 'But the fortune teller did tell me the silliest thing. She said I'd become a princess.'" A year later Grace Kelly married the Prince of Monaco.

Stearn contends that everyone is more psychic than he realizes. Through training, such as yoga and other forms of meditation, people can develop their psychic powers, says the Malibu resident.

He explains that the basic idea is to get a clear channel to the subconscious mind. Admitting that it took him months of concentration before he was able to rid his mind of conscious thought, he suggests concentrating on God, a tree "anything that will produce a visual picture." The visual picture, he says, is a reflection of the subconscious.

Another technique that he recommends is to record your dreams. "You might not remember them at first, but after you get in the habit of writing them down you'll start to recall them regularly," he enthuses.

How To Talk To The Gas Station Man

One problem for a woman getting her car serviced is that she often has trouble with the language.

Service station men, like people in many other specialized professions, have their own way of saying things. As time goes on, they forget you may not "comprende la lingua".

To add to the confusion, when you confront your favorite car-care expert with, "My husband said you'll probably want to check the framiscron — or something like that," nobody knows what anybody is talking about.

What can be done about it?

The first thing you can do is to be sure of what your husband said. Next for the uninitiated, here is a pot pourri of expressions your automotive service man may throw at you.

For example: When he says, "You're aimed at the tree tops and weak on low beam," what he means is, "With your headlights that far out of aim, and one of them weak, you're lucky you can see at all. And how about the other drivers you are blinding?" To correct this, have your headlights checked for aim every six months and inspected more often for weak or burned out bulbs.

Ready for some more?

He says, "This sludge will wreck your lifters."

He means dirty oil and a clogged oil filter aren't doing their job. Grit and other contaminants work their way into finely machined parts of your car, including the valve lifters. The result is a noisy engine that grows old too soon.

The solution? The proper oil-change practice recommended by the American Petroleum Institute is: Change motor oil every 3,000 miles or three months, whichever comes first (but never exceed the car maker's warranty requirements for oil change). Also have a new oil filter installed every other oil change when following this practice.

"She's about to blow this hose."

This is a warning that you would be stranded in the middle of nowhere with a burned-up engine. Radiator hoses don't last forever, and with pressurized cooling systems (which work on the same principle as the pressure cooker in your kitchen) when a worn-out hose bursts, it really goes! Have your service station man give your car's cooling system a thorough going over twice a year.

"You've got corrosion on your terminals."

Translation: You may have trouble getting your car started unless you have the important battery connections cleaned and tightened. Have the battery and generator (or alternator) and other parts of the electrical system checked over in the fall and spring.

"It acts like your PCV is clogged."

Very simply, PCV means pos-

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Medication Plus Psychotherapy Is New Mental Illness Treatment

DEAR HELEN:

If anyone writes to you in desperation; "Helen, I've been seeing a psychiatrist regularly but it's not helping. . . ." I thought you'd be happy to know that today there is still another place to turn. My husband literally dragged me to a doctor, connected with Columbia Medical School and Rockland State Hospital, who is doing research work with drug-therapy for emotional illness. The four-bit title for this is psychopharmacotherapy.

The doctor placed me on an experimental medication which has sustained me beautifully for three years now. In fact, I hold a responsible part time job; my family is united, and the children are doing us proud. My health is excellent, proving that continued use of drugs is not harmful — if taken under a doctor's supervision of course.

While on medication, most patients (who might otherwise be hiding their heads under a pillow in a darkened room or hitting the bottle to escape) react normally and can carry on their everyday lives. My doctor believes this method is tailor-made for the person who needs help desparately but who refuses to see a psychiatrist either through fear he will be labeled a nut or because of financial reasons — or because he is unwilling to bare his innermost feelings. This way he's simply going to a doctor and receiving medication. Appointments can be spaced a month or more apart and the cost is much less.

Of course drug therapy can be used in conjunction with traditional psychotherapy with excellent results.

Believe me, Helen, I am not disparaging psychiatrists and psychologists who practice psychotherapy. Just wanted you to know that if talking it out doesn't help, there's no need for anyone to throw in the sponge.

While our scientists are sending men to the moon, they are also discovering new ways to deal with problems of mental illness here on earth.—D.A.

DEAR READERS:

More and more mental health clinics and psychotherapists are swinging to Psychopharmacotherapy often in conjunction with traditional treatments for emotional illness.

To locate doctors doing this type of work in your area, contact your County Medical Association. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Would you please again remind people how tactless and hurtful it is to ask, "Why aren't you having a family?" or "What, just one child?"

This is sheer cruelty to a couple who does not want to discuss its secret. We have a lovely three-year-old- girl. But my husband and I are on the verge of separation. No one knows — we put on a good show. But it would be disastrous to start another baby just now.

Yet friends are constantly alluding to only children, and asking why. Our lives are tough enough, without this. Sometimes I want to scream, "Mind your own business."

How can you shut such people up? — H.C.B.

DEAR H:

Don't let these tactless people put you on the defensive. Look them straight in the eye, smile, and say, "You're rattling our private cage. Let's change the subject" — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

A Sudden Teddy-Bear Fad Is Taking Over Coats And Suits

By JANE ROGERS
London Express Service

You may not be feeling in a particularly furry mood at the moment, but a sudden fad for the teddy-bear look is taking over for coats, suits and tailored clothes.

It all started when a fashion manufacturer found a huge supply of teddy-bear cloth in improbable colors lurking at the back of his warehouse, a hangover from the days when he was involved in toy manufacturing. His daughter, a trendy teen-ager, saw the cloth and said it would make up into a super floor-length coat. He had it dyed to more sober saner colorings and, presto, there's a sudden rash of furry maxi-coats around, double-breasted, belted and fastened with huge buttons.

At the same time the fur fabric industry has at last come round to the idea that fun fake furs should be fun, not pale imitations of the real thing, and have come out with a range of furry cloths that are used not just for coats and outer garments but casual clothes as well. They're making them in super light-weights that aren't necessarily intended to keep out the cold but just to look furry and pretty.

THERE ARE, for instance, wide furry trousers cut like cowboys' chaps, worn with a gun-slinging leather belt. The loops for bullets are used to hold lipsticks and other items like that. There's a furry mini-skirt in a mock tartan and for evening and hostess wear a long luxurious furry cloth skirt with a slight sheen in it that makes it look as if its made from black sealskin without the wearer feeling guilty about wearing an animal pelt.

Most fun of all, perhaps, are the ton-up clothes — battle-dress jackets, jeans and skirts made from shiny cire cloth trimmed with furry collars and cuffs. Some of them look like flying jackets, others like motor-cyclists' gear, all of them are exceedingly chic in a casual sort of way if you have a long slender shape.

The most practical use of furry fabric is of course the thin, lightweight mac that you wear now, plus a furry lining ing some improbable animal pattern like lion or hyena that you zip in when the weather gets cold. But remember that fur added this way adds inches to your shape too, so try it on with its lining first, before you finally make up your mind.

Faced with all this competition from fake furs, it's not surprising that the real fur designers are fighting back with up-to-the-minute designs and lower prices.

THEY'RE MIXING two kinds of furs, for instance, one flat, one hairy, to give a new fashion effect, broadtail or Persian lamb trimmed with fox. The trend this year is very much away from the hairy bulky ape-man coat and toward clothes that are tailored very much as if the fur is a fabric. There is a black suit with a swing skirt and a carefully tailored jacket made up in broadtail which is, if you're not up in furs, a flatter, less curly version of Persian lamb. This is strictly for the rich girls, however, who want 'throw-away clothes' made from fur. The rest if us would rather let the rest of the world know that we've got a fur coat — and how.

A SURE fire seller, this below-the-knee-length trouser suit of Persian lamb and black fox can be copied in astrakan and fox to sell at a fraction of the price of the real thing.

At the recent furriers' shows I spotted a snazzy below-the-knee-length trouser suit in Persian lamb worn with boots and trimmed with black fox, dying to be copied in astrakan and fox at a fraction of the price.

And if you don't feel in a furry mood look out for new accessories such as hats and belts, the in things to have them made from, from now on are either snakeskin or real fur — it's one way to make a little skin go a long way.

itive crankcase ventilation. Your car could be polluting the air and seriously hampering the performance of your engine. Have this valve checked every time you have the oil changed.

"Your timing is so late, I'm surprised she ran at all".

The service man is talking about late ignition timing, an indication that you are late for your tune-up. A minor tune-up should be done every six months. A complete tune-up, which includes new ignition parts, spark plugs and the other things that keep your car running right, should be done every year or 12,000 miles.

"You're toed out, Ma'am, and slightly out of balance."

Nothing personal. Your car probably is not steering too well. It may be shaking, wobbling and wearing a lot of rubber off the tires — all because you haven't had the front wheels aligned and balanced in awhile. Don't put it off any longer.

No wonder you have been having trouble seeing in the rain. Wiper blades can grow brittle, dull and inefficient after about six months of normal use. After a couple of years, the wiper arms lose their tension and don't exert the right amount of pressure, to hold the blades against the glass. Solution: New ones.

"You need two clamps and a pipe to get you back in shape."

He is talking about exhaust pipes and the clamps that keep connections tight. When any parts of your exhaust system rust through you are in trouble. Worse than the noise is the carbon monoxide gas that can creep into your car. It is lethal.

"We changed your fluid, tightened your bands and adjusted your linkage; so it ought to feel better now."

It certainly should. Your car had been feeling sluggish, seemed to slip when it should have been shifting. It needed ATF (automatic transmission fluid) and some adjustments to get it back to normal. Lucky your service station man found this when he did, because neglect could cost you the price of a transmission overhaul.

"We can handle your warranty services."

Now you are both talking the same language. He is telling you that his service station is equipped and qualified to handle all routine services required to keep your car's warranty valid. All you have to do is make sure required maintenance is done on time and that you keep receipts in case of a future warranty claim to show that you had the services performed on schedule.

Overtidy Housewives Rebuked

BOSTON (WMNS) — Superhousewifery may not be advisable but it is not a clear and present danger compared to other careless customs, in the opinion of the New England Journal of Medicine, a studious publication that seldom strays from examining and operating rooms.

The Journal rebukes overtidy housewives who insist on polishing dishes fresh from the dishwasher — a practice that spreads bacteria — and advises non-owners of dishwashers to allow their dishes to dry in the rack.

But, asks the Journal, what about these customs "that disregard the simplest elements of sanitation?"

The family use of a single tube to toothpaste;

Hanging toothbrushes on a common rack and sharing a common bathroom glass;

Exchanging lipsticks and combs;

Tasting food on the stove with a stirring spoon that goes back into the pot;

Feeding the baby from the parental plate with the parental fork;

Failing to wash your hands after using the toilet.

Although all these are less innocuous than germy dish towels, the Journal nevertheless remains cheerful: "Mankind still has a chance of survival by the development of natural immunities."

Shall it be cheese fondue for dinner, with everyone dipping repeatedly into a common pot?

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Just how much do Americans really know about the Pilgrim Fathers? Very little, says one man who knows a great deal about them. He is Charles H. Salt, a new Marin resident. And he hails from Lincolnshire, England, where the Pilgrim story all began. Salt is a long-time student of Pilgrim history, and in tomorrow's issue of the Marin Magazine, through its editor, Don Keown, he tells the story of what took place before the sailing of the Mayflower.

The Women's Air Force members serve many vital functions for Uncle Sam's military. And one of the most important is their work in base hospitals. Writer Lois Jane Cleveland tells just how important these functions are with a story in tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement about three of these young women, assigned to the Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital. "The WAFs," say male airmen, "are the greatest girls a guy could meet." You will agree with them.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, Nov. 21, the 325th day of 1969 with 40 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1877, Thomas Edison announced the invention of what he called the talking machine.

In 1938, the Nazis took over the western regions of Czechoslovakia and declared all persons in those areas German citizens.

In 1960, the first direct clash between the Congolese army and United Nations troops took place in Leopoldville.

A thought for the day: Daniel Webster said, "Let our object be our country, our whole country and nothing but our country."

Three-County Conclave Slated

Junior high school students from Novato and Sonoma and Napa counties will attend a conference tomorrow on better school government, sponsored by the National Bay League of Schools.

The conference will begin at 9 a.m. at San Jose Junior High School, 1000 San Jose Boulevard, Novato.

HOW TO PLAY BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In Mapping Out Play, Count Your Tricks Before Action

You can often get away with planning the play of a hand only after you have played a few tricks. The cards are sometimes well placed, or the opponents mishandle the defense, and you somehow land on your feet. So don't pay any attention to today's hand: it probably won't happen to you.

BIG ACE

South won the first trick with the ace of hearts and led the king of spades without giving the hand any thought at all. When both opponents played low trumps, South led the queen of spades next.

East took the ace of spades with ominous speed and just as ominously returned a third round of trumps. This left only two trumps in the dummy, and South eventually discovered that he couldn't trump three red cards with only two trumps. South lost the ace of spades, a club trick, a diamond and one other red card that he couldn't ruff in dummy.

NEEDS SIX TRUMPS

South should count his tricks from the very beginning of the hand. He can win three aces and a king in the side suits and therefore needs six trump tricks to make his contract. This can be done by ruffing three cards in the dummy, but it is much simpler to ruff two cards in the South hand.

After taking the ace of hearts South should lead a club and try the finesse. East takes the king of clubs and will probably lead out the ace of trumps and then a low trump.

RUFF ACTION

South leads a club to the ace, ruffs a club, ruffs a heart in dummy to ruff another club and ruffs another heart to return to dummy.

Declarer then leads the ten of spades to draw the last trump and cashes the top diamonds to amass a total of 10 tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♥ 9 7 6 2
♦ Q J 9 7 6
♣ 10 8 7

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two hearts.

You have only three points in high cards but should count another three points for the singleton when you have four trumps. Strain to raise partner's major suit when you have four-card trump support and only a singleton in the other major.

CONCERT REVIEW

Pianist Has Worthy Idea But Bad Evening

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Pianist Daniel Scarlett proved in one of his "keyboard conversations" Wednesday night at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley that he has the right formula for allowing an audience to enjoy music in a delightfully informal milieu. But it didn't work out just right.

The setting for his "Evening with Chopin and Schumann" was perfect: the intimate, artistic atmosphere of the clubhouse with a cheery fire blazing in the stone fireplace on the stage and wine served at intermission.

Dressed in a gray Douglas kilt of his Scottish ancestors, Scarlett was far from the formally clad recitalist. A relaxed performer, he put his near capacity audience at ease immediately with some chatty and informative comments on 19th Century music. His chosen composers were among those who avoided its evils of bombast and runaway emotionalism.

Other devices adding to the informality were his playing from the music — seldom seen in solo recitals — and reading interesting little sidelights from books.

What then didn't work out just right?

First, Scarlett seemed incapable of maintaining an audible level after a sentence or two. I can only think he had an off night — and this can happen to any musician.

He started out very well with Schumann's 13 little "Kinderscenen," continued safely through three Chopin mazurkas. Then, he played the Chopin Polonaise in C Sharp Minor instead of the one in E Flat Major listed on the program. Happily it wasn't the warhorse Polonaise in A Major — much credit to him.

But he was unable to complete the Chopin Ballade in F Major, saying he guessed it had just got away from him.

After intermission Scarlett recouped with the best work of the evening in several Schumann symphonic etudes. He was wise to conclude the program with three more Chopin mazurkas instead of that composer's "Berceuse" and Scherzo in B Minor listed on the program.

For an encore he played Schumann's charming "The Prophet Bird." He performs Schumann better than Chopin, at least this was so last night.

Despite the mishaps, Scarlett has an ingratiating personality and musical gifts, and I am sure many in the audience enjoyed the evening.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Honeymoon Machine" — Lively Navy farce about young officers who use a computer to break the bank at the casino in Venice. Hilarious comedy.

"Undefeated" — A fullbodied post Civil War adventure. Plot enriched by touches of humor and warm friendships that develop between former adversaries. Violence of war shown in well-directed fighting sequences.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Alice's Restaurant" — Thought provoking true happening in New England village in 1964-67. Story told with implied criticism of Establishment and its follies, shows the immature, uncommitted, unmotivated hippies in their own milieu, enjoying their "pot" with sexual abandon and harming only themselves. For only the most mature teens.

"Bandolero" — Well made and well cast, very violent Western has a fitting background of fine desert scenery.

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid"—True story of two bank and train robbers in the late 1800s who were popularized by the news media is treated as comedy. Robbers move to Bolivia to continue their trade with mixed results. Delightful scenery, imaginative camera work, clever score and memorable performances from cast.

"Heart Is a Lonely Hunter" — A rather sad story about a deaf-mute who in his loneliness touches the lives of many. Compassionate tale is tenderly told and played with rare perception.

"Lion in Winter" — Rich, explosive drama that makes brilliant reality out of distant history. Intrigues and maneuverings makes for high drama. Excellent production.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

"Southern Star" — Based on a novel by Jules Verne this complicated but trite melodrama is set in Africa where the world's largest diamond disappears at a party. The chase through the beautiful wilds is rather predictable.

BORDERLINE
(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Rosemary's Baby" — About a young woman who is marked by witches to conceive and bear Satan's baby. Brutal rape scene, nightmare during pregnancy and hospital scene during delivery add up to 90 minutes of sensationalism, shock and terror. Parents should not be misled by title.

ADULTS ONLY

"Easy Rider" — Two dope pushers take a motorcycle trip from Los Angeles to New Orleans. Film relates their experiences which provoke much soul searching about man's inhumanity to man.

"Goodbye Columbus" — A rich and spoiled college-age girl's summer love affair with a young man who is not ready for commitment and their dispute about using contraceptives. Their choice of values make a very frank and sophisticated film. Acting and photography good.

"I Am Curious, Yellow" — Complex movie-within-a-movie structure is somewhat confusing and laborious. A Swedish social expose which received undue publicity when seized by customs because of explicit treatment of sex, depicting intercourse and oral-genital contact full view, full length and minus strategic shadows or cutaways. Even for sophisticates who are not offended, there is just too much "bare" sex for one film. (Parents Magazine)

"Last Summer" — A thought-provoking drama about grouping up, stuns as it moves from youthful activity to depravity with a frightening combination of innocence, thwarted sex drives and destructive impulses in the skillful interplay of these groping, growing personalities.

"Midnight Cowboy" — An off-beat film peopled with the dregs of society is somber and hard hitting. A crippled small time chiseler first exploits and then befriends a vain Texan who comes to New York to be a male prostitute. Sordid story told in an uncompromising way and tempered by director's technical skill gives meaning to the term "adult movie." (Parents Magazine)

"Wild Bunch" — Opens and closes with two action sequences of such awesome brutality and explicit gruesomeness as to leave unprepared audiences in a state of shock. Director in attempting to make a statement about the true horror of gunplay completely deglorifies the act. Children are included in these scenes, their repeated exposure to violence makes them immune to its effects with emulation of their elders the inevitable result. Top-flight cast.

About 26 millionaires have residences in rural Talbot County on Maryland's Eastern shore.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Miracle Mile Proving To Be Fertile Restaurant Ground

In past years the Miracle Mile joining San Rafael and San Anselmo, has never been particularly fertile ground for the restaurant business.

Perhaps that is changing. A few have done well recently and I understand McDonald's is looking over the traffic flow and is planning a restaurant in the San Rafael section.

Certainly one of the most successful places on the entire stretch is London Arms on the San Anselmo side, which started out with one small store space and has now trebled in size. Owner Don Johnson reports that if he had closed out business for 1969 at the end of October he would still be ahead of all last year.

Not only is London Arms perpetually busy (you'll have to wait on weekends) but it is interesting in decor and action — and relaxing. It is definitely suitable for families and the kids love it.

Designed as an English pub, it carries out that atmosphere well, especially since Don's wife Betty designed the new barmaid costumes for the waitresses (each one different).

But the real test of any restaurant has to be the food. If it happens to be good and also reasonably priced there is no dearth of customers. One page of the London Arms menu tells the entire story — the others are devoted to special wines, wine cocktails and many imported ales and beers (on draft and bottled).

Dinners are limited to such entrees as Icelandic haddock, Icelandic cod, scallops, English sole, prawns and Cornish pasties. The latter (pronounced pahsties) are something like individual beef pies. Scotch beef pies and English pork pies are among the a la carte items. Add several interesting desserts and beverages. Haddock on the dinner is $1.50. So are the pasties.

Now in the cast is guitarist Fritz Von Gluck, a musician and one who has an amazing memory for scores. He plays weekends.

THE MATTSSONS at the Old Viking in Lagunitas are among those who have reported they will be open Thanksgiving, serving from 1 p.m. Reservations are important.

Menu includes the traditional roast turkey with dressing and giblet gravy — also roast duck and the regular menu. There is also a children's menu.

BILL AND ADOLPH'S WEST END VILLA never fails to stay open on Thanksgiving and dinner reservations are already piling up. Both small dining rooms are already booked. Service will be from 2 p.m.

If you are considering having a fair size family group, talk to Bill Bisson about having your own turkey carved at the table.

Other West End news: The restaurant is now serving its popular cannelloni to take out. Phone before you call for it and it will be freshly packaged in an aluminum tray with all the cheese and sauces. And for the holidays, the 5 to 7 p.m. cocktail period now features double bar drinks for $1. Hot hors d'oeuvres are served.

KIRBY ATTERBURY is keeping the Caprice in Tiburon open for Thanksgiving dinners this year. Service will be from 4 p.m. Definitely make reservations.

Regular menu will be served — also turkey. But you'll have to order the turkey in advance when you telephone.

AT LE CHALET BASQUE, Santa Venetia, the Coscarats plan on serving Thanksgiving dinner from 4 p.m. Regular menu will be featured — plus roast turkey.

OAK TREE INN at San Geronimo will serve Thanksgiving dinners from 3 p.m. Regular menu will not be served, but you can order either roast turkey with stuffing or baked ham with champagne sauce. Ray Brunal reports the complete dinner will be $3.50, with children's service at $2.

FRANCHINI'S CHATEAU at 101 Highway and Lucas Valley Road is again featuring its traditional crab cioppino dinners Friday nights. Oversized bibs are provided. Franchini's will be closed Thanksgiving.

Roy and Bess Franchini, who will be taking over the food service at Buckingham Golf and Country Club near Kelseyville, Lake County by the end of the year, have decided on this appropriate name for their lunch, dinner and cocktails operation — Franchini's Tee Room.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in many years, Rancho Nicasio is closing for Thanksgiving. But it will be open Friday and Saturday as usual.

Reservations are now being taken for the Rancho's annual New Year's Eve party. This always books up fast.

THE VALANS at the Grotto in San Rafael, which now has its bar and cocktail lounge completed, report that they too, will be closed on Thanksgiving.

Meanwhile, the menu here includes crab cioppino all the time — for both lunch and dinner. And the lunch carte now includes 25 different sandwiches, most of them seafood. One of the big favorites is the "sloppy fish Joe sandwich," big, fat and juciy, made with fresh sole served with garnish and salad at $1.25.

HOWARD AND MARY CADWELL are celebrating their first anniversary of ownership of the Fleur de France, San Rafael on Monday.

This restaurant will be closed Thanksgiving, as well as on next Friday, Saturday and Sunday so the Cadwells can take a well-earned holiday.

AL BARTHEL is starting up lunches again at Senor Alftredo's Mexican Restaurant in San Anselmo — Mondays through Fridays from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. This will also be closed Thanksgiving.

WAYNE HENNINGER, owner of the Kettle, Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael, is diversifying and is now a principal in new motel at Shingle Springs in El Dorado County. It is called Cameron Park Inn and is on Highway 50, 28 miles east of Sacramento, at the foot of the snow country.

Reservations for the motel may be made at the Kettle.

DON HARRIS, whose San Francisco Diners Out Club in San Rafael is now completing its first year, has been continually expanding.

This dinner coupon operation has acquired a total of 5,000 members and 14 participating restaurants in Marin, 27 in San Francisco and still more in the rest of the Bay Area.

And the club now has an office in Walnut Creek and is establishing more in Oakland, San Mateo and Palo Alto. The company has incorporated and is issuing franchises in these areas.

RON BRANDES, of the new Bib 'n' Rib at 71 Red Hill Avenue on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile has been going over some of his grandmother's old recipes. He has come up with two new food items for his menu.

One of these is her sour cream raisin pie, which Ron says used to be called "poor man's pie." It isn't intended to be a holiday pie, although you may find that it qualifies. He's also using her recipe for stuffed hickory-smoked sausage. Both are available to eat on the premises or take out.

Try Bib 'n' Rib for lunches from 11:30 a.m. to p.m. It features a number of smoked meat sandwiches that should please you.

PINKY'S PIZZA in the Nave Shopping Center is holding its grand opening this week. Having actually been open since May, owners Art Schottie, Al Burns and Bud Benson say they don't dare hold off a celebration any longer.

This is a take-out-and-delivery establishment only. No food is served on the premises. This and the Petaluma Pinky's are the two exceptions in this regard. A drawing is being held Monday. First prize is a trip to Disneyland.

ARTIST Mrs. Betty Lamb is showing her paintings at the Palate in Mill Valley for the month of November. Her works have been accepted for juried shows in the Bay Area and Nevada A Mill Valley resident, she is a member of the Marin Society of Artist.

The Palate is one of the Marin restaurants remaining open for Thanksgiving dinner this year.

RUBINI'S in Fairfax will close Monday, Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday next week for refurbishing. It will reopen for business again on Friday.

Chinese Communists have declared there is a place for "spirits" in Chinese life under Mao Tsetung, but "wizards, fairies, and ghosts" are prohibited.

College Bicycle Rider Injured

James M. Jones, of 9767 Minnesota Avenue, Cotati, was treated at the college dispensary and Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital for a shoulder injury.

The California Highway Patrol said the bicycle swerved into the path of a car driven by Freddie A. Colbert of Santa Rosa, also a college student.

School Burglarized

Conservancy Given Land At Tiburon

Two Tiburon sisters have given a 5.4-acre tideland parcel off Tiburon's north shore to the Nature Conservancy, the conservation agency has announced.

The tidelands, lying immediately south of the Paradise Cay development, were donated by Harriet Day Robbins and Elma Louise Day, descendants of early-day Marin rancher George Ring, who owned large holdings along the Paradise side of the peninsula.

Gregory Archbald of the Nature Conservancy said the gift will prevent expansion of the Paradise Cay fill to the south, and will encourage gifts of tidelands down the coast to preserve the natural coastline.

Announcement of the gift is part of the Nature Conservancy's campaign to save key lands in San Francisco Bay from development.

Biggest acquisition so far is 330 acres of Lower Tubbs Island in southern Sonoma County.

The conservancy has set a fund-raising goal of $10 million to buy key bay sites. Largest gift so far is a $25,000 grant from the San Francisco Foundation.

The Nature Conservancy helped forestall plans for development in Bolinas Lagoon in 1967 by buying Kent Island, a key part of the plan, and giving it to Marin County.

San Rafael Planner Get Towers Problems

The design for an office building near Marin's Civic Center which has upset some county officials will go to the San Rafael Planning Commission Tuesday with minor changes.

Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner said the changes were part of a city effort to cooperate with the county to establish a basis of mutual understanding on future development adjacent to the county-owned property.

However, the major objection — has not been hurdled.

The county planning staff has argued that the hill proposed for the office building forms one of the natural backdrops of the Civic Center, and any structure there should be as unobtrusive as possible.

Hotchner, in a letter yesterday to Werner Von Gundell, chief of current planning for the county, pointed out the owner was "permitted to destroy the natural topography by removing the nose of the hill which served as the natural frame and backdrop for the Civic Center basin."

He added, "After grading a flat bench, an unnatural condition existed. Consequently any proposed development cannot be reviewed on the basis of the topography as we would like to have found it, but rather, must be evaluated on the basis of what treatment is suitable for the existing unnatural flat bench of several acres."

Hotchner said there are few points from which the Civic Center and the building could be seen.

The building, planned by American Pacific Life Insurance Co., is expected to cost $2.5 million. Plans call for a three-story structure with twin seven-story towers.

Rambling Youth Pleads Innocent

Edward Gerald Timmer, 21, of no fixed address, who was arrested at the Stinson Beach Motel Tuesday, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana.

A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Judge Peter Allen Smith refused to release Timmer on his own recognizance after learning from a probation officer that the youth is traveling around the country since his release from the Army and has no fixed address.

Liz Taylor Set For Debut On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor will make her dramatic debut on television in a one-hour, original dramatic special to be broadcast by NBC during the 1970-71 season.

Mort Werner, NBC vice president for programs and talent, said yesterday the teleplay is being developed and will be produced in England by the Harlech Television and Independent Associated Television companies in association with NBC.

The producers said Miss Taylor's fee — reportedly $240,000— is the highest ever offered for a single television performance.

Nixon's Foreign Aid Bill Survives

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon's first foreign aid bill has squeaked through the House, trimmed to $2.19 billion but not battered.

The action was packed into a nearly eight-hour session which ended last night with a tense series of three roll call votes.

Enough Republicans rallied behind Nixon in the early fighting to ward off deeper cuts proposed by some of their own members. The President had asked for $2.6 billion for foreign aid.

When the day was over, the bill was sent to the Senate on a 176-163 vote. In addition to the spending ceiling for this almost half-gone fiscal year it also contains a nearly identical authorization for 1971.

But the final outcome appeared in doubt for a time as a bloc of liberal Democrats delayed their voting in protest to cuts in development loans and a proposal to give Nationalist China $54.5 million for planes.

Last year, when Democratic President Lyndon B. Johnson's proposal was slashed about $1 billion, a group of House Republicans led a floor onslaught which resulted in cuts of about $370 million.

But this year Rep. E. Ross Adair of Indiana, the ranking GOP member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee who led the anti-Johnson attack, proposed only one cutting amendment.

He succeeded in reducing development loans by $50 million on a 185-157 vote after the committee earlier had cut it back $200 million.

On final passage, 106 Democrats and 70 Republicans joined forces to vote for the bill which was opposed by 86 Democrats and 77 Republicans.

But on a 176-169 vote on the planes for Formosa, proposed by Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., there were 92 Republicans and 84 Democrats in favor of the issue and 111 Democrats and 58 Republicans opposed.

Rep. Donald M. Fraser, D-Minn., who led the fight against the planes, questioned whether Formosa was in danger of an invasion and termed it ridiculous to give planes to that country when Israel "which is under attack day after day is required to pay."

Major provisions of the bill include:

Technical assistance, $422,620,000; development loans, $425,500,000; Latin America's Alliance for Progress loans, $337,500,000; supporting assistance $414,600,000 and military aid, $350 million with a special addition of $50 million for South Korea.

There also is an earmarking of $75 million this year and $100 million in fiscal 1971 for family planning programs, $40 million to help build a desalting plant in Israel, and new authority for a Nixon-proposed overseas private investment corporation designed to promote private investment in developing lands.

Youth Arraigned On Drug Charge

John Keats Thomson Jr., 19, of San Rafael, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court in a charge of possessing marijuana. His case was continued until next Thursday for entry of plea.

Thomson was arrested Wednesday night when deputies saw his car on Tiburon with only one headlight on. The deputy said that he found butts of what appeared to be marijuana cigarettes in the car.

No charges were filed yesterday in court against two other youths arrested with Thomson, Theodore Edward Berquist, 19, of Fairfax, and Philip Kith Fitzhugh, 18, of Ross.

L. A. Educator Resigns Office

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. Jack F. Crowther has resigned as superintendent of the Los Angeles School District, second in size only to New York's.

Crowther, 60, gave no reason in his letter of resignation submitted last night to the Board of Education, but a board spokesman said he has not been in the best health and had recently expressed a desire to retire.

The resignation is effective Jan. 9, but Crowther said he would stay until April 8 if needed.

Crowther, superintendent since Jan. 1, 1962, went to work in the district 35 years ago as a night teacher.

Cyclamates Restrictions Are Eased

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The government has decided to allow food products containing cyclamate to remain on the market, but it warns consumers to buy them only on the advice of a doctor.

HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch, who announced the decision Thursday, said the previously announced ban on beverages containing the artificial sweetener, including "diet pop", would remain in effect. That order bans all beverages containing cyclamate after Jan. 1, 1970.

But Finch, in accepting the recommendations of a scientific panel assigned to study the problem, said food products containing cyclamate would continue on the market, on a nonprescription basis. They would, however, carry a label cautioning the buyer and informing him of how much cyclamate would be contained in an average serving of the product.

The committee said cyclamated foods should remain available to the public to help diabetics, especially youngsters, and to aid those with weight problems. It said the "medical benefits in these instances outweigh the possibility for harm..."

Probation Officials Will Consider Case

The case of Robert J. Kirby, 19, of San Rafael, yesterday was referred by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court to probation officers for a report on whether it is acceptable to juvenile court.

Kirby is accused of a felony battery upon a police officer and possessing an open container of liquor in his car on Nov. 13. A sheriff's deputy said that Kirby resisted arrest of the alcohol violation by shoving and then kicking the deputy in the groin. A second deputy finally sbudued the youth, he said.

Crackdown Speeded On DDT, All Poisons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin, after moving to eliminate all but emergency uses of DDT by the end of 1970, is planning steps to restrict the widespread application of other persistent pesticides.

In accelerating efforts to halt the use of DDT, Hardin said yesterday he intends to:

Cancel in 30 days the registration of DDT for use against pests in homes, gardens, shade trees, tobacco fields and aquatic areas.

Outlaw by Dec. 30, 1970, all uses of DDT except for emergency control of diseases and massive crop pest infestations.

The secretary said he would begin taking action in March against other persistent pesticides "using the same criteria and procedures being applied to DDT."

Hardin's decision for a general ban against DDT by the end of 1970 cuts in half the timetable proposed by Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, who urged DDT be phased out for all but emergency uses in two years.

Finch made his statement about two weeks ago. At the same time, he warned that action curtailing the use of DDT could result in greater application of other members of the family of hard pesticides. These include dieldrin, aldrin, endrin, heptachlor, chlordane and Lindane.

Hardin's plan to review uses of other hard pesticides apparently is an effort to encourage the use of substitute chemicals or alternative methods of treatment for DDT instead of relying on one of its long-lived cousins.

The plan to cancel the registration of DDT for use around the home and in tobacco fields would prohibit interstate shipment or sale of some 14 million pounds of the long-lived insecticide—about 35 per cent of the total DDT used in this country.

Hardin's action would not prohibit a person from using stocks of DDT presently in his possession.

The secretary's action was endorsed yesterday by the President's Environmental Quality Council after its meeting with President Richard M. Nixon at the White House.

The council's executive secretary, Dr. Lee DuBridge, said the ban on DDT came because of its possible harmful effects.

In a related action, Hardin said his department would relinquish its authority to determine the health hazards posed by pesticides.

Instead, the department will rely on HEW to document which chemicals are safe for human consumption before taking any action to approve or cancel the registration of economic poisons, he said.

Tax Lien Filed On Silverthorne

A tax lien of $2,047,340 has been filed by the United States government against Don C. and Ann Silverthorne, 7 Salt Landing, Tiburon.

The former president of the defunct San Francisco National Bank, who was sentenced in the U.S. District Court last August to eight years in jail for manipulation and mismanagement if bank funds, has remained free on $15,000 personal bond pending appeal of his conviction by his attorney, George C. Martinez.

He was earlier reported by Martinez to be living in a small apartment in Tiburon, collecting Social Security checks.

HOMES OF THE FUTURE?—Showing plans and papers, Clarence O. Bullard of Tiburon stands before a supermarket parking lot, which he says could be used to provide low-cost housing by developing air space over the parking. (Independent-Journal photo)

LOW COST SOLUTION?

Tiburon Citizen Wants Parking On Ground, Housing Upstairs

By ANNE BARDWELL

Those parking lots full of cars around supermarkets and shopping centers generally are considered a necessary but aesthetically unpleasant evil.

However, according to Clarence O. Bullard, a Tiburon writer and real estate man, those same parking lots could serve a socially useful function and have their aesthetic quality improved by being utilized as the base for low cost housing.

Bullard envisions adapting ancient European style housing developments to modern American needs by constructing two or more stories of low cost housing in the air space over existing parking areas.

It's not a new idea, as he's the first to admit. But believing in action as well as ideas, he's followed up on his thoughts by conducting a one-man campaign to convince major Tiburon Peninsula property owners that such a development can be to their advantage.

Bullard first became aware of the county's needs for low cost housing for the elderly and others with low incomes at a conference on housing needs held recently at Dominican College.

After a few days of thinking, he kicked off his campaign by writing to Fred G. Zelinsky of Tiburon and the Allen family of Belvedere, who, Bullard claims, own among them 95 per cent of the business areas of the Tiburon peninsula.

In the letters, Bullard pointed out the government is searching for low cost housing sites. "It regards providers of such sites (as) public benefactors," he said. Furhter, he noted, "you would be provided with lowest cost financing, tax shelters, and rebates, plus . . . unanticipated income from areas now productive during only one-half a 24 hour day."

Pointing out similar air space developments over shopping areas in Paris, London and Amsterdam as well as the old French Market section of New Orleans, Bullard told developers that low cost modular (prefabricated) apartments could be constructed on girders over the blacktopped Safeway, Boardwalk and Main Street parking areas.

Further, he said, 10 to 20 per cent of the normal land costs for residential income property would be saved since the land already is owned and being utilized by the developers.

Semi-retired, Bullard and his wife have lived for the past two years in Tiburon's Hilarita housing, the county's low cost housing project, which is scheduled to be torn down in 1971.

Most of Hilarita's residents, he said, work on the Peninsula and will need new housing if they are to remain in the area after Hilarita is torn down.

The Tiburon City Council has gone on record in favor of low and moderate priced housing being constructed on the Hilarita property, but Bullard thinks the city's position is not feasible.

"This land is some of the best land on the peninsula," he said yesterday pointing out a magnificent view of Tiburon, Belevedere and San Francisco. "It's just too expensive, potentially, for low cost housing."

But the development of parking lot air rights will not threaten residential values, he argued, and such a development is a much more economically efficient use of the property.

Bullard said the county and city officials he has approached are enthusiastic about his idea. However, they've had similar ideas for a long time, he said. "What we need now is leverage of public opinion to entice the property owners into considering the plan seriously."

So far, he hasn't heard a thing from Zelinsky or the Allens, but he's not discouraged. "It's only been a week," he said, "and I know that this idea really is going to take off. After all, it's a good one. How can it miss?"

Children's Fares Lowered On Tiburon Ferryboat Runs

Fares for children 12 and under on the Tiburon ferry were cut to 25 cents today by Golden Gate Bridge District directors.

"Babes in arms," a phrase that aroused some levity among the directors, are free under the new fare structure.

The one-way fare for adults remainde the same, 75 cents.

Marin Supervisor Michael Wornum suggested a 10-cent fare for children, but other directors said a 25 cent fare would be easier to handle because adults pay thier fares with quarters.

The bridge district resumed ferry service on the Tiburon - San Francisco run on Nov. 10.

Gen. mgr. Dale W. Luehring reported that an average of 826 one-way passengers are being carried daily in a schedule of seven round trips with one vessel.

Blocked Leaper Flees Hospital

A 21-year-old Jacksonville, Fla., woman was taken off Golden Gate Bridge yesterday after perching on the outer side of the railing for at least an hour and half, then later escaped from San Francisco General Hospital where she was committed for observation, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

The patrol said Gloria Jean Bradley, who works in San Francisco, was taken from the bridge at 8:47 p.m. after a struggle with a bridge employee.

She later left the hospital through an open restroom window, the patrol said. The woman, according to the patrol, said she had tried to take her life with pills at least 20 times before the would try again.

Car Rams Into Parked Auto; Man Injured

A 26-year old San Rafael man was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with a concussion suffered when his car left a turn on Bayview Street slammed into a parked car, according to San Rafael police.

The man, Donald Jackson Tucker of 214 Bayview Street, was driving at a high rate of speed at 8:45 p.m., according to police, when his car hit a vehicle owned by David L. Worley of 11B Taylor Street.

Non-Graded Program Discussed

The Fairfax School District's citizen committee studying goals and objectives dug into a variety of topics last night in the second of a series of discussion sessions.

The committee discussed the pros and cons of allowing children to progress at their own speed in a non-graded program, according to Jane Durr, a member of the district board.

A teacher, who favored the non graded idea, worried about funds for adequate help and materials, Mrs. Durr said.

Also discussed was the kind of world children will be living in and whether schools should provide instruction in leisure time activities.

The need to relate subjects to one another; methods of making history relevant; the importance of including ecology and related subjects in the curriculum, and the San Anselmo School District's goals plan, were also discussed.

No action was taken on any of the items. Each member of the committee will write his own view on goals and objectives in time for the next meeting at 8 p.m. Dec. 11 at White Hill School.

Novato Hits Car License Shutdown

Because not quite 6,000 people bought their auto licenses last year in the branch office at Crocker-Citizens Bank in Novato, that office will be closed this year, and the Novato Chamber of Commerce board is protesting.

At the board meeting last night it voted to ask the Department of Motor Vehicles to keep the Novato office open.

Since 1961 the DMV has kept a clerk at the bank. The department requires minimum of 6,000 license sales for an office and last year only 5,850 were sold in Novato, according to chamber secretary Billie Garl.

If the office is closed, residents of Novato must either write to Sacramento or go to Corte Madera or Petaluma to get their car licenses.

Peter J. Ferrarese, manager of the Novato branch of Crocker-Citizens Bank, said one reason for the smaller number last year was that the DMV did not open its office in the bank until Jan. 15. The bank was notified only last Friday of the closing he said.

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board also:

CHRISTMAS — Voted $800 and asked for donations to erect the Nativity scene at the northeast corner of Highway 101 and Vallejo Avenue, erect a lighted tree there and place two "Noel" signs in the median strip of Highway 101, one at Vallejo Avenue and one near De Long Avenue.

MEMBERS — Heard a report that new members signed up during the recent membership drive, bringing the total to 265.

OFFICE — Authorized Theodore R. Schuman, chairman of the office site committee, to negotiate with G' Tec cable television for subleasing its office at 947 Front Street. G' Tec is planning on moving into new offices on Grant Avenue.

BIRTHDAY — Named Phillip Coady chairman of the birthday party committee. The party is scheduled for Jan. 17 at the Moose lodge to celebrate the 10th anniversay of the city.

AWARD — Approved a plan of making an annual award for the best renovated building, or new building added to the business district each year. Final details will be worked out later.

Sonoma, Marin Repairs Funded

Projects on Marin and Southern Sonoma highways were among those approved today by the California Highway Commission in a meeting at the Civic Center.

One-inch asphaltic concrete blankets will be installed next spring on portions of Shoreline Highway between Highway 101 and the Sonoma County line; on Shoreline Highway in Sonoma, from the Marin County line to a mile south of Fort Ross, and on Route 37 between the Petaluma Creek Bridge and Lakeville Road.

The commission also approved the installation of changeable message signs at the truck weighing stations for north and southbound traffic on Highway 101, south of the Miller Creek interchange.

The commission allocated $47,000 for the project.

Court Beside Victim's Bed Binds Gun Case Defendant

Walter Lee Hale, 51, accused of shooting Petaluma Officer Vilho Ahola, was bound over to Sonoma County Superior Court today after a preliminary hearing at the officer's hospital bedside.

Judge Alexander J. McMahon said Hale was ordered held on charges of assault with intent to commit murder and assault on a peace officer after Ahola identified him as his assailant.

Hale was scheduled to appear before Superior Court Judge Lincoln F. Mahon at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Judge McMahon said Ahola testified that he had accompanied Mrs. Helen Hale, the estranged wife, to the Hale home at 718 I Street on Nov. 7 to assist her in removing personal items from the home.

Ahola said he spoke with Hale in the living room and then assisted Mrs. Hale in loading some boxes into a pickup truck.

After completing the loading, Ahola said, he re-entered the living room, where Hale was sitting in a chair. The officer said he saw no weapon but did notice a box of ammunition.

"Put up your hands, Officer," Ahola recalled Hale saying. The officer said Hale pointed a .25-caliber automatic at him and that he raised his arms slightly.

As Hale motioned for him to drop his gun, Ahola said he grabbed at the man and in the struggle the gun discharged, hitting Ahola in the neck.

"I was out of balance — all out of control," Ahola said. After falling to the floor, Ahola said he could hear Hale making a telephone call and saying, "There's been an officer shot." He said Hale was impatient at the slow response of an ambulance and made a second telephone call for help.

"I didn't have anything in for you," Ahola remembered Hale saying. "You done me in," Ahola said he responded.

Ahola said that Hale picked up his discarded .38 caliber service revolver and remembers Hale being disarmed by Sgt. William Reed.

Judge McMahon recessed the two-hour hearing three times so that Ahola could rest.

Ahola underwent surgery to remove a bullet lodged next to the spinal cord. Total paralysis was feared at first, but Police Chief Larry D. Higgins said that some movement has returned to the officer's arms and that today he began having feeling in his toes.

Cotati Bans Parking Near Post Office

The Cotati City Council said last night that cars parked by commuters on old Reswood Highway near the post office were causing traffic problems and voted to ban parking on the west side of the building.

The council said commuters' cars were blocking the vision of motorists using the post office.

The council also asked City Mgr. Gordon H. Howe to study a traffic hazard apparently caused by large trucks turning on narrow streets at Maple and West Cotati avenues.

The Cotati City Council also:

The patrol said her car rounded a curve too fast and she hit the guard rail at 1:25 a.m.

HELPFUL MEDIC IS FROM MARIN

Agents Seize $4 Million In Bogus Bills

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Secret Service agents reported today seizure of more than $4 million in counterfeit $20 bills and said five men have been arrested.

A cache of nearly $2.5 million was found stuffed in a fir tree thicket along a logging road 40 miles east of Porterville, in the San Joaquin Valley, said Stephen A. Byrne, agent in charge of this region.

All the men arrested are from Porterville, Byrne said.

He said the haul was the largest in western U.S. history.

The Wednesday night arrest of Printer William E. Waits, 44, and the re-arrest yesterday of Harold C. Reeves, 35, netted agents said Byrne some $1.7 million in bogus bills found in paper sacks.

Byrne said Reeves then led agents to the logging road cache early this morning.

Also found with the phony money was a partly destroyed printing plate.

Byrne said the notes were "pretty good bills" and said, "That really would have hurt merchants if they had gotten in circulation."

Byrne said the other three men were arrested in San Jose Sunday and booked for investigation of attempting to pass bogus $20 bills at a drive-in restaurant. San Jose police said federal agents said they found about $10,000 in counterfeit bills in a shoebox during the Sunday arrests.

The three were identified as Robert R. Delk, 27; Robert R. Phillips, 38, and David Marshall, 21.

Reeves was first arrested Wednesday and arraigned on charges of forgery and possessing material used in manufacture of money, Byrne said.

Waits will be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner in Fresno, the agent added.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Matutinophiles awaken with the birds and finish most of their work in the morning. Matutionophobes are just the opposite, they cannot get going until noon.

Most of us fall into one of these broad categories and the phenomenon is best observed among college and professional students.

Fifty years ago, Sir William Osler was well aware of these differences. It explained when the students did their best work.

IN OSLER'S CELEBRATED address "The Student Life," he told about the "student lark." This individual loves to see the sun rise, comes to breakfast with a face full of cheer, and is never so fit as he is at 6 a.m.

In contrast was the "student owl" (matutionophobe) with his sullen morning countenance, thoroughly unhappy, and muttering that the breakfast bell cheated him of the best two hours of the night. He has no appetite and is permeated with unspeakable hostility against his matutinophile counterparts who are talkative and in good humor.

Dr. Osler believed that body temperature played a role and that as the day wore on, the reading increased and the student owl became tolerable to himself and to others.

In time the worm turns; the matutinophobe, who is worthless in the morning hours, is wide awake by 10 p.m., while the blithe lark is nodding over his books and falling asleep. His owl friend is bright and ready for hours of anything you wish. If he is not studying he may play cards, discuss politics, or watch television until 2 a.m.

THESE TWO TYPES of students differ constitutionally, and their habits cannot be regarded as virtues or faults. We do not know whether man acquires his timing system through heredity, expericnce, or necessity. Psychiatrists have noted that some of their patients are depressed in the morning whereas others are cheerful. This may be part of the same mechanism.

WRITERS ALSO do their best work at certain times of the day — or night. Osler asked a well-known author what time he found best for work and was told: "Not in the eevening and never between meals."

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

VANITY AND VEINS

Miss B. writes: Should ugly looking veins be removed if they are not causing trouble?

REPLY

This depends upon how vain you are. Varicosed veins do not function properly and are potentially hazardous even if they are not bothersome at this time. Varicostities may interfere with healing of a wound in the lower leg, or lead to complications should abdominal surgery be needed. A vein big enough to look ugly is large enough to be removed.

SCALP DISORDER

S. B. D. writes: Will decreasing fats in the diet help seborrheic dermatitis of the scalp?

RELPY

Yes. Seborrhea of the scalp is comparable to acne of the face. The oil glands are over-active, and although fatty foods are not causative, they aggravate both conditions. There are several good dandruff remedies such as Selsun, Fostex cream, Pragmatar, and pHiso Dan.

PAIN AFTER REPAIR

A reader writes: Please mention what causes pain in the area of hernia surgery. The operation was done seven years ago. The sufferer is an elderly woman. At times, the involved area is swollen.

RELPY

The hernia may have recurred.

20/20 VISION

Mrs. A. B. writes: After an eye doctor examines one's eyes and prescribes glasses, will wearing the prescription lenses give the patient 20/20 vision?

REPLY

This is what the ophthalmologist attempts to do provided the eye condition can be corrected completely with glasses. Many people have impaired vision that cannot be restored to 20/20, under any circumstances.

Today's Health Hint — Skin rashes should not be neglected.

Self-Styled Zodiac Killed By Policeman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A policeman early today shot and killed a man who claimed he was the killer Zodiac and was threatening to stab his own daughter to death.

Several hours later, Captain of Inspectors Charles Barca said "there is no connection whatsoever" between the slain man and Zodiac.

"Through his physical description and his fingerprints he's a loser. He's been arrested quite a few times for narcotics violations so we had prints on him," Barca said.

Just before he was shot. Sgt. Eugene O. Knight said the victim, David O. Martin, 30, shouted: "The Zodiac, that's me!"

Martin used his knife to cut the hair of his daughter Kim, 11, and already had nicked her throat when he was shot by patrolman Thomas Burns, officers said.

Martin's wife, Geraldine, had fled the house with her son, Fran, 9. She said her husband was under the influence of drugs when he began threatening their daughter.

Police, responding to her alarm, were trying unsuccessfully to get the girl away from the father. Burns fired only because her life was in danger, Macia said.

Burns' shot struck the man in the shoulder and it coursed through his body. As he died, he said, "I'm through, officer, thank you."

Zodiac, still believed at large, has admitted via letters to newspapers the fatal shooting of two men and two women, and of stabbing a woman to death. Two young men survived, one from a gun attack and one from a knife attack.

In his letters, he says the persons he kills will become his slaves in his next life.

Santa Barbara Fish-In Blocks Oil Tower Site

They claim right-of-way over any vessels attempting to enter the area.

Nobody reported catching anything.

On the deck of the motorboat was a long-haired denim- clad youth waving a protest banner. It circled the other two boats.

Harold Beveridge, 55, skipper of the sailboat and vice president of a citizens committee to Get Oil Out (GOO), held a fishing pole with a line dangling over the stern. He said, "We'll stay a darned long time."

The boats sat in a half-mile square glistening oil slick, the result of oil well seapage in the channel.

The boats carried a total of about a dozen persons and stood between the platform and the site about a thousand feet away from where the Sun Oil Co. prepared to erect it on channel land leased from the government.

There were indications the company might try to obtain an injunction against the fish-in.

The area is six miles offshore and a half a mile east of where a well under a similiar platform operated by Union Oil Co. blew out last Jan. 28, blackening 800 square miles of sea and 40 miles of beach.

Fearful the new platform and its wells would increase chances for a similar blowout, the 750-member committee to Get Oil Out began the fish-in yesterday.

Alvin C. Weingand, chairman of GOO, said his organization would occupy the installation site until "there is a ruling by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas on whether he'll call a halt to all operations."

If Douglas' ruling is negative, "then we'll stay there until officially ordered to leave," Weingand said.

Lipman Seated On Planner Panel

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Former Petaluma City Councilman Robert A. Lipman took a seat last night on the Sonoma County Planning Commission.

Under a revision plan by the board of supervisors, the planning commission was enlarged from seven to 10 members with each of the five supervisorial districts having two representatives. The commissioners will rotate monthly in serving on the planning commission and board of zoning adjustments.

Lipman, whose appointment will become official on Dec. 1, joins William E. Monogue as the Petaluma representatives.

Air Force Getting F111 Back In Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — All of the Air Force's swing wing F111 aircraft are expected to return to normal flying operations by December, the Pentagon said today.

F111 flights were temporarily suspended a week ago after two planes turned up with a faulty heat duct which could have caused accidents.

The Air Force said it is in the process of inspecting, and repairing as necessary, 210 of the planes. A few already have been put back into service.

Marin City X-Rays Hint At TB Cases

Four of the 92 chest X-rays taken in Marin City by a mobile unit October 16 have been declared "suspicious" and will be followed by diagnostic tests to make sure tuberculosis is not present, the Marin Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association reported today.

Reports of satisfactory findings were mailed yesterday by the association.

Mexican Aides Killed In Payroll Pobbery

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A Finance Ministry paymaster and his secretary were fatally shot and robbed of a $15,000 payroll early today while driving from Naucalpan de Juarez, a small town near Mexico City, to Toluca, 50 miles west of the capital, police said.

The victims were Federico Zubieta Yoldy, 74, and Elsa Margarita Millan Carrillo, 26, who were delivering the payroll to the ministry's printing shop at Toluca. Police said they were looking for Luis Muniz Rivas, 42, who had been the paymaster, and his secretary.

Tools Are Stolen

Tools valued at $150 were stolen yesterday from a truck owned by Roland A. MacCudbin of 314 Las Flores Avenue, Rafael Meadows, while the vehicle was parked at Terra Linda High School, San Rafael police reported.

Troppmann Resigns Redwood Football Coaching Job

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

Explaining that changing times have made it more difficult to coach his basic philosophies by his own personality, Robert J. "Bob" Troppmann yesterday resigned as head football coach at Redwood High School, a post he has held since the school's inception in 1958.

The 46-year-old dean of Marin County grid mentors said he would remain at Redwood as chairman of the physical education department.

Principal Donald Kreps immediately recommended the appointment of assistant coach Al Endriss to succeed Troppmann, pending approval of the Tamalpais High School District board.

Endriss, 39, Troppmann's assistant since 1958, also is the head baseball coach but will relinquish that position after the 1970 season to devote his full coaching time to football. He said he was "very happy" with his new assignment.

Elaborating on his reason for giving up football after 15 years as a head coach in Marin, including four seasons at Drake High, Troppmann said: "Each coach must coach by his own personality and this is getting tougher and tougher to do. The world is changing. There are too many people trying to break down the good of athletics.

"Our profession as a whole is losing from within. We don't even agree on our basic philosophies anymore. And the outsiders are attacking us one by one.

"I imagine there will always be athletics, but not as our generation has known them. The kids are thinking differently, the coaches are thinking differently and most are compromising with the times. I, for one, have liked what I've seen and I want to remember it that way, so I'm going to get away from it for a while and take a long look at what is happening."

He said he has been contemplating quitting football "for the past few years, but I had to wait until the team I had this year was finished."

Troppmann, who had three championships at Redwood in 1959-60-62, told his team of his plans last Saturday after the Giants lost to San Marin High, 17-14, in the season finale, giving them a 5-4 won-lost record.

Troppmann recently was center of a heated controversy over an athletic grooming policy at Redwood. When District Supt. Robert D. Torrey suspended grooming rules for athletes pending a study of them, Troppmann announced his resignation as director of athletics.

The board since has worked out a new policy in which the athletic department must define appropriate rules and regulations, each of which must clearly relate to a valid educational, performance, health or safety reason.

The Redwood athletic department has been working on a new policy to be submitted to the board, said Troppmann, adding: "I will resume my position as athletic director when our problem is resolved."

As a head coach in Marin, Troppmann compiled a 76-58-10 won-lost-tied record, including 16-17-3 at Drake from 1954-57 and 60-41-7 at Redwood. In addition to the three Marin County Athletic League titles, his teams won the Tam District champion-

An Empty Hat Marks Farewell

It was a raunchy, crummy, battered up old pork-pie job.

I'd seen the lid before. More than 100 times, atop Bob Troppmann's balding hat rack on the sidelines at local football games. It was his trademark and its flight through the door meant that Tropp was hanging it up as a football coach.

"I really think the well has run dry," the ex-Marine lieutenant said before elaborating on his resignation, reported elsewhere on this page.

It was a sad announcement because Tropp was the dean of the local coaches with 15 years — 144 hat-battering games — on Marin sidelines, following eight years as an assistant coach at San Francisco State College and Richmond High.

"I might even see a leaf fall from a tree — something I haven't seen in many years." Troppmann the sentimentalist. He coached with his heart and it was slowly breaking.

One Of Best Known Coaches

His long list of football credits has made him one of the country's best known and most respected high school coaches. He has published 16 articles on the sport in the Athletic Journal, one booklet on championship drills, one book, "Master Defensive Guide," and is under contract with the Parker Publishing Co. to write a book on drills.

"I'd like to spend more time with my wife if she doesn't object. The family's growing up. Jim was just commissioned as a Marine lieutenant. (Chip off the old block). Joan's in her fifth year at Chico State. Jan is finishing up at College of Marin. Judy is planning to return to school. John's in the eighth grade. I probably am doing him a favor by not coaching him."

Football Is His World

He's a member of just about every coaches' and athletic directors' association in his domain last January was one of six Californians selected to attend a National Athletic Directors Conference in Washington, D.C. has run his own clinic for 16 years, is director of the National Coach of the Year Clinic, is a director, founder or past or present chairman of dozens of organizations, is film analyst for the S.F. 49ers, runs a summer football camp, and, well, let's just say that his world is an oblate spheroid.

"I think my 1956 Drake team was one of my two best — remember, Reg Carolan, Ron Cox and Dick DeBisschop? Highlight of my career had to be 1962 when we lost our practice games, won all the league games and beat Tam on Thanksgiving Day." That was the season Tropp earned the honor of coaching in the California Shrine high school classic in L.A.

"I'd say my 1962 Redwood team was a team of dedication and the 1959 squad with Sam Williams, Curtis Embry, Mike Alessio and Mike Hoffman my most memorable team. I can go on naming names like Steve Minutoli and Dennis Schunk and Joel Wallace and, back to 1954 at Drake . . . Tom Brown, my first quarterback and Bob Franceschini, my first assistant . . ."

Will Stay At Redwood

What next, coach? "I'll stay at Redwood as a physical education teacher and department chairman. Also, I am going to keep my eyes and ears open and will not be opposed to any good suggestions about my future. I have a lot of outside interests like the clinics, the state athletic directors association, the football camp, my book . . .

"I couldn't have asked for a better career. The kids and their parents have been tremendous and the men I've met in the coaching profession have all been great. I've had everything that any coach could have — the ups and the downs, and that's what the game's all about. The trying to win is the most important thing — not winning alone."

I know there are legions of sportsmen who join me in wishing Troppmann well and extend to him a sincere thanks for making sports a little more meaningful in a colorful and dedicated career.

WIDMER, JORDAN

Two San Rafael Scholar-Athletes

Football players are getting bigger these days, but at San Rafael High School, they're still medium-sized, smart and good.

Dan Jordan and Lowell Widmer, two key members of San Rafael High School's football team, were chosen Marin County's 1969 scholar-athletes yesterday, Jordan as lineman and Widmer as a back.

Jordan, an all-Marin County Athletic League guard for coach Bob Muster's Bulldogs this year, cuts straight into the myth that linemen are supposed to be huge and major in basket-weaving.

A STUDENT

A straight-A student this semester on a demanding subject schedule, Jordan has had only four Bs in his high school scholastic career. The rest of his grades have been As. The 165-pound senior made the 1966 National Pop Warner All-American Team of Little Scholars when he was 13 years old as a member of the San Rafael Junior Bulldogs.

He was a straight-A student at Davidson Junior High School. Dan has been a member of the San Rafael High School student congress for the past four years.

Widmer, only 140 pounds, was the core of the San Rafael team this season. Lowell, who captured all-MCAL honors as a safety for two years running, carries a 3.2 (B) grade average.

The scrappy quarterback, who made the Bulldogs' belly offense work to perfection, is following in the scholar-athlete footsteps of older brother Roger, who received the same honor in 1966.

HALL OF FAME

The scholar-athlete award is under the auspices of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. Redwood High School principal Donald Kreps, Novato High School grid coach Al Scott and Independent-Journal sports writer Gary Tischler picked the two Marin County selections out of a list of nominees from Marin County high schools. Choices were made on the basis of athletic ability, scholarship and citizenship.

Widmer and Jordan will join other scholar-athletes from Northern California at the annual National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame scholar-athlete banquet in San Francisco sometime next month. Date has not yet been set.

Pinson Traded To Indians

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I'm not throwing out that old, 'I'm going to retire' threat, and I won't refuse to play baseball because it is my business," Vada Pinson said last night before official announcement of his trade to the Cleveland Indians.

But Pinson, swapped by the St. Louis Cardinals for Jose Cardenal, made it clear that "there are some things I want to find out about, and I will as soon as somebody from either the Indians or Cardinals calls me and tells me what's going on."

AND CASH

Official announcement of the trade, which was reported in newspapers several weeks ago, wasn't made until midnight yesterday when the inter-league trading season opened. The Indians also got an indisclosed sum of cash in the deal.

Pinson wasn't officially informed before the trading deadline, either. "We couldn't," explained Indians vice president Hank Peters. "If the Indians talked to Pinson before the trade could be legally made, we'd be guilty of tampering with another team's player. The rules are very explicit."

'PROBLEMS'

Pinson, who played 10 seasons at Cincinnati before being traded to the Cardinals last year for relief pitcher Wayne Granger and outfielder Bobby Tolan, said, "I've talked to so many guys who have played for (Indians' Manager Alvin) Dark and had problems with him—guys like Tommy Harper, Lee Maye, Leon Wagner, Lou Johnson, and Orlando Cepeda.

"I can't afford those kind of problems with any manager. That's why I have mixed emotions. That's why it's important that I talk to Alvin, and some of the other people, too," Pinson said.

Moscow Makes Sudden Bid For 1976 Olympic Games

MOSCOW (AP) — The Olympic Committee of the Soviet Union announced today the city of Moscow will bid to stage the 1976 Summer Olympics.

The brief announcement carried by the official news agency Tass said the city "has advanced its candidacy for the Summer Olympics of 1976."

This is the first time the Soviet Union has made an offer to stage an Olympics. It has been an Olympic competitor since 1952.

A FIRST

The Soviet Union has been host to various European and world championships in the past but has never undertaken an event approaching the complexity and size of the Olympic Games.

The International Olympic Committee is to decide next year on the site of the 1976 Games. The 1972 Summer Olympics are scheduled to be held in Munich, West Germany.

The Soviet Union was the top medal winner in 1956 and 1960 Summer Olympics held in Melbourne and Rome. It ranked second to the United States in the 1964 and 1968 Games at Tokyo and Mexico City.

LOS ANGELES

Moscow sports sources figure the city faces competition from the other announced candidates for the 1976 Summer Games—Los Angeles, Montreal and Florence.

The deadline for filing invitations to hold the Games is Dec. 31.

The official news agency Tass published an account of Moscow's candidacy listing its numerous stadia and sporting facilities. Moscow, it declared, it one of the major sports centers of the world.

Its main sports field is Lenin Stadium seating 101,000. In addition there are two other stadia with tracks and soccer fields seating 53,800 and 45,000 respectively.

SWIMMING

Smaller outdoor facilities are available for less crowded sports. The city also boasts an outdoor swimming stadium seating 12,000 and two indoor Olympic pools with room for 1,500 spectators.

Since 1952 Moscow has been the site for world championships in volleyball, pentathlon, target shooting, gymnastics and fencing. It has also been host to European championship in basketball, canoeing, boxing, three-day equestrian competition and weightlifting.

As for handling large numbers of athletes, the city claims the experience of staging the People's Games of the U.S.S.R., which in 1957 drew 8,287 contestants in 23 sports.

At a press conference Moscow Mayor Vladimir Promyslov said funds for additional facilities needed for the games could easily be found in the city's current construction budget.

Moscow is now chronically short of hotel space, but Promyslov said he saw no problem there. He said seven big hotels are now being built and 15 more are to be built in the near future.

Konstantin Andrianov, chairman of the Soviet Olympic Committee, stated that Moscow's bid had the full support of the committee.

Promyslov read a statement by the City Executive Committee, which announced the bid and declared:

"The ideas of the modern Olympic movement proclaimed in the Olympic charter are close to and understood by the Soviet people.

"We see in the Olympic Games yet another possibility to unite the forces of the people of our planet in the struggle for peace, friendship and mutual understanding."

150 Golf Pros In Nevada Open

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—A field of more than 150 pros swung into action today in the $18,500 Nevada State Open golf tournament, with half the participants playing the Sahara National Course and the others at Paradise Valley.

Cage Commissioner Rules Game A Tie

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association upheld a formal Chicago protest today and ruled an Atlanta-Chicago game at Chicago, Nov. 6, a 124-124 tie instead of an Atlanta victory, 124-122.

Kennedy directed that the game be concluded on Atlanta's next appearance in Chicago, Feb. 8, 1970, prior to the start of the regularly scheduled game between the teams on that date. Only players eligible to play in the Nov. 6 game will be eligible to play in the completion of the game.

Atlanta will have possession of the ball with one second remaining.

The dispute involved the tying field goal by Chicago's Tom Boerwinkle and whether it was made within the time limit. The original ruling was that time had run out. Kennedy said an investigation showed that the goal was made with one second still left to play.

Atlanta was leading 124-122 when Chicago put the ball in play at mid-court. Chicago's Clem Haskins received the inbound pass, took one dribble and attempted a field goal. The attempt was short but Boerwinkle caught the ball and in the same motion scored a field goal.

Trailing official, Bob Rakel, had signalled that the goal would have been good if made by Haskins. But as soon as Boerwinkle made the goal, official timer Jim Seri immediately stopped the clock in accordance with the rules. The clock showed one second to play.

100,000 Fans Expected In Michigan

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Since automobiles will not be allowed to park on grassy areas near Michigan Stadium for the Michigan-Ohio State football game tomorrow, a master plan has been adopted for Saturday parking for the 100,000 fans expected for the game.

Normally some 5,000 parking spaces are available on grassy plots and golf courses near the stadium.

Six university-owned parking structures in downtown Ann Arbor, will be available for free use. They are about a mile from the stadium.

Two downtown city-owned structures will be available at regular fees.

Free parking will be provided in a drive-in theatre four miles east of the stadium and fans transported by bus for a $1 fare.

Three parking lots with 1,400 spaces at industries long Plymouth Road, will be available for free parking, with shuttle buses running to the stadium at a 50-cent per person fare.

An Ann Arbor church is making 150 spaces available at a fee.

Police plan to have 100 officers directing traffic, double the regular football Saturday force. In all, 24 university and city buses will run shuttle service to the stadium.

The stadium's artificial turf is dry and will be kept covered until game time.

He had one undefeated season when his 1959 team won all eight games. Another highlight of his career was the 1962 season when his Giants won the MCAL title and he was selected to coach the North team in the annual North-South California high school classic in Los Angeles. His son, Jim, was quarterback in that Shrine-sponsored game after leading Redwood to the title.

'FORTUNATE'

"Payan is as fine a coach as you can find," said Endriss. "I'm fortunate to have him and Phil on my staff."

Endriss, who played one season for the San Francisco 49ers in 1952 following graduation from S.F. State, accepts his new job with enthusiasm and confidence, saying: "We're going to be winners. If I didn't feel that way I wouldn't have accepted the challenge. We'll inject some new ideas and change the coaching philosophy at Redwood; you can say there'll be a new breed of Redwood football. But, I won't change the traditions Bob and I have built there.

DIFFICULT

"It will be fiddicult to take over for Bob. All I know about football coaching I learned from him. He's always made me feel like more than just an assistant coach on the sidelines. I hope I can give my assistants the same feeling of importance."

Endriss came to Redwood from St. Vincent High School in Vallejo in 1958.

BIG GAME TOMORROW

Stanford Is 14-Point Favorite

STANFORD (AP) — Some 80,000 of the faithful are expected to jam Stanford's football stadium tomorrow when California travels down the Peninsula for the 72nd annual Big Game.

Stanford is favored by about 14 points to win its eighth game in the last nine meetings with the Golden Bears, but the history of this season-ending clash for both schools is dotted with upsets.

DISAPPOINTMENT

Though the Indians presently have a 6-2-1 record and can post their best mark since their 1951 Rose Bowl team by beating the Bears, the season still must be counted something of a disappointment by both squads.

Stanford's inability to beat either Southern Cal or UCLA —the Indians tied the Bruins— has kept them out of the Rose Bowl despite its finest team in years.

Cal, now 5-4, was crushed by UCLA, lost to Southern Cal in the final minute and then fell apart against Oregon State in losing all Pacific-8 Conference championship hopes.

The 1:30 game will match the passing of Stanford's Jim Plunkett—who owns most of the season offense records in the Pac-8 and is now going after the career marks—against a California running attack that lacks consistency.

DEFENSE

Cal's defense has also been strong on occasions this year, but injuries have spoiled its overall effectiveness.

"We expect an all-out battle," says Stanford Coach John Ralston, who points out that the underdog has won four of the last six Big Games.

"You have to live with the outcome of this one through the long winter months," says Cal's Ray Willsey.

His star fullback, Gary Fowler, said, "The Big Game is an emotional thing. From the way practice has been going, I feel we'll be ready."

Both teams are in good shape. Cal welcomes back quarterback Steve Curtis, who was No. 1 before breaking his collarbone against UCLA. Dave Penhall will start, however.

WILLIAMS BACK

Stanford gets fullback Howie Williams and starting offensive guard Bob Reinhard back. Both played only slightly last week, though Hillary Shockley took over for Williams and did an excellent job.

The Indians have won seven of the last eight Big Games, but Cal won 10 of 14 before that. Overall, Stanford has won 32, Cal has won 29 and there have been 10 ties.

Big Ten Men Deny Report

DETROIT (AP)—Big Ten athletic directors have strongly denied a Detroit sportscaster's report that Michigan has already been chosen to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl.

"It's not true," said Ohio State University athletic director Richard C. Larkins. "It's impossible."

"This is absolutely fictitious and a fabrication," said Marsh Ryan, athletic director at Minnesota, who added it was "an afront to the integrity of conference athletic directors."

Bob Reynolds, sports director of radio station WJR, said yesterday he had learned the action to chose Michigan over Purdue was "taken the first of the week."

NOT ELIGIBLE

Michigan with a 5-1 Big Ten mark closes its regular season Saturday against undefeated Ohio State, which is not eligible to return to the Rose Bowl this year. Purdue, which has a 4-2 Big Ten record, plays Indiana Saturday.

The Ohio State athletic director said the selection of the Big Ten representative to the bowl would be made at 9 p.m. Saturday in the league office in Chicago.

In his broadcast, Reynolds said his information would receive a strong denial. He declined to disclose his sources.

He said only a "debacle of gigantic proportions" by Michigan Saturday would "make any change at this late date."

Less than a year ago, Reynolds had the first report of Vince Lombardi leaving as general manager of the National Football League's Green Bay Packers to join the Washington Redskins.

CERTAIN

Reynolds said he was as certain of the Michigan report as he was about Lombardi's changeover.

Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed said Big Ten athletic directors met in Chicago Wednesday, but they did not discuss the Rose Bowl game. He said they had been meeting monthly, mostly to discuss financial problems.

J. W. (Bill) Orwig, athletic director at Indiana, termed the report completely untrue. Biggie Munn, athletic director at Michigan State, said it was news to him. Purdue athletic director Guy J. Mackey said "That's silly."

Rosy Showdown For Bruins, Troy

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

As the 100th season of Pacific-8 Conference football comes to a close tomorrow, Southern California and UCLA clash in a showdown for the conference championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

The two unbeaten, once-tied Los Angeles rivals collide in Memorial Coliseum before a national television audience (3 p.m., Channel 7.)

Either a victory or a tie would make it the fourth straight time Southern Cal goes to Pasadena's New Year's Day classic against the winner of the Big Ten Conference championship.

The Trojans would make it on a tie because they were deadlocked with Notre Dame in a non-conference game while the Bruins tied Pac-8 rival Stanford.

This is the weekend of traditional rivalries. Oregon and Oregon State meet at Eugene for the 73rd time. Oregon is 4-4-1, Oregon State is 5-4.

California and Stanford play game No. 72 at Stanford. Washington State, 1-8, and Washington, 0-9, battle in game No. 61 at Seattle which will settle, among other matters, the dubious cellar championship of the league.

UCLA is favored by about two points over the Trojans although the latter has been voted a step ahead of the Bruins all season in the Associated Press weekly poll. USC hols a 21-12-5 series edge over UCLA.

Stanford, 6-2-1, is the general choice to whip California, 5-4, while the feuds in Oregon and Washington figure to be toss-ups.

Golfer Gary Player Defends Apartheid In South Africa

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Golfer Gary Player defended Apartheidin South Africa, but urged that strict racial segregation be softened to let American tennis star Arthur Ashe compete in open tournaments here.

"The government of South Africa, rightly or wrongly, has decided on a policy of separate development. This is the law and whether one is white, black, brown or brindle, one has to obey it," he said in a statement today.

Player called for time and understanding to let South Africa implement Apartheid which he said was "intended for the betterment of all races."

Player's comments were in reply to an overseas organization called Halt All Racial Tours (HART). Eight members of New Zealand recently, but the golfer said he would only answer written questions on his own time.

The government once indicated that Ashe would be permitted to play in South Africa on a U.S. Davis Cup team, but not as an individual competitor. However, recent harsh comments about Apartheid by Ashe may have convinced officials that he should not get a visa under any circumstances.

Stanford Vs. Cal; Oldest Grid Rivalry

Before the turn of the century University of California and Stanford began a football rivalry. That was in 1892. It was the first Big Game and was played in San Francisco. Stanford won 14-10.

Tomorrow in Stanford Stadium the Big Game will be played for the 72nd time. It is the oldest football rivalry in the western United States.

DURING WORLD War I years of 1915-16-17 and World War II years of 1943-44-45 no Big Games were played. In 1918 California won an unofficial SATC game 67-0. It still is considered unofficial because only members of the Student Army Training Corps were allowed to compete.

Best remembered fact about the first Big Game 77 years ago is that neither team remembered to bring a ball and the game was delayed an hour.

Disaster struck the Big Game of 1900 when many spectators who climbed the roof of a nearby glassworks to watch were killed or injured when the roof collapsed.

THE 1902 Big Game was called the "Remember Smith" contest. Locomotive Smith was the star of the California team that year but he was declared ineligible on a technicality. His substitute, Bobby Sherman, return a punt 105 yards, still a Big Game record, as Cal won 16-0.

But the 1947 Big Game was a thriller, too. The Bears were behind 14-18 with three minutes left. An 80-yard Jackie Jensen-Paul Keckley pass play made Cal a 21-18 winner.

THAT YEAR of 1947 was Pappy Waldorf's first as Cal coach. Under Waldorf Cal achieved its greatest Big Game success. The Bears lost only one Big Game during the 10 years he was their coach. Waldorf retired in 1956 with the best Big Game record of any coach, 7-1-2.

In the past decade Cal won only three of 10 Big Games, one of them 20-17 in 1959 despite a spectacular performance by Dick Norman. In the 1959 game the Stanford quarterback completed 34 of 39 passes for 401 yards.

STANFORD leads 32-29-10 in the Big Game series and is favored to retain possession of the Big Game Axe next Saturday.

The coveted Big Game trophy made its first appearance in 1899 at a Cal-Stanford baseball game. Stanford students that year flashed the axe, a 10-pound, 15-inch lumberman's blade painted red, as they gave their famous Axe yell.

A group of Cal students stole the axe and put it in a Berkeley bank vault. It was brought out only at the annual Big Game rally and carried around in an armored car.

AFTER THREE decades of unsuccessful raids, Stanford students finally recaptured the axe in 1930. Three years later an agreement was signed making it the official Big Game trophy.

The axe has been stolen three times since, once in '46 from Stanford, in '48 and '53 from Berkeley, but each time recovered before the Big Game.

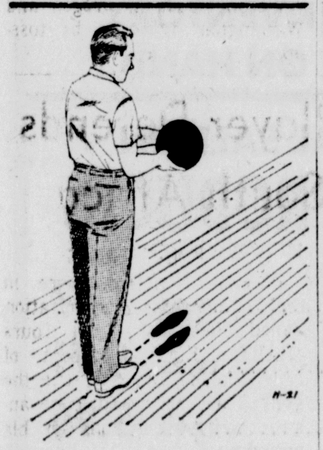
By MARION LADEWIG



If you are rushing the foul line and have trouble slowing down, move a few inches closer to the line before starting your approach (see illustration). This will force you to be cautious, for fear of fouling, and you'll go up slower. As you get accustomed to the proper rhythm, you can gradually move back to your nor-

Cowboys Have End Problem

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mike Ditka, the starting tight end of the Dallas Cowboys, is listed as "questionable" for the key National Football League game with the Los Angeles Rams Sunday, a club spokesman said yesterday.

The spokesman said Ditka suffered a pull in the calf of his left leg.

If Ditka cannot play, Dallas will be maneuvering to find a replacement. Pettis Norman, the other tight end, has two broken bones in a hand and is on the inactive list.

The spokesman said Norman could be recalled from inactive status, or Bobby Joe Conrad, the veteran acquired from St. Louis, could play tight end although listed as a flanker.

Thurmond Ready For Two More Seven-Footers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After outplaying Lew Alcindor, San Francisco's Nate Thurmond is ready for two more seven-footers—Henry Finkel of the Boston Celtics tonight and Mel Counts and his Los Angeles Lakers tomorrow night. Both 8 o'clock games are in the Cow Palace.

Thurmond, whose primary rebounding competition in the past has come from Boston's Bill Russell and Los Angeles' Wilt Chamberlain, held Alcindor to 21 points and five rebounds as the Warriors beat Milwaukee 127-110 Tuesday night.

Thurmond helped the Warriors snap a six-game losing streak with 26 points and 13 rebounds.

Boston won the National Basketball Association playoffs last year but its fortunes plummeted with the retirement of Russell. Now, the Celtics are struggling to move out of the Eastern Division cellar.

Los Angeles, meanwhile, has dropped to the middle of the Western Division after an injury to Chamberlain, who is expected to be out for several months.

Jockey Keeps Promise To Church After Win

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — While riding at Garden State Park last year jockey Mike Micelli promised Mons. John Goan of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church in Berlin, N.J., he would make a nice donation to the church if he ever won a $100,000 race.

Last March Micelli won the Gulfstream Park Handicap with C. V. Whitney's Court Recess. This spring he kept his promise by presenting the church with a six foot statue of Our Blessed Mother.

That, folks, is a lot of beef on the road, giving fantastic tread stability and consequently some great mileage, plus think of the safety you have against punctures and breaks. Not at all like the flimsy 2 plus 2 glass belted tires...

Rules On Pheasants; Fishermen Need Rain

With pheasant season opening tomorrow, I felt we had better review some rules. Here are the regulations pertaining to pheasants:

Season and Area: From Saturday, through Jan. 1, in Imperial County and a portion of Riverside County. (Consult the hunting regulations for boundary lines.) From Saturday through Dec. 7 in the balance of the state.

Bag and possession limit: Two pheasants of either sex per day, 10 pheasants of either sex per season in the counties of San Luis Obispo, Inyo, Imperial, Mono, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, San Diego and Riverside. In the balance of the state only male pheasant may be taken — two per day on Nov. 22 and 23, four per day Nov. 24 through Dec. 7 — total 10 males per season.

Shooting hours on pheasants are from 8 a.m. until sunset.

I RECEIVED a note from Steve White of 48 Buena Vista, Novato. He teaches hunter safety and is an instructor of the Marin Rifle and Pistol Club. Anyone who would like to shoot a .22 caliber rifle indoors, four positions at 50 feet, is welcome to join the ranks of the group.

Also a new hunter safety course is being started on Monday at 7 p.m. at the San Rafael Police Pistol Range. The requirement for hunters under 18 years of age is that they take a California approved hunter safety training course, or present a hunting license from a prior year before getting a new license.

I know of no hunting accidents in Marin County this past year. The hunter safety instructors who donate their time to teach these courses to our kids certainly deserve a big hand from us. And if you have any children — boys or girls — who are shooting minded, get them down to the range next Monday evening.

I TOOK MY weekly bass trip a few days ago out to the pumphouse area of San Pablo Bay. Sam Knoles of San Anselmo and Andy Bronanski of Woodacre came along. We had a good outgoing tide starting about 9 a.m., so I figured we would "murder" the fish.

As we dropped anchor, a big sturgeon jumped just off the bow! We used shrimp and bullheads. Here's the catch for the day: one 22-pound bass, one seven-pound bass, two leopard sharks, three bullheads, six flounders (large ones) and one crab (undersized).

Sam caught both bass, with the 22-pounder taking him 25 minutes to land. He used his new fly rod, and you never saw a happier guy. (I'm waiting for the day when a big sturgeon takes his bait because he kept saying, "Boy, I got a big sturgeon on!" and it was just a little old 22-pound striper.)

We need a little more rain to move the trash fish out. They were sure pesty out there, but it will be time to go any day now.

IN THE TOMALES Bay area near Inverness, there have been a few good days trolling for silver salmon with fish up to 12 pounds being taken. One day last week 12 fish were brought into the Golden Hinde Boatel. Most of the fish were taken on flatfish, spinners and flies.

Lefty Arnt of Point Reyes Station still holds the lead in the Inverness striped bass derby with a 15½-pounder, taken on a bullhead. Norm Quadros of Mill Valley and Frank Sue of Corte Madera and I plan to take a trip and lower the boom on Lefty's fish. We shall see!

Boy, it's pretty cold night-fishing in Tomales. If you try it, wear two sets of winter underwear, and handwarmers with a coleman lantern to see by. If it's windy or too foggy, stay home because you will end up lost. It's a great life if you don't weaken.

Raiders Work On Defense

The emphasis, as usual, was on the passing arm of Daryle Lamonica, who leads the loop in touchdown throws with 27.

Kansas City owns the league's strongest defense, tops in 19 categories.

The game will be played in Kansas City.

MARIN PREP NOTES

By GARY TISCHLER

The long, somewhat amazing Marin County fall sports season is over. Put it away and say it was truly different. Not spectacular, although it had some spectacle. Not stupendous. Just different.

If you look it up in the statistics, the scores and the final records, not all that much happened. The whole three months, in fact, were almost placid in terms of concrete, single happenings.

For instance, it was the kind of year in which Redwood won the cross-country title, a single fact which surprised nobody.

But the very presence of several long-haired runners on the team embroiled the entire Tamalpais School District into an emotional debate about hair, authority, discipline, and the athletic way of life and probably made Redwood Coach Bob Troppmann endure one of his more agonizing autumns. There was more than just hair involved in the dispute, which appears to have mellowed, but it is one way of showing that this fall's end results were not as simple as they looked.

And there was the football season, a season of changes, and new things.

This was the season in which Drake, which had come up with title contenders almost out of habit, reeled through one of its worst seasons. A combination of a youthful line that never quite matured in injuries that you wouldn't wish on your worst enemy did the Pirates in as Bob Sutherland, the league's leading rusher last year, field goal kicker and back John Loane, and top receiver Jim Dominguez were lost to the team for various reasons.

This was the year that San Marin, making its varsity debut, was supposed to come up against the facts of life. But the Mustangs surprised everybody by finishing with a 6-2 record and a 4-2 league record good for a tie for second place. They seemed to do it with mirrors, but it was mostly with an unexceptional offense and a very fine defense.

If there were two things that set the tone of the season and made it unusual, they were kickers and kids. The league seemed to ave been infiltrated by a sudden rash of field goal kickers, and eventually, three games were decided by field goals. The best of the lot were Bob Daniele of Terra Linda, who kicked three, Mike Howard of San Rafael and Urbano Bousciegueg of San Marin, in addition to John Loane of Drake prior to his injury.

Without taking anything away from great jobs by Dewey Forry, Bob Daniele and Tom Jackson of Terra Linda, Mike Farley and Tom Wickert of Drake, Dave Perron of Novato, Mark Silverman of Drake and a fine bunch of seniors this was still the season in which everyone walked around talking in terms of the next few years.

There haven't been so many talented juniors and sophomores in years. Almost the entire Tamalpais team, which showed flashes of brilliance, returns next year with an all-star cast headed by marvelous juniors Mark Costello and Billy Washington and sophomore Clifford Hall, who tied for the season pass receiving honors and was runnerup in scoring. He could be a great one.

Terra Linda has all-league tackle Bruce Little coming back, along with bulky fullback John Scozzofava. Both Pat Locey of Tamalpais and Marti Moroski of Novato look to be promising quarterbacks. And one of the top lineman around is Novato's sophomore tackle Russ Weklych. Drake has fine people coming back in running back Ron Biddle, tackle Jeff Allen and end Jim Dominguez.

San Rafael has Howard back, and what may be one of the brightest prospects in the league, halfback Scott Duncan, who in his first year of varsity competition, rushed for over 800 yards on the season, took the league rushing title and amassed 210 yards against Terra Linda.

So, as they say down in Kezar Stadium between beers, wait till bext year.

BILL FIRPO, Washington (S.F.) High School baseball coach, has berths available in the Golden Gate Invitaitonal tournament March 24 through 28 at Big Rec field. Interested high school baseball coaches can reach Firpo at school during the day.

Common Stocks Vs. Inflation Hedges

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. For years I have read in your column and elsewhere that stocks are a good hedge against inflation. How do you explain the fact that stocks are moving lower as inflation takes over? I hold three stocks bought in the fall of 1967 all at higher prices and I am worried. — M. W.

A. Common stocks when measured by the popular averages such as the Dow-Jones Industrial apparently have not kept pace with inflation. On the other hand, averages are misleading comprising as they do a broad list of issues, many of which may be retrograde. Although widely quoted and a convenient reference too, the How is mathematically absurd with its constantly shrinking divisor (currently 1.894) which sharply distorts day-to-day changes.

A more meaningful indication of common stocks as an inflation hedge can be seen in portfolio comparisons. A $2,000 investment in each of five randomly selected growth recommendations from my columns of September-October, 1967, would have appreciated a total of 42 per cent. Only one, Textron, has moved lower, Avon, Consolidated Foods, Georgia-Pacific and Warner Lambert moved ahead sufficiently to outpace inflation four times.

While two of your holdings are well worth retention for long-term growth, I would sell Occidental because of its extensive Libyan properties.

Q. I'd like to start a modest investment for each of my two nieces. Is Dreyfus Fund suitable? Should these accounts be set up separately? — M. C.

A. Dreyfus has a fine performance record and would indeed be a suitable investment for these fortunate young ladies. The mechanics of the purchase can be arranged with the selling agent in your area. It would certainly simplify matters in the future for your nieces if the accounts were set up separately.

Last year Dreyfus distributed $1.70 in dividends and capital gains. Your initial capital investment, supplemented by reinvestment of all distributions over the next decade, should provide a good start for them.

New Service To Test Blood

NEEDHAM, Mass. (UPI) — Damon Engineering Inc. has said it has developed a new service which will provide automated multiple microchemical analyses of human blood.

Using a single drop of blood, the service can carry out all the extensive tests involved in drawing up a biochemical profile, the firm said.

Such a profile, now a standard procedure for adults, also could be made of infants, children and the aged with the service, according to the company.

Tight Credit Cuts Activity

NEW YORK (UPI)—Selling swept Wall Street today for the ninth consecutive session amid growing belief that Washington plans to retain its tight credit policy awhile longer. Trading was less active.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of President Richard M. Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, said the current effort to control inflation are necessary to put the economy on the track toward steady and long-term growth.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Want To Live Better? Get On Public Payroll

If you want to get into the upper pay brackets in Marin County, get on the public payroll.

That seems to be the message from a recent series of actions by public bodies in the county.

A COUPLE OF WEEKS back, Marin Junior College District trustees hired a new superintendent-president to take over in January at $35,000 a year. According to figures prepared by the California Teachers Association, only two junior college superintendent-presidents received salaries above that figure for the last fiscal year. Mount San Antonio Junior College District paid $39,960, and San Joaquin Delta paid $35,500.

In 1965, Marin Junior College District raised Stephen E. Epler, who then held the job, from $19,000 to $21,546. Thus, the salary for the job has gone up 84.2 per cent in five years.

There were some anguished screams from taxpayers about the junior college district's generosity.

BUT THEN ALONG CAME the county board of supervisors this week with a series of raises that make the inflation in the junior college president's salary appear right in line.

The supervisors boosted the pay of the county assessor from $22,000 to $25,200 as of Jan. 1; the sheriff, from $21,000 to $24,000; the treasurer, from $19,500 to $22,725; the clerk, from $19,500 to $22,725; the recorder, from $15,000 to $19,350.

In 1965, the county assessor was drawing $14,700, so his pay has risen 89.1 per cent in five years. The sheriff was getting $14,700, so his stipend has gone up 79.5 per cent. The treasurer also drew $14,700, so his has risen 67.3 per cent. The clerk got $16,200, so his salary has been hiked 52 per cent. The recorder was paid $12,300, so his raises total 81.3 per cent in five years.

THE ROUND of salary raises for top county officials actually began last June, when the board raised the pay of the county counsel to $28,000 (he drew $17,600 back in 1965). At that time, Supervisor Louis H. Baar warned his fellow board members this was starting a trend. He was so right!

The new pay put the counsel above the county administrator — a situation naturally not to the liking of that official, who is the No. 1 man in county government. So he was given a piddling $110 a year raise, to $28,010, to put him back on top. Percentagewise, he has not done so well as some of the others in the last five years. He was getting $21,000 in 1965.

The legislature, which sets salaries for district attorney and auditor, kept the ball rolling uphill by giving Marin's district attorney a raise from $24,000 to $28,000 (he drew only $16,650 in 1965) and the auditor-controller from $19,000 to $23,020 (he got $16,200 in 1965).

IN THE SAME PERIOD that salaries for these top-level public jobs in Marin County have been increased by up to 89.1 per cent (since August, 1965), the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumer price index has risen by 18 per cent.

If you want to be able to buy more, even though prices are rising, get on the public payroll in Marin.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Teachers' Tax Initiative Serves Legislature With Ultimatum

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMANTO (CNS) — Any failure of the state legislature to enact a tax reform program next year is going to result in the people taking the matter into their own hands, which they may do anyhow.

The California Teachers Association and the California County Supervisors Association have teamed up to seek more than 600,000 signatures to qualify an initiative placing school costs on a 50-50 basis between the state and local government, and requiring the state to assume 90 per cent of welfare costs.

Under the initiative, homeowners property tax exemptions would be increased from $750 to $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Cost to the state's general fund, should this measure be voted into the constitution, would amount to approximately $898 million the first year of operation. This sum would increase annually.

THE IMPLICATIONS of the proposed amendment cover a lot of territory. In the first place, were it adopted, it would be up to the legislature to adopt laws providing for replacement of the revenue in the general fund for the schools, welfare, and replacement of exemption losses.

In effect, the proposed amendment would be a forcing issue on tax reform, voted by the people. It woulld be an issue signifying that the citizens of the state are not going to tolerate any more dallying on the part of the legislative body. Also that the people want a different system of taxation, and they want it now.

THE LEGISLATURE will have to increase taxes other than property taxes in the event CTA is successful.

In fact, in some counties taxes on property have been increased some 200 per cent in the face of the so-called "tax relief" of 1968, which turned out to be one of the biggest farces ever perpetrated on a long-suffering public.

About the only out for the legislature is adoption of a sane and practical tax reform program, which will redistribute the burden of taxation along more equitable lines. It is too much to hope that any tax reduction can or will be effected.

Such action by the lawmakers at least would give the people a choice between a legislative proposal and the offering of the California Teachers Association at the general election next November.

THE LEGISLATURE has no lack of tax reform proposals. Several are "under study," but so far no one has been selected which has met the approval of citizens, business and industry.

Some years have been consumed in arguing. Governor Reagan made tax reform one of the prime objectives of his administration when he took office, but so far, has been unable to sell a program either to the legislature or the public. But it looks as if the time for quibbling is over.

COUNTRY PARSON

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Many Over 21 Deserve College

Regarding your editorial entitled "Over-age Outsiders Deny College to Resident Youth" . . .

First, let me say that many of these "over 21" students . . . are indeed residents, property owners and have been taxpayers in the district for many years. Many are women, who having raised their families to the point of having time for college work, are returning to college to finish their education . . . More older men are also benefitting from this same educational opportunity and are furthering their careers in this way.

Next, there are the young men who elect to serve their country before continuing with their education . . .

Then there are those young people who just haven't found themselves by the time they graduate from high school. I personally know of several cases where it has taken three or four years of working at various jobs before the maturity of self-realized need for more education has made itself known . . .

I agree that our high school students should have access to the college, but let me remind you that there are abuses of the college by that group as well. . .

Please, before you urge arbitrary removal of "over 21" students from College of Marin, carefully consider all the people who will be affected by such a serious decision and see if perhaps there is not some other criteria for the solution to the problem of our crowding.

Community Ferry System Needed

The Tiburon ferry has now been on the job for one week, and we can't begin to tell you how great it is. We certainly appreciated your coverage of the five month old strike. More commuters are using the system now than before.

Special honors should be bestowed on Vern Perry, Belvedere, who first conceived the idea that the GGBD take over the strike-bound ferry system. Also deserving special thanks is GGBD Director Steve Leonoudakis who carried the plan forward to a successful conclusion (at least for the next 85 days).

Tiburon's mayor unfortunately played only a minor part in getting the boat going again. We hope he will devote more effort to finding a permanent solution — like creation of a community owned and operated ferry boat system. Weekdays it would serve the commuter, and on the weekend it would bring tourists here by boat thereby solving most of our parking problems.

Does Administration Fear The People?

This is to express appreciation for the conclusion of your Nov. 12 lead editorial. The kind of unity which enhances the quality of American life cannot be based on a repressive fear that stifles public opinion. In the strident warnings of the vice president and the many administrative challenges to those of us determined to witness peacefully for peace Saturday, the Nixon administration may be showing its true colors. Are they afraid that the will of the people to end the war will be heard for what it is — the voice of sanity and responsibility?

Picture Offends Teen-Age Reader

Tonight's (Nov. 13) front page picture is that of a girl crying over her injured horse. Don't you have anything better to print in your paper other than a picture of a grief stricken teen-age girl? Being a teen-age girl and owner of a horse, I sympathize greatly with this girl's feelings and I don't understand why you feel you have to publicize her emotions.

Tiburon Gesture Deserves Bouquet

Bouquets to the committee of Tiburon residents headed by Fred Mantegani, Doc English and Police Chief William Johansen who reserved the Corinthian Yacht Club on Veteran's Day to entertain ambulatory Vietnam veterans from Letterman Hospital.

Local businessmen, merchants and residents donated goods and cash to make the event a success and the hospitality chairmen did a wonderful job. The event was open to the public and well attended. It was indeed an honor to share lunch with so many of our unsung heroes, many of whom have returned from oveseas to a warm welcome from family and friends but to an indifferent public.

Tiburon's gesture of honoring the war dead by thanking the living could well be imitated by other communities. Bravo to all connected with making this Veteran's Day an early "Thanksgiving."

Why Not Grind Up Accumulated Leaves?

Your article about the odor of burning leaves was very sentimental and brought back many memories of sliding down hills of leaves. However, since losing most of my ability at sliding down hills of leaves I have never understood why we pay a garbage man to take leaves and grass cuttings and good garbage away and then go out and buy fertilizer for our gardens. Wouldn't it make good sense to grind these leaves and grass up and work it back into the soil instead of seeing it go up in smoke? Couldn't a machine be made to grind this stuff and then people could either rent it or take their stuff in garbage can size plastic bags to a "grinderett" where they put a coin in the machine and it grinds all the small branches and grass and stuff into fertilizer and then you take it home and put it back into the ground? Or the grinder could be mounted on a truck and a man come around and grind your stuff on the spot.

Just an idea.

Blood Bath Feared If We Withdraw

I note that 85 doctors from Marin County sent a telegram to President Nixon expressing their opposition to the Vietnam war (I-J, Nov. 14). As the I-J quotes it this telegram reads: "We who have known and fought death implore you to do what only you can do — end the killing." They suggest this could be done by an "immediate cease-fire and prompt withdrawal of all our troops."

I didn't realize doctors could be so naive. They say "end the killing." More than one North Vietnamese spokesman has made it clear that "when," not if, they take over, they intend to slaughter tens of thousands of South Vietnamese. They've promised a blood bath that would put to shame any incurred to date during the war. Judging from past performance, they would likely do just that.

No, good doctors, You'd better find other reasons for suddenly ending the war and withdrawing all our troops. This one hardly holds water.

Who Won Vietnam Moratorium? Evidence Shows The President Did

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — What's the meaning of the latest Vietnam moratorium? We'll try to answer.

WHO WON? — It was a massive and marvelous outpouring of young people — earnest, orderly, peaceful — exhibiting their wish for instant and total withdrawal from Vietnam. There was some peripheral violence, handled superbly by the Washington police.

It won sympathy and respect — and deserved to. But the preponderant evidence is that most Americans do not support the antiwar demonstrators' plan for precipitant withdrawal. They support the antiwar President's plan for staged withdrawal which will enable the South Vietnamese to defend themselves when withdrawal is complete.

THE EVIDENCE? — It is impressive. The Gallup Poll shows 77 per cent support for President Richard Nixon's way of ending the war, only 6 per cent for the demonstrators' way (the rest undecided). Another poll shows 79 per cent backing for the President. Sixty senators have endorsed the President's Vietnam peace efforts, and the House of Representatives has overwhelmingly passed a resolution doing the same. Some protesters argue that a Vietnam war policy was never approved by Congress, but they can no longer argue that a Vietnam peace policy has not been approved by Congress. It has.

Our judgment is that Mr. Nixon will be able to hold this consensus well into the 1970s, perhaps as long as necessary to end the war without throwing away the peace.

WHAT CONSENSUS? — The evidence is that most Americans are agreed:

That the war should be deescalated.

That U.S. combat ground troops should be withdrawan at a pace that will give the South Vietnamese time to get ready to defend themselves for as long as they are being attacked.

That the remaining American presence in Vietnam should be reduced just as steadily and rapidly as possible.

DOES PRESIDENT Nixon really want out? — On the basis of his words, his actions and his own self-interest, the answer is an unqualified yes.

In the presidential campaign, he pledged his best efforts to end the war in a way which would not plant the seeds of a future war.

In Mr. Nixon's first 10 months in office, he has greatly stepped up the training and equipping of the South Vietnamese armed forces, started substantial American troop withdrawal and advanced concrete peace proposals.

From the standpoint of his own political self-interest, there is no person in the nation who would benefit as much from getting an acceptable peace in Vietnam as Richard Nixon.

WHAT DOES President Nixon offer? — What are the inducements the President is holding out for a negotiated peace? He is offering Hanoi and the National Liberation Front a choice. It is a choice between their being willing to submit to the verdict of election — which they would have a share in supervising — or seeing the United States withdraw in a way to put the South Vietnamese in the best position to defend themselves successfully.

It is a gamble to withdraw, even as rapidly as Mr. Nixon is preparing to do. But because of public frustration and impatience over a long and indecisive war, it is an inescapable gamble. We believe that if impatience in the United States forces the President to withdraw faster, the consequence will divide the nation more than it is now divided and lead to things few Americans would relish.

AFTER VIETNAM, WHAT? It is clear that a large number of people today are impatient for peace. But are they willing to do the things and support the things necessary to preserve peace? Not just now, but after Vietnam? Peace won't come for the asking. It never has. The thousands of young Britons who in the 1930s signed the Oxford Pledge not to fight did not keep Adolf Hitler from launching World War II. The best way to deter war is to serve advance notice on potential aggressors that they can't commit aggression with impunity.

Philippines Keep Leader, And His Problems Remain

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

By comparison, the Philippines national elections were relatively peaceful.

Violent deaths during the campaign and on election day were something under 100. Two years ago, during senatorial and local elections the figure ran over 100.

Someone started a rumor that $4 million in counterfeit Philippine currency had been brought in from Hong Kong to buy votes.

In the Manila shantytown of Tondo, residents used the posters of rival candidates to patch up their hovels against wind and rain, took the $5 that was to buy their votes and then went out and voted for the other man.

The Nationalists of President Ferdinand E. Marcos, ultimate winner, and the opposition Liberals of candidate Sergio Osmena accused each other of fraud, corruption and of employing goons to intimidate the voters.

onetheless, it was democracy Filipino style and in the newspaper and television reports no one could deny that there was both freedom of the press and of speech.

FINAL RETURNS sent Marcos back to Malacanang Palace for an unprecedented second term and with it a host of problems.

He had campaigned on his record, pointing to new schools and roads and to a selfsufficiency in rice brought about by new "miracle" seed strains.

He promised to put new life into a sadly lagging land reform approved by congress years ago but without the money to make it operative.

There were other problems, foreign and domestic.

More than half of the Philippines' 34 million people are under the age of 18 and jobs have not been keeping pace with the more than 1,000 new workers pouring into the market each day. Men trained in the professions work as waiters and car washers.

This year's trade deficit is expected to equal last year's $300 million. Dollar supplies are dwindling.

TRY AND STOP ME

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Anyway, It Was A Speech That Nobody Will Remember

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was a little perturbed recently about television news commentators analyzing a President's speech before the echo of the last word had died.

Don't knock it until you give it a little thought was the gist of Agnew's message, and some commentators apparently have taken it to heart.

For example, I tuned in the other night just in time to catch the following:

CHET — I don't think the President said anything new in his address.

DAVID — It certainly didn't hold out any hope for ending the war.

CHET — I can see it dragging on until 1865.

DAVID — Yes, that line about being "dedicated here to the unfinished work" would lead one to believe that he was seeking support for a longer war.

CHET — I felt it was too political. I mean, going for the slave vote with that line about "all men are created equal."

DAVID — There was somewhat of a socialistic note in that closing line about "government of the people, by the people, for the people."

CHET — So it seems, but like all political speeches, there was a little bit of something for everybody.

DAVID — Of course, we don't know how it was received in the South.

CHET — I have doubts that the President's talk did much toward unifying the country. It seems to me he was taking a hard line.

DAVID — I'm inclined to disagree. I think he left the door open with that plea to the living to work for "a new birth of freedom."

CHET — I think he underplayed it when he said, "The world will little note nor long remember what we say here."

DAVID — Well, the President has never been one for blowing his own horn, and his advisers probably told him to come on stronger, but I think it was a nice humble touch.

CHET — When it comes to style, I think he could have changed that opening line about "fourscore and seven years ago." I mean it distracted a lot of people who had to figure out how many years that was.

DAVID — It was just sort of an opening throwaway line. Nobody ever pays attention to the first sentence of a speech anyway.

CHET — I wonder why he picked Gettysburg for this address.

DAVID — Probably because they were still fighting on the other battlefields.

Mental Health Debacle Hinted In Report To Supervisors In '66

Fusselman

In this column on Aug. 5, 1966, you will find this: "Thomas F. Campanella, the newly acquired assistant of the administrator, warned the board (of supervisors) in a letter that any committee other than he was recommending on the mental health set-up might run into 'lack of staff support' among other dangers, such as with the authority of the county administrator.

"There was one loud and protesting squeal from the board chairman. Said he, 'The whole thing is being operated at the staff level . . . The thing's developing at the staff level and it gets to be suddenly sacrosanct.'"

The chairman had been one of the chief advocates of abdication, but it was getting too thick even for him.

IN THESE THREE years, it has become thicker and thicker. Witness the control that Alan Bruce and Campanella are maintaining on the whole mental health program. It wonders one as to just how much farther this board will abdicate.

They are continuing to let Bruce and his strong-hearted men call the play. There are competent heads of departments in most offices. They are elected by you voters — the choice of the majority.

You have been denied the opportunity of confirming or rejecting the present operation by such men as former supervisor Peter Behr and his cohorts on the several boards during the past 11 years, when you had rejected the idea by a 60 per cent majority.

All the costly debacles in county government have been the result of faulty judgment of Bruce and his departments. He has never had any experience in this type of operation except right here in Marin, where the record is not one to be proud of.

THERE IS ONE phase of getting commuters to San Francisco from Marin that I don't recall any study being made of. This is the time factor.

I listen to the traffic reports on the radio during commute hours each morning. There's usually a report of congestion, south bound, on the California Park hill, north of Greenbrae, then again at Alto hill and the Waldo grade, all time-consuming.

The thing I often wonder about is just what the speed of the buses is on these grades. We all know diesel motor powered trucks and buses are forced into the lowest gears and slowest speeds on all grades.

A string of buses, one after the other, stretches the time in getting to the city. It seems that a study should be made of this.

We are a people who, right or wrong, demand speed in all forms of travel. It would be unfortunate indeed if this factor would loom large in the acceptance or not of commute bus service.

Court Restores Teacher's Papers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Teaching credentials of a Los Angeles area high school teacher involved in a homosexual incident have been ordered restored by the California Supreme Court.

The high court, in reversing a state Board of Education and Los Angeles Superior Court order, ruled 4-3 yesterday that an individual cannot be denied his right to teach unless evidence shows homosexual behavior affected his fitness as an instructor.

The state Board of Education revoked in 1967 the two lifetime teaching diplomas of Marc S. Morrison, a teacher for the Lowell Joint School District for several years.

The Supreme Court said Morrison engaged with a fellow teacher in a "limited, noncriminal, physical relationship which Morrison described as being homosexual in nature."

Murphy Suggests Unified Agency For Ocean Search

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — Creation of a National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Agency has been proposed by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif.

In a letter to President Richard M. Nixon, the senator envisioned a new agency to direct the exploration of the ocean much as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration does in outer space. Joining Murphy in signing the letter were Sens. John G. Tower, R-Texas, and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore.

Such an agency presumably would include the Tiburon Oceanographic Center, where the government is conducting research nto extraction of minerals from the ocean.

"The situation now is too fraught with duplicated authority and lack of direction to lend itself to an efficient organization," the denators wrote. "The mood of the Congress is right to move in this direction; we hope that you will help us," they said.
